

BIG ORDERS SIGNED BY WYNNE WITHOUT PROPER SCRUTINY

First Assistant Postmaster General Was Woefully Negligent.

Many Large Orders Were Sent Out With Rubber Stamp Signature.

Postal Trial Shows That Subordinates Practically Run Things.

Washington, Jan. 15.—Robert J. Wynne, first assistant postmaster general, who was on the stand when court adjourned over on Wednesday, today continued his testimony in the postal trial.

On cross-examination by Mr. Kumler, witness said he did not know whether Groff inspectors were attached to rural free delivery letter boxes or not. There were many things connected with the postoffice department, he said, that he knew nothing about.

"I am trying to learn," Mr. Wynne sarcastically remarked, "and am doing the best I can."

Mr. Wynne was asked with questions relating to the rural free delivery service, but they were met with a frank "I don't know," the witness adding that whenever he wanted certain information he would send to the free delivery division for it and get it. He could not possibly give personal attention to all the details of his office. Further testimony was given by Mr. Wynne that the basis for the postoffice department originated in the requisition of the postmasters of the country.

Asked to describe what was meant by office routine as applied to contracts, witness said that certain matters were routine for him, but not for the official who had made the contract.

"If the official was entirely honest," said the witness, "and had no interest in the contract, it would be routine."

But if he was dishonest he would follow everything up and see that the contractor got the full benefit of the service.

Concerning the influence of senators and representatives in postal affairs, Mr. Wynne said that congressmen have complained of slowness in establishing free delivery routes, but he added, "I have no recollection of any complaint from any congressman of any failure to furnish supplies."

He declared that the representations of congressmen have been entirely proper.

Mr. Wynne said that in December, 1902, he had a keen suspicion of Machen, and ceased to rely upon him, although he admitted that on Jan. 17 following, he had attended the banquet of the Ohio society in New York as Machen's guest adding, however, that he went under quite a strain of feeling.

The invitation, he thought, had been extended early in December.

The witness then was asked by Mr. Madrox for the defense to identify an order of the department, dated Feb. 5, 1903, addressed to Groff Bros. After examining the paper, Mr. Wynne declared that it had been signed in his name with a rubber stamp, "improperly signed," of course, he remarked, but he said he did not put the signature there himself.

As a further test of the scrutiny which Mr. Wynne gave to requisitions, Mr. Madrox asked him if he signed orders for postmasters involving an expenditure of $50,000 or $40,000, without knowing the difference between them and a locomotive. The witness promptly replied, "Yes," saying that his scrutiny was sometimes short and rapid and at other times very extended.

PANAMANIAN EXPECT AN ATTACK FROM COLOMBIANS

Troops Are Ready to Leave at Any Time and Twelve Thousand Fighting Men Can Be Placed in the Field at Once.

New York, Jan. 15.—Authentic information from the frontier is anxiously awaited here, as the belief is widespread, cables the Herald's Panama correspondent, that the Colombians have already started to march upon the isthmus.

The Panamanian troops are ready to leave on a moment's notice. The conscription has been completed, and 12,000 fighting men can be placed in the field. There is great haste in the army in preparation for the shipment of rifles and ammunition to the Indians of the interior, who have agreed to join against the Colombian forces. Col. Barreto of the Panamanian army said: "We, who were Colombians until yesterday, cannot be deceived by any tactics the Colombians may employ. We are deeply grateful for the aid the Americans have given us, especially as we are now prepared to fight our own battles on land with the utmost confidence."

Four hundred to five hundred men, stationed in the only three passes available, can defend any army. "We have all the men we actually need, for the fighting will be done in the mountains. We expect to repel the invasion without calling out all the available troops. The Indians will certainly fight on our side. The San Blas Indians, who are Colombian allies, will not fight at all."

Any light cases of fever are reported already exist in the camps of the United States marines, especially among those who have been scouting along the trails. There is some yellow fever in Panama now, but none has appeared in the camps.

BRYAN SAYS DARK HORSE WILL GET DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION

Former Candidate Declines to Express an Opinion as to the Availability or Chances of Parker, Gorman, Hearst or McClellan.

St. Louis, Jan. 15.—"Everything points to victory," said William J. Bryan, who spent an hour in St. Louis today, enroute home to Lincoln, Neb., in answer to a question by the Post-Dispatch as to the Democratic national outlook.

"I think we will win, and I am convinced that a dark horse will capture the nomination," he continued. "What do you think about Judge Parker of New York?" he was asked.

"I am not thinking about Parker at all."

"How would Senator Gorman of Maryland suit you?"

"I am not discussing Mr. Gorman or any other candidate at this time."

"Is it true that you have expressed a preference for Mr. Hearst?"

"Now," said Mr. Bryan, "I wish you would write down what I have to say about Mr. Hearst."

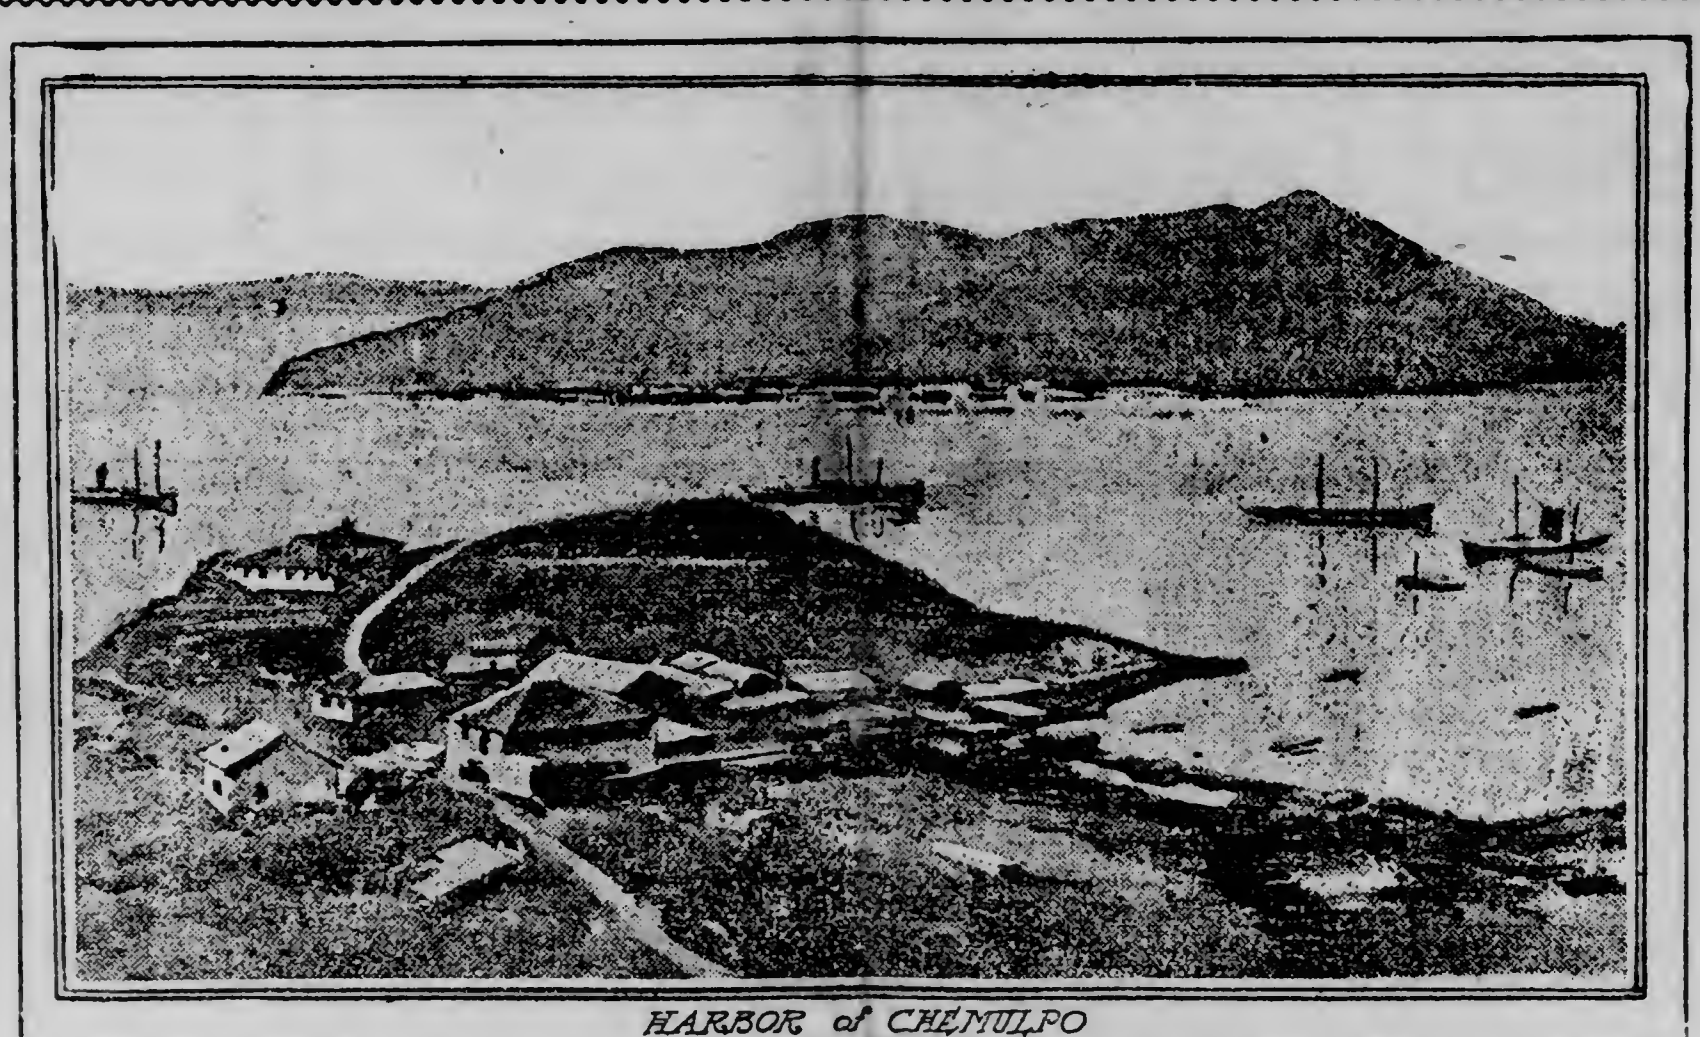

He then dictated the following: "I appreciate the work Mr. Hearst has done for the Democratic party and

AN ULTIMATUM TO THE VATICAN

Rome, Jan. 15.—The French government has presented the vatican with a note in the nature of an ultimatum regarding the appointments of bishops to five vacant French sees, substantially saying that either the pope must approve the selections of the French government, or they will be announced officially without the approbation of the see. In addition, the papal nuncio will be asked to leave Paris, and the clergy will be forbidden to collect Peter's pence in the churches. The pope's consent will not yet be announced.

The rumor that the pope had decided to approve the appointments is incorrect. The vatican hopes to be able to continue the negotiations.

POINT OF DANGER IN THE EASTERN SITUATION

Chemulpo is the port of Seoul, the capital of Korea, and the starting point of the Japanese railway to the capital. All naval operations against Korea would begin here. Several warships of various nations are in the harbor at the present time, and marines have been sent to the capital to guard foreign legations.

RAPID PREPARATIONS BEING MADE FOR WAR

State Department Dispatches Indicate Extraordinary Activity.

Japan Minister at London Not Hopeful of Maintaining Peace.

Washington, Jan. 15.—State department advices today from Japan indicate an extraordinary activity in the preparation for war. These add to the pessimistic feeling already existing here respecting the probability of amicable adjustment of the Russo-Japan trouble. Meanwhile the Japanese government is reported to be striving desperately to find some possible means of settlement, but the state department learns that while professing a desire for peace, the Russian position, at least in principle, remains unchanged, and there is no sign of a disposition to yield to the Japanese proposal. Still the official opinion here is that if left to diplomacy the present situation may continue for several days, or even weeks.

The two chances of an earlier breach are said to be found in the possibility of the immediate occupation of Korean points by Japanese forces, and the presence in the Red sea simultaneously of Russian and Japanese warships.

Respecting the possibilities of a naval clash in that section, it is pointed out that only the existence of formal existence of war could be applied to the Suez canal rules of neutrality, which require a period of twenty-four hours to elapse between the departure from the termini of the canal of warships of belligerent powers, so in advance of a declaration of war there is nothing to prevent a naval battle within sight of the canal entrance in the Red sea.

The reported passage through the Dardanelles of a Russian troop transport is not regarded here as a violation of the prohibition upon the passage of warships through the straits heretofore maintained by the Turkish government, these vessels not being looked upon as warships in the ordinary sense.

London, Jan. 15.—The Japanese minister, Baron Hayashi, had received no indication this morning of the probable attitude of Russia, but he said to a representative of the Associated Press: "It is practically certain that any declaration of war will not emanate from Russia."

The minister is not very hopeful of the result of the latest Japanese note. He specifically denies that Japan's reply suggests the neutralization of the port of Manchuria as well as a portion of Korea, or that mention was made of the right to break off negotiations. "Our conditions," said the minister, "are practically summed up in the concluding portion of the state department's announcement regarding the Chinese-American treaty. For these principles, to which Secretary Hay says the United States is irrevocably committed, we are willing to go to war unless Russia will consent to give us a definite pledge that she too adheres to the open door and Chinese sovereignty in Manchuria."

Berlin, Jan. 15.—The Japanese minister and all the staff of the legation attended the Russian ambassador's new year's reception yesterday. Count Osten-Sacken, the Russian ambassador, and Mr. Inouye, the Japanese minister, conversed animatedly for a quarter of an hour, to the entertainment of the observing diplomats.

Japan's reply, as outlined in these dispatches yesterday, is considered as offering Russia a way out of the difficulty without loss of prestige.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 15.—The diplomats here regard favorably the suggestion to transfer the Russo-Japanese negotiations to St. Petersburg. They do not think it would remove the negotiations from the hands of the war party, represented by Admiral Alexieff, the Russian victory in the far East, and enable the czar and Foreign Minister Lamsdorff to more closely control them.

Continuing its anti-war campaign, the Russ today predicts that even granting that Russia is victorious, there will be subsequent interference on the part of the other powers and a "new edition of the Berlin congress."

Suez, Jan. 15.—The Japanese cruiser Kasuga has proceeded on its voyage. The Nisrin also has reached here and is taking on coal.

SUPREME COURT OVERRULES DEMURRER OF CHAS. F. LELAND

St. Paul, Jan. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The supreme court today filed eight opinions, only one of which is a reversal.

In the case of the state vs. Charles F. Leland, the Duluth banker, the court overrules the defendant's demurrer. Leland is charged with receiving deposits in the Commercial Banking company after he knew the concern was insolvent. Justice Lovely says in the syllabus: "First—Section 219, laws of 1895, entitled 'An act to amend section 463, of the laws of the state of Minnesota, relating to receiving deposits in insolvent banks,' is not subject to the objection that it is violative of section 4, of the state constitution, providing that 'no law shall embrace more than one subject, which shall be expressed in its title.'"

"Second—The purpose of chapter 215, laws of 1895, was to provide a penalty against any corporation, private person or broker, who, when insolvent, receives deposits to be returned to the depositor on demand, according to the usual custom of banks, and the title of this act is fairly suggestive of its application to these purposes."

In the case of John Bredeeson, as father of Alfred Bredeeson, against the C. A. Smith Lumber company, of Minneapolis, two verdicts of $300 and $200 are upheld. The son was hurt in the lumber company's mill. His father sued to recover damages for both the son and himself. The two actions were tried together, and the jury gave the boy $300 and the father $200, which the trial court reduced to $2500 and $300.

MURDERER KEEPS PROMISE AND RETURNS TO PRISON.

Uniontown, Pa., Jan. 15.—In fulfillment of his promise, James Swaney, the mountaineer, who was allowed to go home in order to spend the holidays with his family after having been found guilty of killing a man in a mountain feud, has returned. He appeared in court to hear an argument by his attorneys for a new trial, upon which motion the judge reserved decision. Swaney was again allowed his liberty under a $10,000 bond furnished by his brothers.

RUMOR OF WRECK

San Francisco, Jan. 15.—An unfounded rumor has been received here from Victoria, B. C., of the wreck of the English ship Simla on the Vancouver island coast. Owing to the wires being down in that vicinity, it is at present impossible to confirm the report.

PIGOTT ARRESTED IN BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Chicago, Jan. 15.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Denver says: Henry Herbert Pigott, who became notorious in 1901 by eloping from Philadelphia to Denver with Charlotte Bran, his wife, has been arrested with the woman at Princeton, N. C. The capture was effected after a long chase on dog sleds through a wild, mountainous country. Pigott asked to be allowed WILD OLD TIME IN THE BORDER TOWN OF KELLIHER, MINN.

Man and Woman Take Possession of Gambling House at Point of Guns.

House Riddled With Bullets Which Fail to Dislodge Couple.

St. Paul, Jan. 15.—A special to the Dispatch from Blackduck, Minn., says: Great excitement prevailed all night in the town of Kelliher, a new border town at the terminal of the Minnesota & International railroad, 20 miles north of here, all night, last night, and today it is believed to be continuing over a shooting affray which started in a gambling house over a game of cards. The house was surrounded all night by a score of armed men who were trying to get a man by the name of Plummer and a woman companion who had driven the proprietor of the house from the place at the point of their guns and then began to "shoot the place up," in true border fashion. When the proprietor of the place and a number of inmates were driven out by the couple, the town council assembled and sent out for volunteers. Each man was furnished with a gun and a quart bottle of whisky, the latter as a stimulant against the cold. Then the shooting began. The house was riddled with bullets from without and within. The town marshal was slightly wounded. The couple in the house wrecked the interior with axes and fired at every one who came within range. This warfare was kept up until late in the night when the besieged sent up a flag of truce. The town marshal accompanied by some of his posse started for the house but was told only one was wanted at a time. A truce was arranged until morning. The besieged then took turns at watching and sleeping and occasionally a shot could be heard. In the meantime the sheriff from Silver Lake was summoned and he is expected to arrive tonight.

FORMER GOVERNOR BUSHNELL DIES AT EARLY HOUR FRIDAY

Passed Away at Columbus Where He Went to Attend the Inauguration of Governor Herrick—Was Noted For Great Charity.

Columbus, O., Jan. 15.—Ex-Gov. Bushnell died at 1:33 o'clock this morning.

The body of former Governor Bushnell will be removed to Springfield this afternoon. The arrangements for the funeral are not yet completed, but it will not occur before Monday and perhaps not until Tuesday. The body will lie in state in the Christ Episcopal church at Springfield, the deceased having been a member of the denomination. The party accompanying the body, in addition to the pallbearers, will be Mrs. Bushnell, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. McGrew, Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Dimond, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Bushnell, Col. J. L. Rodgers, private secretary during Governor Bushnell's administration, and Gen. H. A. Axline, who was adjutant general to the state at that time. The body rests in a massive oblong, copper-lined casket, almost a counter-part of that in which President McKinley was buried.

Former Governor Bushnell was born at Rome, Oneida county, N. Y., Sept. 15, 1824. He came to Ohio with his parents when eleven years old, residing first at Cincinnati and since 1851 at Springfield.

From a position as bookkeeper he rose to a partnership in the Wagon, J. F. Bushnell & Gleason company, manufacturers of farming implements of which he became president in 1851. There he remained until 1857, when he was elected governor in 1857, by the state Republican convention, but declined the honor on account of pressing private business interests. Mr. Bushnell was one of the four delegates at large from Ohio to the national Republican convention at Minneapolis in 1892.

He served two terms as governor of Ohio, being elected in 1895 and re-elected in 1897.

Two weeks ago Mr. Bushnell divided three-quarters of a million dollars among members of his family as a New Year's gift.

Springfield, O., Jan. 15.—The death of former Governor Bushnell has caused great sorrow in this his home town, where he was greatly loved by his people.

His great kindness could be written about his deeds of charity. His first gift to the city was the drinking fountain at High street. The Russian ambassador, McGrew, Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Dimond, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Bushnell, Col. J. L. Rodgers, private secretary during Governor Bushnell's administration, and Gen. H. A. Axline, who was adjutant general to the state at that time. THE OVERDUE NORDLAND ARRIVES

Philadelphia, Jan. 15.—The Red Star liner Nordland, Liverpool for this port, arrived here today being five days overdue. The delay was reported by Captain Roberts was due to the breaking of an eccentric strap on the engine. The accident occurred about 500 miles out from Queenstown. The steamship was hove-to for two days for repairs and later proceeded under "head way" repairs. She fell in with the British steamship Cornishman which sailed from Liverpool December 31, for Portland, Me. This was on Jan. 2. Captain Roberts signalled that the Nordland was unmanageable but did not ask for aid. There were 230 passengers on the vessel. There was practically no excitement.

Captain Roberts signalled to the pilot boat that all on board are well and that the damage to his vessel was but slight.

POLICE CANNOT STOP SWINDLERS

New York, Jan. 15.—Inspector McKinstry of the detective bureau has asked the postoffice officials to help his department to exterminate a petty swindling operation on being carried on in this city which is said to have drawn in the aggregate more than $50,000 from the middle and far West.

Three men are back of the scheme, which consists of securing yearly subscriptions of $1.35 for a magazine that is barred from the mails. Procuring lists of thousands of persons in distant states, circular letters were sent out saying that a friend had ordered the magazine sent them for a year; that at a monthly prize drawing they have won a valuable watch, but unfortunately the friend failed to send $1.35 for the magazine. The recipient of the letter is invited to send the money in order to procure the prize, and the police say thousands have done so. However, they refuse to come from their homes to give evidence, owing to the small sum involved, and the police say they are powerless to suppress the swindlers.

FIVE REVOLVERS COWED BURGLAR

Chicago, Jan. 15.—With the revolvers of five policemen pointed at his head, a William Hoolihan, alias "Bid," said to be one of the most expert safe robbers in America, has been compelled to submit to arrest in a Chicago restaurant. The prisoner, who is said to have been a fugitive for the past seven years, is wanted for having broken open of a jail in Virginia, where he was sent on a house of drawing a west-bound New York Central freight train blew up here today, killing the engineer and a brakeman and probably fatally injuring the fireman.

Postal Trial Shows That Subordinates Practically Run Things.

Washington, Jan. 15.—Robert J. Wynne, first assistant postmaster general, who was on the stand when court adjourned over on Wednesday, today continued his testimony in the postal trial.

On cross-examination by Mr. Kimmie, witness said he did not know whether Groff fasteners were attached to rural free delivery letter boxes or not. There were many things connected with the postoffice department, he said, that he knew nothing about.

"I am trying to learn," Mr. Wynne solemnly remarked, "and am doing the best I can."

Mr. Wynne was asked with questions calculated to test his knowledge of a number of details of the rural free delivery service, but they were met with a frank "I don't know," the witness adding that whenever he wanted certain information he would send to the free delivery division for it and get it. He could not possibly give personal information to all the details of his office. Further testimony brought out the statement by Mr. Wynne that the basis for the honest furnishing of supplies for the postoffice department originated in the requisition of the postmaster of the country.

Asked to describe what was meant by "office requisition," Mr. Wynne said that certain matters were routine for him, but that for the official who had made the requisition, "if the official was entirely honest," said the witness, "and had no interest in the contract, it would be routine."

But if he was dishonest he would follow everything up and see that the contractor got the full benefit of the service.

The invitation, he thought, had been extended early in December. The witness then was asked by Mr. Maddox for the defense to identify in order of the department, dated Feb. 5, 1902, addressed to Groff Bros. After scrutinizing the paper, Mr. Wynne declared that it had been signed in his name with a rubber stamp, "improperly signed," he was then remarked, but he said he did not put the signature there himself.

As a further test of the scrutiny which Mr. Wynne gave to requisitions, Mr. Maddox asked him if he signed orders for mail routes involving an expenditure of $20,000 or $30,000, without knowing the difference between them and a locomotive. "The witness promptly replied, "Yes," saying that his scrutiny was sometimes short and rapid and at other times very extended.

FORMER GOVERNOR BUSHNELL DIES AT EARLY HOUR FRIDAY

Passed Away at Columbus Where He Went to Attend the Inauguration of Governor Herrick—Was Noted For Great Charity.

Columbus, O., Jan. 15.—Ex-Gov. Bushnell died at 1:55 o'clock this morning. The body of former Governor Bushnell will be removed to Springfield this afternoon. The arrangements for the funeral are not yet completed, but it will not occur before Monday and perhaps not until Tuesday. The body will lie in state in the Christ Episcopal church at Springfield, the deceased having been a member of that denomination. The party accompanying the body, in addition to the pallbearers, will be Mrs. Bushnell, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. McGraw, Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Dimond, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Bushnell, Col. J. L. Rodgers, private secretary during Governor Bushnell's administration, and Gen. H. A. Axline, who was adjutant general of the state at that time. The body rests in a massive casket, copper-lined casket, almost a counter-part of that in which President McKinley was buried.

Former Governor Bushnell was born at Rome, Oneida county, N. Y., Sept. 16, 1834. He came to Ohio with his parents when eleven years old, residing first at Cincinnati and since 1851 at Springfield.

From a position as bookkeeper he rose to a partnership in the Warner, Bushnell & Gleason company, manufacturers of farming implements of which he became president in 1856. He served in the civil war, being mustered out with the rank of captain.

In 1855 Mr. Bushnell was chairman of the Republican state executive committee. He was nominated by acclamation for lieutenant governor in 1867, but declined the honor on account of pressing private business interests. Mr. Bushnell was one of the four delegates at large from Ohio to the national Republican convention at Minneapolis in 1888.

He served two terms as governor of Ohio, being elected in 1895 and re-elected in 1897.

Two weeks ago Mr. Bushnell divided three-quarters of a million dollars among members of his family as a New Year's gift.

A book could be written about his deeds of charity. His first gift to the city was the drinking fountain at High street and Fountain avenue, where thousands quench their thirst during the heated season. A year or so later General Bushnell realized the need of a patrol wagon, and purchased one, and a team of horses and presented them to the city. He then erected a home for the native-born and gave the city the free use of it for years. Besides giving $10,000 to the Maske home, he also made most liberal gifts to the I. O. O. F. home and the K. of P. home. He gave the Y. M. C. A. $10,000 toward the erection of its handsome building, which was partially destroyed by fire a year ago and he made another magnificent gift toward rebuilding it. These are but some of the public benefactions which not a day passed but what he helped some poor person.

His generosity was beautifully manifested a few months ago when he put a member of his war company on the street one day. General Bushnell asked him if he was going to the national reunion in California, and he replied that he would like to attend but he did not have the money. General Bushnell inquired how much it would take, and when told the sum he stepped into his bank, secured the money and handed it to the man, with the remark: "There is no reason now why you cannot go, and I hope you will have a grand time."

He was nominated by acclamation for lieutenant governor in 1867, but declined the honor on account of pressing private business interests. Mr. Bushnell was one of the four delegates at large from Ohio to the national Republican convention at Minneapolis in 1888.

He served two terms as governor of Ohio, being elected in 1895 and re-elected in 1897.

PANAMANIAN EXPECT AN ATTACK FROM COLOMBIANS

Thousand Fighting Men Can Be Placed in the Field at Once.

New York, Jan. 15.—Authentic information from the frontier is anxiously awaited here, as the belief is widespread, cables the Herald's Panama correspondent, that the Colombians have already started to march upon the isthmus.

The Panamanian troops are ready to leave on a moment's notice. The conscription has been completed, and 12,000 fighting men can be placed in the field. There is great bustle in the army in preparation for the shipment of rifles and ammunition to the Indians of the interior, who have agreed to join against the Colombian forces. Col. Barrios, of the Panamanian army, said: "We, who were combating until yesterday, cannot be deceived by any tactics the Colombians may employ. We are deeply grateful for the aid the Americans have given us, especially as we are required to fight our own battles on land with the utmost confidence of victory."

Four hundred to five hundred men, stationed in the only three passes available, can defeat any army. "We have all the men we actually need, for the fighting will be done in the mountains. We expect to repel the invasion without calling out all the available troops. The Indians will certainly fight on our side. The San Blas Indians, who are Colombian allies, will not fight at all."

BRYAN SAYS DARK HORSE WILL GET DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION

Former Candidate Declines to Express an Opinion as to the Availability or Chances of Parker, Gorman, Hearst or McClellan.

St. Louis, Jan. 15.—"Everything points to victory," said William J. Bryan, who spent an hour in St. Louis today, enroute home to Lincoln, Neb., in answer to a question by the Post-Dispatch as to the Democratic national outlook. "I think we will win, and I am convinced that a dark horse will capture the nomination," he continued. "What do you think about Judge Parker of New York," he was asked.

"I am not thinking about Parker at all," he would Senator Gorman of Maryland suit you?" "I am not discussing Mr. Gorman or any other candidate at this time," he said. "Is it true that you have expressed a preference for Mr. Hearst?" "Now," said Mr. Bryan, "I wish you would write down what I have to say about Mr. Hearst."

He then dictated the following: "I appreciate the work Mr. Hearst has done for the Democratic party and count him among my personal friends, but I am not advocating his nomination or that of any other person. I am avoiding any expression of preference for anybody."

"Are you a candidate, Mr. Bryan?" "I think I have already made it perfectly plain that I am not."

"Would you become one if conditions should indicate the necessity of your making the race?" "I can imagine no circumstances under which I would be either wise or necessary for me to become a candidate."

Mr. Bryan would not commit himself as to the eligibility of Mayor McClellan of New York for the Democratic nomination.

"Did your journey modify in any way your views on the money question?" Mr. Bryan was asked. "It did not," he replied, emphatically. "I am still a believer in the principle of free silver. But I will say this, that I got one new idea, which I will discuss at some future time."

AN ULTIMATUM TO THE VATICAN

Rome, Jan. 15.—The French government has presented the Vatican with a note in the nature of an ultimatum regarding the appointments of bishops to five vacant French sees, substantially saying that either the pope must approve the selections of the French government, or they will be announced officially without the approbation of the holy see. In addition, the papal nuncio to the French government has been ordered to collect the names of the candidates for the five vacant French sees, substantially saying that either the pope must approve the selections of the French government, or they will be announced off-

SUPREME COURT OVERRULES DEMURRER OF CHAS. F. LELAND

St. Paul, Jan. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The supreme court today filed eight opinions, only one of which is a reversal.

In the case of the state vs. Charles F. Leland, the Duluth banker, the court overrules the defendant's demurrer. Leland is charged with receiving deposits in the Commercial Banking company, which after he knew the company was insolvent, Justice Lovely says in the syllabus:

"First—Section 219, laws of 1895, entitled 'An act to amend section 403, of the laws of the state of Minnesota, relating to receiving deposits in insolvent banks,' is not subject to the objection that it is violative of section 2, article 4, of the state constitution, providing that no law shall embrace more than one subject, which shall be expressed in its title."

Second—The purpose of chapter 215, laws of 1895, was to provide a penalty against any corporation, private person or broker, who, when insolvent, receives deposits to be returned to the depositor on demand, according to the usual custom of banks, and the title of this act is fairly suggestive of its application to these purposes."

In the case of John Fredeson, as father of Alfred Fredeson, against the C. A. Smith Lumber company, of Minneapolis, two verdicts of $300 and $250 are upheld. The son was hurt in the lumber company's mill. His father sued to recover damages for both the son and himself. The two actions were tried together, and the jury gave the boy $300 and the father $50, which the trial court reduced to $250 and $50.

MURDERER KEEPS PROMISE AND RETURNS TO PRISON.

Uniontown, Pa., Jan. 15.—In fulfillment of his promise, James Swaney, the mountaineer, who was allowed to go home in order to spend the holidays with his family after having been found guilty of killing a man in a mountain feud, has returned. He appeared in court to hear an argument by his attorneys for a new trial, upon which motion the judge reserved decision. Swaney was again allowed his liberty under $10,000 bond furnished by his brothers.

RUMOR OF WRECK.
San Francisco, Jan. 15.—An unfounded rumor has been received here from Victoria, B. C., of the wreck of the English ship Simla on the Vancouver island coast. Owing to the wires being down in that vicinity, it is at present impossible to confirm the report.

PIGOTT ARRESTED IN BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Chicago, Jan. 15.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Denver says: Henry Herbert Pigott, who achieved notoriety in 1901 by eloping from Philadelphia to Denver with Charlotte Bryan, his wife's niece, disappearing, it is claimed, with funds estimated at more than $500,000, has been arrested with the woman at Princeton, B. C. The capture was effected after a long chase on dog sleds through a wild, mountainous country. Pigott asked to be allowed his liberty on condition of giving up the documents, but he was turned over to the police. Papers representing $500,000 were found by the detectives.

GLASS BLOWERS STRIKE.
San Francisco, Jan. 15.—The works of the Illinois-Pacific Glass company in this city were closed yesterday and 100 employees, men, women, boys and girls, rendered idle by a strike of the glass blowers of the works. The trouble originated over the right of the men to leave the factory at their will during working hours. The glass blowers are allowed a

BOILER EXPLODES.
Syracuse, N. Y., Jan. 15.—The boiler of a locomotive drawing a west-bound New York Central freight train blew up here today, killing the engineer and a brakeman, and probably fatally injuring the fireman.

THE OVERDUE NORDLAND ARRIVES

Philadelphia, Jan. 15.—The Red Star liner Nordland, Liverpool for this port, passed in the Delaware breakwater at 10:03 today being five days overdue. The delay as reported by Captain Roberts was due to the breaking of an eccentric strap on the engine. The accident occurred about 500 miles out from Queenstown. The steamship was hoisted for two days for repairs and later proceeded under "head way" repairs. She fell in with the British steamship Cornishman which sailed from Liverpool December 31, for Portland, Me. This was on Jan. 2. Captain Roberts signalled that the Nordland was unmanageable but did not ask for aid. There were 29 passengers on the vessel. There was practically no excitement on board. Captain Roberts signalled to the pilot boat that all on board are well and that the damage to his vessel was but slight.

POLICE CANNOT STOP SWINDLERS

New York, Jan. 15.—Inspector McClusky of the detective bureau has asked the postoffice officials to help his department to exterminate a petty swindling operation being carried on in this city which is said to have drawn in the aggregate more than $50,000 from the middle and far West.

Three men are back of the scheme, which consists of securing yearly subscriptions of $1.25 for a magazine that is barred from the mails. Procuring lists of thousands of persons in distant states, circular letters were sent out saying that a friend had ordered the magazine sent them for a year; that at a monthly prize drawing they have won valuable watch, but unfortunately the friend failed to send $1.25 for the magazine. The recipient of the letter is invited to send the money in order to procure the prize, and the police say thousands have done so. However, they refuse to come from their homes to give evidence, owing to the small sum involved, and the police say they are powerless to suppress the swindlers.

FIVE REVOLVERS COWED BURGLAR

Chicago, Jan. 15.—With the revolvers of five policemen pointed at his head, a William Hoolihan, alias "Big," said to be one of the most expert safe burglars in America, has been compelled to submit to arrest in a Chicago saloon. The prisoner, who is said to have been a fugitive for the past seven years, is wanted for having broken open of a jail in Virginia, where he was sent on a charge of safe-blowing. The strong box in the postoffice of Roanoke, Va., was robbed by Hoolihan and two others, who secured nearly $500 in postage stamps and about $250 in currency.

IT WILL BE QUIET

Judge Powell Says Democratic Campaign Will Not Be Noisy.

Committeemen in the Different Wards Are Named.

"It is our intention to conduct a very quiet campaign," said Judge Powell, who has charge of the majority campaign for Dr. M. B. Cullum.

"We wish to disturb the business interests of the community as little as possible, and avoid stirring up any party strife."

"No public meetings have been arranged for as yet, and it is the plan at present not to hold any regularly advertised mass meetings, although there may be a change made in this respect before the election day arrives."

"The many friends of Dr. Cullum, however, are conducting an energetic campaign in his behalf throughout the city."

Democratic headquarters were opened Monday on the fourth floor of the Manhattan building, where a suite of rooms has been secured until after the election.

The following prominent supporters of Dr. Cullum have been chosen to act as chairmen of the committees in the different wards named: First ward, Thomas J. McKee; Third ward, Joseph A. Mannheim; Fourth ward, P. J. Neff; Fifth ward, P. L. Ryan; Sixth ward, August Huchberg; Seventh ward, Joseph Nylander; Eighth ward, David Sang.

QUESTIONS STILL OPEN

Lake Carriers Did Not Settle Principal Ones Before Them.

Detroit, Jan. 15.—The stockholders and directors of the Lake Carriers' association adjourned today without settling any of the questions discussed at the sessions yesterday and today.

Harvey D. Goulder, counsel of the association, held an extended conference today with J. C. Gilchrist of Cleveland, and at its conclusion said that the question of Mr. Gilchrist's membership in the Lake Carriers' association was no nearer settlement than it was yesterday when Mr. Gilchrist said that it "looked as though he would join."

The appointment of a secretary-treasurer, the two offices having been combined, was not made today but the appointment is in the hands of the executive committee. No appointment will be made, it is said, until an office of the association is opened in Cleveland.

The stockholders made only two changes in the twenty-one members of the board of directors elected last year.

Contra to the custom heretofore, none of the officers' reports were made public.

Last year's executive committee was re-elected as follows: A. B. Wolvin, of Duluth; H. Couby, of Cleveland; E. T. Evans, of Buffalo; Edward Smith, of Buffalo, and H. A. Hawgood, of Cleveland.

MURDER AND SUICIDE.

Philadelphia, Jan. 15.—Edward J. Landis, aged 45 years, a manufacturing chemist, of this city, today shot and killed his wife, Emma, aged 43 years, and then shot himself at their home in West Philadelphia.

Chief Mushum testified that he had never received any report as to the condition of the Iroquois theater previous to the fatal fire.

A former member of the fire department was stationed at the playhouse, and, according to the city ordinance, it was the fireman's duty to report at least once a week to the fire marshal in order to keep the department advised of any neglect on the part of the management of the theater to provide for the safety of the public.

When it was asked why he did not insist upon receiving such reports, Chief Mushum replied that the only explanation he could offer was that there were many fires in the city at that time that he was kept busy night and day.

Besides he did not consider that he had any control over the action of the fireman who was employed by managers of the theaters.

When questioned why he had never made any written statement to his superiors to the effect that he could not enforce any of the ordinances in reference to theaters, Chief Mushum replied:

"We never had any trouble with the theaters previous to this fire."

"There would not be any yet, would there, if 500 or 600 lives had not been lost?"

"Well, I don't know. There would not have been any trouble if that lamp had not been there or the careless handling of it."

"Isn't it a fact that you were not familiar with your duty as far as making the owners of theaters comply with the city ordinance is concerned?"

"I don't think I have had authority to do it. I don't consider I had the right to order sprinklers in those buildings."

"You have the authority to see that there are no fires, and if there are not there, not to allow the theaters to open, or if opened, to close them."

"This theater was opened without my knowledge. If I had been notified I certainly should have inspected it myself."

"Were you ever notified of any other theater before it was opened?"

"No, sir."

"Why should you expect to be notified of this theater?"

"I did not expect it."

"You stated that the city clerk should have notified you."

"I think that is the law."

CHIEF TOO BUSY

Head of Chicago Fire Department Tries to Excuse Himself.

Never Investigated or Had Reports From Iroquois Theater.

Chicago, Jan. 15.—Chief Mushum of the Chicago fire department told the coroner's jury today that he had "nothing to do with the Iroquois theater."

The chief threw the blame for the disaster on others.

"I would have been encroaching on the duties of the building department," he said, "if I had tried to enforce the ordinance."

"Why did you not insist on the Iroquois theater being fitted with sprinklers and fire apparatus?"

"All I had to do was to approve of the apparatus or sprinklers when notified."

"Was it the duty of the Iroquois fireman, Salter, to report to you?"

"Yes."

"Did he do so?"

"No."

"Why did you not require him to do so?"

The chief hesitated and then replied: "I can't answer that. I did not do it."

A moment later he explained he had been very busy. There had been 300 fires in November.

Chief Mushum testified that he had never received any report as to the condition of the Iroquois theater previous to the fatal fire.

A former member of the fire department was stationed at the playhouse, and, according to the city ordinance, it was the fireman's duty to report at least once a week to the fire marshal in order to keep the department advised of any neglect on the part of the management of the theater to provide for the safety of the public.

should he have done it with the Iroquois theater?

"I think there have been certificates issued before the theaters opened, but not during my administration."

"What do you mean when you say you have to wait to be notified?"

"The law requires my approval."

"If the commissioner of buildings shirks his work, are you supposed to shirk yours?"

"No, sir, but I don't consider I have any right to interfere with him."

"Don't you think it is your duty to confer with that man knowing that these buildings are not complying with the law?"

"Well, I don't know but what that is right, but I think he is the one that should do it."

"When he does not do it, don't you think it is your duty, holding the position you do, to confer with him?"

"I have no right to exercise his duties."

"Then we, as citizens, are always in danger of our lives simply because he does not perform his work and you do not perform yours."

"I consider I perform my full duties."

"No, not when you knew that these buildings were dangerous. You say this fireman did not report to you weeks ago he was supposed to."

"He did not report to me."

FISHES AS MEDICINE.

Vast Amount of Superstition and Some Sense.

In medicine fishes have filled an unusually large space, nearly all of the better known species having been at one time or another held to be the cause of some ailment, says the Chicago Tribune.

These superstitions, however, seem to be spreading all over the world and are coming to be regarded as scientific facts.

The common tench has been termed the "British fish," and Camden, in his "Britannia," states that he had seen the fish used as a cure for various ailments, and by their glutinous slime purged the bowels of the sick.

Other writers have believed that pike, perch and eels, when used in consequence of the tench, would cure the disease.

In olden times it used to be applied to the face of the sufferer from rheumatism, to absorb fever, or laid over the liver in the case of jaundice.

It was also used in the case of a nervous headache, the fish would be tied to the temples of the sufferer for some time, and the head would be kept in a position around the neck. It would also step between the feet of the sufferer, and the feet would be kept in a position around the neck.

In Russia the small eel, the thumli (Cottus scottii), is employed as a charm against fever. In the time of Galen the eel was used as a charm against fever.

When a Japanese desires to commit suicide he frequently eats one species of the sea lamprey, and it is said to make the presence of the corner an absolute necessity to a very short time.

In some parts of India it is claimed that this fish is highly poisonous, while in others it is said merely to occasion indigestion.

The gall bladder is probably the dangerous part of the fish, and it is said to be very poisonous, some even asserting it to be poisonous.

The fishes of the genus Balistes, which inhabit tropical waters principally, are said to be exceedingly poisonous at times when eaten. It is reported that the poisonous flesh acts first on the nervous system of the stomach, occasioning violent spasms of that organ and shortly afterward of all the muscles of the body.

The fish soon becomes racked with spasms, the tongue thickened, the eye fixed, the breathing labored, and the patient expires in a paroxysm of extreme suffering.

The Trachinus, or weever fish, sometimes inflicts a very serious wound with its spines. Pliny and Dioscorides advised that the body of the fish inflicting the wound be cut open and applied to the wound while Pliny of Argos was taken by the patient drink a light tonic to make by the brain of the culprit fish.

The salmon, which is one of the best of food fishes, was looked upon as a snake by some of the old-time doctors, as it was conducive to leprosy, while after the cruelties of the Middle Ages, was a formidable disease in Europe.

In the Wicwachee river, Florida, is a spring gushing up from a subterranean source, and this has been named the "Fishes' Hospital" by persons who have observed it. Owing to the clearness of the water every foot of the deep hole in the river bottom from which the spring bursts forth, can be observed, and numerous eyewitnesses testify to seeing many wounded and sick fish, coming there for refuge and healing. In consequence of some peculiar property in the spring water, their wounds heal rapidly, and as soon as cured they disappear, to be succeeded by other injured ones.

NORTH DAKOTA LAND OFFICESenate Passes a Bill Creating an Additional One.

Washington, Jan. 15.—The senate today passed a bill creating an additional land office in the state of North Dakota and providing for the allotments of lands in severity to the Stockbridge and Munsee Indians of Wisconsin.

The German Panama resolution was passed before the senate. Before any one was recognized to speak on the resolution, Mr. Gorman offered a number of amendments, striking out the word "intervention," wherever it appears, thus modifying the resolution so as to make it an inquiry of the president concerning the use of American military forces in Panama.

Mr. Cullom, in view of the amendments, withdrew his motion to refer the resolution to the committee on foreign relations and said he was willing to have it voted upon.

Mr. Lodge, however, asked to have the resolution as amended, printed and lie over for another day, and that order was made.

 Mr. Teller then addressed the senate on the canal question, saying that he believed the subject should be treated from a non-partisan standpoint.
 He thought, however, that whenever the president transacted his duty, the fact should be pointed out. In the present instance he did not doubt the good intention of the president, but he was distrustful of the wisdom in what he had done. His objection was not, he said, based upon any fear of war with Colombia, but upon the fact that she was too wise to enter into such a conflict of arms with the United States. He had no complaint to make against Panama. He thought if he had lived in Panama he would have been a rebel himself. It was the duty, however, of the United States to remain neutral.

THE FIRES OF A DAY

Car Barn and Fifty Cars Burned at Brooklyn.

New York, Jan. 15.—The three-story car barn and about fifty cars of the Coney Island & Brooklyn Railroad company in Brooklyn were destroyed by fire today, the fire threatening the safety of the adjoining power house and putting a number of the Brooklyn car lines out of commission for several hours. Three men were injured, but not fatally. The loss is estimated at $100,000 to $125,000. The building destroyed occupied the entire block on Central avenue from De Kalb avenue to Stockholm street.

Pateron, N. J., Jan. 15.—The malted house of the Hinchliffe Brewing company was destroyed by fire today. The fire-story brick structure contained 200,000 bushels of hops and barley and much machinery. The loss is estimated at $100,000, fully insured. The asphalt floors, supposed to be fireproof, were quickly consumed. While the fire was in progress one of the ladders raised against the building broke, and three firemen who were on it fell to the ground, a distance of about thirty feet. One of them, Hugh Kelly, was perhaps fatally injured. The other two men were not seriously hurt.

Pittsburg, Jan. 15.—A South Side fire which for a time today threatened to assume large proportions, destroyed the packing room, engine room, blacksmith shop and office of the Cunningham Glass plant on South Twenty-sixth street. Schiller-Glocke hall, one of the best known institutions on the South Side, which was separated from the glass factory by a small alley, was badly scorched, but by hard work the firemen were able to save it from destruction. The loss was about $20,000.

THOSE WHO HAVE DIED

Chicago, Jan. 15.—John N. Jewett, a prominent lawyer of Chicago, is dead of heart disease. He was 75 years old and had practiced law in Chicago since 1856. In 1894 Attorney Jewett received the degree of L. L. D. from Bowdoin college. He was elected president of the Chicago historical society in 1890 and was its president at the time of his death.

Baltimore, Jan. 15.—Commodore William W. Duncan, U. S. N. (retired) is dead at his home here. He was born in 1829. During the Spanish War he was a member of one of the navy department advisory boards.

Chicago, Jan. 15.—Dr. Henry L. Tolman, who had a national reputation as a microscopist, is dead, aged 56 years. In the capacity of microscopic expert Dr. Tolman was a witness in the Davis heirship case in Montana and the Moloney murder trial in New York.

Keokuk, Iowa, Jan. 15.—Mrs. Orion Clemens died today. She was the widow of the acting governor of Nevada territory during the civil war. He was a brother of "Mark Twain."

LIVE STOCK CONVENTION

Has Elected Frank J. Hagenbarth of Idaho as President.

Portland, Ore., Jan. 15.—At the Live Stock convention today the following officers were elected: Frank J. Hagenbarth, of Idaho, president; H. A. Jastro, of California, first vice president; F. M. Stewart, of South Dakota, second vice president; George L. Goulding, of Colorado, treasurer; Charles F. Martin, of Colorado, secretary.

E. N. Hutchinson of the United States bureau of animal industry, spoke of "Some Unappreciated Friends." He said in part:

"Experiments and observations made of the cultural properties of certain bacteria inhabiting the intestines have enabled bacteriologists to draw the conclusion and express the belief that there exists a beneficial relation between certain forms of bacteria and the processes of food digestion and absorption. The cry therefore, for universal sterilization, must, and indeed, has already, given place to the more reasonable demand for universal cleanliness.

"Dirt and filth retard the growth of certain of the beneficial forms of bacteria, particularly those groups which are of such service in the dairy industries. As a class these little organisms are the implacable foes of all uncleanliness. These wonderful little workers contribute to our luxuries and even furnish us with the very means of life itself. And if there is anything in the domestic or theory of modification by descent, that is, in special purpose, breeding, let us hope to see such changes brought about in the breeds of domestic bacteria, as to make them minister to comforts in ways hitherto undreamed of."

J. R. Anderson, deputy minister of agriculture, British Columbia, spoke of the evils of cross-bred or scrub stock. He said that with a good constitution assured, and all other points which are the indications of good qualities well represented, one need not hesitate to pay any reasonable price for a male. As to the female, while it is desirable that she should also possess the best qualities of her class, she is by no means of the same importance as the male. When we come to consider the enormous prices that are paid in the East and the old country for good, pure bred stock, it stands to reason that unless we are prepared to do the same, we cannot hope to obtain the best or even good animals. Until the scrub males which infest the country are gotten rid of and good animals substituted, we cannot hope for much improvement.

The Hon. C. E. Adams, of Nebraska, spoke of "The need of independent packing houses." He said, in part:

"The great livestock interests of America must not be lulled into a false sense of security at the door of the meat trust. The profits must be equally distributed between the producer and the consumer, and the profits must be reasonable enough so that the great third party, the consumer, can on the indications of good qualities well

POTATOES ROTTING

Eggs Continue at High Point—Oysters to Have Advance.

Dry rot on potatoes promises to make the tubers a very scarce article before the new crop is on the market.

The price of potatoes is now from 75 to 85 cents per bushel wholesale, and the retail price is from 5 to 10 cents per bushel higher.

The weather conditions were very unfavorable last year for the potato crop. Continued wet weather caused a large percentage of the potatoes to rot in the ground, and great difficulty has been experienced in keeping the last part of the crop which was marketed.

There is not much likelihood of an actual famine in potatoes, said a Michigan street dealer yesterday. "This is a big country and if we can't get an article in one part of it, we can in another, and potatoes can be raised in almost any part of the country."

The price of eggs still remains at that lofty altitude reached last fall. Fresh eggs, when they can be secured, are being sold by the wholesalers at 30 cents a dozen, and by the retailer at about 3 cents apiece.

Other produce prices remain unchanged from last week. Oysters promise to be very scarce in Duluth during the remaining months of the season. The oyster beds on the Chesapeake river were frozen over during the recent cold snap in the East, and the result was that oyster fishing had to be discontinued. The oyster beds are now expected to be open in about two weeks.

The price of oysters is now from 10 to 15 cents per bushel. The demand is light, but the shipments are correspondingly small and any surplus stock that is accumulated is placed in cold storage for the spring trade.

Meat prices are also unchanged from last week. The dealers report a good week's business with no particular features to the trade.

DAMAGE CASE IS DISMISSED

The Action of Carl Thiel Against Julius Keller-schon Is Settled.

The damage case of Carl Thiel against Julius Keller-schon will not come to trial. A stipulation settling the action and dismissing the case from district court was filed yesterday, and it has been stricken from the calendar. The stipulation was signed by W. B. Phelps, counsel for Mr. Thiel, and L. E. Phelps, counsel for Mr. Keller-schon. Both of the parties to the action are out of the city and their attorneys will not discuss the terms of settlement.

In his complaint, filed some days ago, Mr. Thiel accused Mr. Keller-schon of alienating his wife's affections and demanding damages in the amount of $25,000. Neither Mr. Thiel nor Mr. Keller-schon would discuss the case after the papers were filed. Mr. Thiel said it was really no concern of the public, anyway. Mr. Thiel also began garnishing proceedings against Keller-schon's bank deposits, and these proceedings were also dismissed by stipulation.

Mr. Thiel was formerly a well-known photographer and Mr. Keller-schon is an engineer in the employ of the Oliver Iron Mining company.

Meat Inspector Tells of His Year's Work.

The annual report of City Meat Inspector Langdon shows the condemnation of 16,000 pounds of vegetables during the year.

The total amount of meat condemned was 687 pounds, and 700 pounds of fruit were regarded as unfit for sale and confiscated.

The annual inspection of the dairies was made in November, and a detailed report made to the board of health at that time. The tuberculosis test for dairy cattle was administered in a few cases. The funds of the department were not allowed to be administered to all cattle, as is done in St. Paul and Minneapolis.

The meeting Monday night will take the form of a Republican rally, and the municipal campaign of the party will be opened.

SANITY QUESTIONED.

James Wright to Be Examined Before Probate Court.

James Wright, who was indicted for grand larceny in the first degree, by the last grand jury, may be insane. His condition is such that Judge Dittel has made an order for his hearing before Judge of Probate Middlecott when an examination will be made as to his sanity.

Wright is the man who stole more than $100 worth of kodaks from the Eastman Kodak company. Since his arrest he has been telling sensational stories of his being a pensioner of the British government in the amount of $1000 a year for gallant services rendered aboard the flagship Intrepid at the battle of Alexandria, in 1882.

Wright says he picked a shell off the deck and threw it into the sea as it was about to explode, thus saving Admiral Belkovich's life.

Another of the stories told by Wright is that when the police arrested him he had a large part of the $1000 annual allowance on his person and he claims they took it.

John Griley, who represents Wright, asked the court to order the investigation into Wright's condition as to sanity.

INDOOR BASEBALL.

Company A and Millers to Meet at Armory.

A first indoor baseball game is scheduled for this evening at the Armory, between the Company A team and the Millers. The militiamen were scheduled to play the Big Duluths, but on account of the death of Mr. Villanov the game was indefinitely postponed.

The usual dance will follow the game. The following is the line-up of the two teams:

CAN FIND NO TRACE.

Mother Dying of Grief Over Son's Disappearance.

City Clerk Cheddie received a letter yesterday from Mrs. John Freed, of Campbell's Corners, Mich., asking for information concerning a man named Stephen Parliament, whom she had heard was buried here.

Mrs. Freed stated that the mother of the young man is dying of grief because she does not know whether her son is dead or alive.

Inspector Kitchen of the board of health searched the records back as far as 1900, but no trace of such a name appeared among the list of deaths. If he died here he was known by some other name.

Hockey Champions Doubled Score on Visitors.

Houghton, Mich., Jan. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Portage Lake hockey team doubled the previous score for the Saint Ste. Marie team last night, winning by a score of twelve to one. The game was marked by much roughing. However, the visitors scored the first goal by pulling Westcott's hair, and other breaches of the peace were numerous, but the visitors wisely avoided the proximity of Dr. Gibson, the big "point" of the locals.

The game was a close one. The visitors scored the first goal after ten minutes' play and never scored again. The locals followed with a second score sixty seconds after face off, and kept on piling up seven scores in first and five in second half. But for the magnificent work of Jones, the visitors' goal score would have been at least 15 to 1. The Soos are not in the championship class this season.

Our resident New York buyer attended the sale of the smoke-damaged stock of Messrs Simon Sterns & Co. in New York and picked up for us about 500 pieces of beautiful and high class skirts, drawers, gowns and corset covers at much less than their actual worth, simply because the edges in some cases were slightly discolored by smoke.

This purchase was rushed out to us by express and we will place the entire lot on sale Saturday, giving our customers the full benefit of our low purchase price. Remember every piece is absolutely perfect except for slight discoloration which will wash out at the first laundering.

ANOTHER SUIT Against the United States Shipbuilding Company.

New York, Jan. 15.—Another suit has been filed by formal service of papers, added to the list of actions resulting from the collapse of the United States shipbuilding company. The latest is one brought by the Commonwealth Trust company, successor of the Trust company of the Republic, to determine its liability to some of the holders of ad interim stock certificates distributed. It is alleged, by John W. Young, who promoted the underwriting in Paris. Some of the certificate holders alleged that the Trust company of the Republic promised to exchange their certificates for stocks and bonds of the Trust company's successor, it has been asserted repudiated the alleged promise and desires the matter to be settled by the supreme court in a blanket action.

New York, Jan. 15.—After litigation lasting more than a year the dispute as to the division of the estate of the late Theodore Hagaman has been settled. According to Isaac Hagaman and Maria Andrews of New Haven, Conn., and Mrs. Mary Frances Richards of New Haven, Conn., her and sister of Theodore Hagaman, the widow who is now the wife of Dr. Walter Delabarre accepted terms not much different than those offered to her before the case was first taken into court. QUEER PENSION MYSTERY. Discharge Papers Missing and Widow Is Dropped.

Mason City, Iowa, Jan. 15.—Queer things in the pension department are continually arising. One is of interest here. In the early stages of the civil war Samuel Knox enlisted in the service of his country in Company I, Second cavalry, Colorado. Years passed, and as claimed by Alice Knox, she wed the aforesaid mentioned Samuel. By and by, she alleges that Samuel died. He had been a good soldier and she believed she was fairly entitled to a pension. The discharge papers of the deceased were placed in an attorney's hands and a short time later he died. Mrs. Knox placed the matter in the hands of another attorney and search was made for the discharge papers, but they could not be found. Meanwhile the government looked into the matter and they found that down in Missouri a Samuel Knox was living, and that during his life he had drawn a pension; that he had died and that his widow was drawing a pension, claiming to be the widow of Samuel Knox, Company I, Second Colorado. For the last fifteen years the chairman of the Soldiers' Relief of this county has been extending aid to Mrs. Alice Knox, believing that she was the lawful wife of Samuel Knox, but now after these many years, they must relinquish their care of her through inability to secure the necessary evidence. It is believed that the discharge papers given the Iowa attorney who first took up the case might have fallen into the hands of the Missouri party.

OLD LOVE
KINDLED*When Orr's Divorced Wife
Read Story of His Affliction.*She Persuades Him to Flee From the Blind Hospital.

Cincinnati, Jan. 15.—Detectives are securing the country in an effort to locate Louis H. Orr, son of Gen. W. P. Orr, one of the wealthiest and most influential citizens of Ohio.

With him is supposed to be his divorced wife, as the two have disappeared completely as if the earth had swallowed them.

Until last Saturday night young Orr was in a private hospital in this city under the care of a specialist, and since then not a trace of him has been obtained. On Saturday afternoon the young man received a telegram containing this terse message: "Have arrived," and signed "May." To the nurse who had him in charge and to his physician Orr said nothing of his intention.

That night shortly after the nurse had visited his room at 10 o'clock and when the entire establishment, except the night nurses were wrapped in slumber, the patient dressed quietly, even packing a few necessities in a dress suit case, and stealthily left the house.

To conceal his absence as long as possible, Orr went so far as to arrange his bed clothes in such a manner as to lead a casual observer to believe that he was still occupying his bed.

By this clever ruse his flight was not discovered until morning. His parents in Ohio were notified at once and a quiet search has since been going on, which has proved unavailing. Owing to the fact, however, that young Orr is almost blind, it is a certainty that a clue to his whereabouts will be obtained before many hours.

It is due to this affliction that the young man was in Cincinnati. Six months ago he went to the Pacific coast for recuperation. About a month ago, while seated in his room in a San Francisco hotel, he was idly gazing at a clock that hung suspended from an opposite wall. Suddenly the clock disappeared, and as his gaze wandered around the room he also saw that the furniture was not to be seen. In a flash the truth with stunning force came upon him, and he realized that he was stricken blind. He groped his way to electric button when he found that no response came to his shrieks, and when at last porters and bell boys rushed to his aid they found him on the verge of frenzy.

A telegram to the father sent him to his son's side as fast as a train could carry him, and he was brought to this city and to the hospital, from which he took his unceremonious leave.

During the time of his stay he was receiving such careful attention that the hope soon arose that within a few weeks the sight of one eye, if not of both, would be partially restored under residential treatment. His physician and parents were therefore doubly astonished to hear of his sudden flight. When finally they detected his physician who had left in charge assisted in the search by employing detectives in this city, they visited every hotel and private boarding house to find the couple, but without securing the slightest clue to their whereabouts.

The register at the St. Nicholas, however, does not bear Mrs. Orr's name, nor could any trail of her be found at other hotels.

Before her marriage twelve years ago to young Orr, Mrs. Orr was Miss May Warren. She comes of a well-to-do family of Ohio, and has figured prominently in the society of that town. Her wedded bliss was not of long duration. In fact, a few months after the wedding the wife was unable to tolerate young Orr's misconduct and was forced to appeal to the courts. For good and sufficient reasons she was granted a divorce. Since then she has lived at New York with her mother. Last Saturday, having given out that she was going to New York, Mrs. Orr left Ohio. She came directly to Cincinnati having wired her husband and in some way communicated with him and arranged for their flight.

A pathetic story of the way in which Orr lost his sight in San Francisco, it is supposed that his wife read this account and her sympathy and the old love for her husband were revived. Anyway, she succeeded in getting him out of the hospital and in completely concealing their whereabouts from relatives and a large force of clever detectives. There is an idea that Mrs. Orr, with her blind charge, took the first train out of Cincinnati for the East, and by this time they are hidden somewhere in New York.

The efforts of Chief Mulliken to locate the couple have been enlisted, and the case put under the direction of Detective McDermott.

STROKES IT
RICH*Col. Michael Dady Finds
Asphalt In Cardenas
Harbor.*Expects to Make Fortune
Out of His Contract.

Havana, Cuba, Jan. 15.—Col. Michael J. Dady, the well known Brooklyn politician, has struck an asphalt bed in the waters of Cardenas harbor. He has the contract to dredge out the harbor of Cardenas in order that ocean-going vessels can load there the sugar annually produced in the Matanzas and Santa Clara districts tapped by the Cardenas and Cienfuegos railroads. The contract made with him just prior to American military evacuation, was confirmed by President Palma immediately upon the organization of the republic here.

While the work of deepening the channel there approaching the great railway warehouses and sugar docks has been most tedious—costing far more than had been estimated by the original estimates of the engineers engaged to draw the plans, Col. Dady has been constant in effort to comply with his agreement, and, so far, success has crowned his efforts.

Some months ago his superintendent reported that the excavations made by the big dredge in the main channel consisted of a pebbly substance—neither soft mud nor rocky in character, which was wont to clog the nozzle and suckers, and forced him to employ his cutting knives of his dredges, and such other machinery with which it came in contact.

A specialist was engaged to examine and analyze the nature of the dredge and he has pronounced the strange substance to be high class asphalt. So, now, Col. Dady, instead of dumping such material at sea, is having it carefully unloaded from the scows, and will ship it to the United States of Europe, to be marketed.

Col. Dady is under contract for a period of years to keep the channel clear, and with an average depth of water upon the bar equal to that found there upon the day he completes the original dredging contract and turns it over to the Cuban authorities, and prior to the discovery of the true character of these pitchy sediments he had feared the compromise might be made with his shrewdly reasoned but now having "struck oil," as it were, in the harbor, he expects, upon the contrary, to make a fortune in Cardenas bay.

His engineers recently have been hoping for natural oil upon one of the small islands in the harbor, ceded by the government to the colored for use as a game preserve, but they have kept quiet as to the results so far obtained.

Col. Dady is now in Cuba, a guest of the Infanteria, Havana's leading hotel, in an interview with the press, he proposed to spend some time upon the island looking over the city, and over matters of state and municipal, in which he is interested, directly or otherwise.

Among those who have mentioned the Cardenas harbor work, Santiago and Cienfuegos, and the projected repavement of Havana itself.

half an old plug that was about ready for the fertilizer man. A few cents was invested in the plug and the rest in transforming the plug into the finest looking horse on the race track.

The horse was shirvelled from age, and the pumpkin seed shaped teeth, indicative of age in the horse, were filed down.

Even the "cups" which show in a young horse were imitated in a manner to arouse the envy of nature.

Then the long, ungainly hoofs were filed down and polished to the brilliancy of youth.

When Wilson had finished his job of converting old age into youth, he had as a result a looking horse as was ever seen. Not a crease or a wrinkle appeared in the animal's body.

To the horse market the horse was led and attracted the eyes of all buyers. It was knocked down at a bargain for $25.

The purchaser was proud of his new animal, and plainly showed it as he led it away. Wilson grinned as the $25 was handed to him.

In a short time the purchaser of the horse noticed that the race aging rapidly, and within a few days it was a shrunk old nag. The paraffine had gradually melted and disappeared.

Then he had Dudley arrested.

KISSED HIS HORSE
And Tied Up Traffic In Cleveland Street.

Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 15.—The spectacle of a man making love to a horse was seen on the Superior street viaduct.

Incidentally traffic was tied up for nearly half an hour, and the horse lover was nearly mobbed by motorists, conductors and teamsters. Michael Jersky, a peddler, acquired a "jak," and while driving over the viaduct was overcome with a feeling of love for his horse. Jersky got down from the seat of the wagon and unharnessed the horse right in the middle of the car tracks.

Then Michael put his arms around the horse's neck and called the beast all sorts of endearing names. He even kissed the animal and wept. Patrolman Hyman happened along and arrested him.

SUIT REVEALED
Couple Had Not Spoken In Five Years.

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 15.—That a man and his wife can maintain a position in society, live under the same roof, dine at the same table and attend the same church without speaking a word to each other for five years was a surprise to society people who heard the testimony of witnesses in the Coulter divorce case.

Dr. P. E. Coulter, one of the fashionable physicians of the city, and Mrs. Coulter fulfilled the conditions mentioned. What further surprised the fashionable folk, who were not intimately acquainted with the Coulters, was that for five years, according to the testimony, Mrs. Coulter did the servant's duties in the household for servant's wages, at her own request, so that she need not ask her husband for money.

Another feature of the Coulter relationship was that Mrs. Coulter had to receive her friends in summer time on the back porch, because the doctor used the front porch as a reception room for his callers.

The testimony disclosed still another reason for Mrs. Coulter's preference for the back porch, and that was that she usually wore servant's apparel doing the housework and could not entertain in front consequently.

Dr. Coulter admitted while testifying that he was in the habit of spending considerable sums of money in London while he practiced at a hospital there, entertaining nurses at theater parties, while Mrs. Coulter was at home doing the work.

It was this that led Mrs. Coulter to refuse to sit in the same pew at church with her husband.

CURTAINS OF GLASS.
Invention From Bavaria That Improves on Asbestos.

New York, Jan. 15.—Glass for fireproof theater curtains to take the place of asbestos is a proposition coming as the result of a discovery by Bavarian glass-makers.

A product of one Bavarian factory, it is announced, is malleable as any metal, as well as capable of being drawn out in sheets or threads, and is absolutely non-breakable.

Cooking utensils made of the new material stand the heat of fire without cracking or melting.

An extraordinary test to which the new glass has been submitted is that of patching a fest which cannot be accomplished with any glass made in America. A plate of the Bavarian glass has been bored, it is said, and then the hole plugged with the molten composition. The result is a smooth, impervious patch, different in every respect from the result obtained by cement.

A VERY CLOSE CALL.
"I stuck to my engine, although every cog and wheel of my nerves was racked with pain," writes C. W. Bellamy, a locomotive fireman of Burlington, Iowa. "I was weak and pale, without any appetite and all run down. As I was about to give up, I got a bottle of Electric Bitters, and after taking it, I felt as well as I ever did in my life. AFFAIRS OF QUICK TIME CITY MADE Commercial Club to Have a Committee of Public Service.

Will Give Its Attention to Work of the Municipality.

The directors of the Fourth Commercial club, feeling that the interests of Duluth demand a committee which will work in line with the desire of the members of the Commercial club to assist in putting Duluth upon a higher plane than that of the same of other larger cities.

A committee of this kind is now doing good work in every large city of the country and the action of the directors is in line with the desire of the members of the Commercial club to assist in putting Duluth upon a higher plane than that of the same of other larger cities.

Secretary Robert V. Ewa yesterday sent out letters to all of the appointees notifying them that they had been chosen to act on the committee. It is thought that all of these named will accept at once and that the organization of the committee will be effected at once.

Upon receipt of the letters from those to whom letters were sent an informal banquet will be held for the members of the committee and the directors. At this banquet all of the details of the future work of the committee will be outlined and plans made for carrying them into execution.

The committee will pay attention to the most part to the public work of the city and it is thought that its influence will be felt for the better soon after its organization. In the past the Commercial club has held meetings at regular intervals at which all public questions regarding work being done by the city may be discussed.

THE BURR CONSPIRACY.

It is nearly 100 years since the ending of the great treason trial at Richmond, with the acquittal of Aaron Burr. Yet speculation as to the exact nature of the conspiracy has not yet ended, according to the Kansas City Star. An important and original contribution to the subject has recently been made by Dr. Walter F. McCaleb, based on extensive researches in material hitherto little used.

While Burr has always been regarded as an unscrupulous and base adventurer, with treasonable designs against the government, his project was so unusual and was clothed in such mystery that it has remained a most attractive subject. There was plenty of evidence that Burr was plotting a filibustering expedition into the Spanish colony of Mexico, and that he intended to make himself chief—either president or emperor—of the new government. As to just what further move Burr contemplated Jefferson himself was doubtful.

In his proclamation, issued Nov. 27, 1806, the president had announced the discovery of a proposed expedition into the Spanish dominion, and had called upon all good citizens to withdraw from the project. In April of the next year he had written to his minister at Madrid that Burr at first had contemplated "a separation of the Western country," but that when he had found the patriotism of that section incorruptible, he had abandoned his original plan, and had organized an attack on Mexico. But two months later, while the treason trial was in progress, Jefferson adopted the view, which has been generally accepted, that Burr had "combined the object of separating the Western states from us, of adding Mexico to them, and of placing himself at their head."

The president's chief informant was Gen. Wilkinson. This man, however,

Chief Clerk F. L. Bannon Joins Ranks of the Benedicts.

Martin Adson West Bound Rate Sheet Is Issued.

St. Paul, Jan. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Chief Clerk F. L. Bannon, chief clerk in the freight department of the general agent's office of the Great Northern road, took a vacation yesterday and went to St. Paul.

There was nothing unusual about this but when his friends looked on the Spalding hotel register this morning and saw that he had returned from his vacation, they immediately surmised that something had occurred without their knowledge.

One after another the railroad men in Duluth were informed that Mr. Bannon had jumped from the pool of bachelorhood into the wide sea of matrimonial bliss and now in his office in the Spalding hotel.

For a long time Mr. Bannon's friends have held an innumerable reception and held an innumerable reception and held an innumerable reception.

Day before yesterday he notified the men in the office that he was going down to St. Paul for a day. He promised to get back today. Shortly after 8 o'clock he appeared at the office. He wore on his face a piece of that same smile that won't come off and he chuckled to himself over the way he had fooled the boys in the office.

When those who had caught a glimpse of the hotel register began to arrive Mr. Bannon gave out the information regarding his trip. He had decided that his duties would not allow him to leave his prospective bride decided upon a quiet wedding.

After the marriage cards were mailed to friends on which was engraved a marriage notice to the effect that Festus L. Bannon and Miss Beatrice Cunningham were married Jan. 14 at St. Paul. Mr. and Mrs. Bannon will be at home after Feb. 15 at 12 East First street.

Tired, Nervous Mothers

A nervous, irritable mother, often on the verge of hysterics, is unfit to care for children; it ruins a child's disposition and reacts upon herself. The trouble between children and their mothers too often is due to the fact that the mother has some female weakness, and she is entirely unfit to bear the strain upon her nerves that governing a child involves; it is impossible for her to do anything calmly. She cannot help it, as her condition is due to suffering and shattered nerves caused by some derangement of the uterine system with backache, headache, and all kinds of pain, and she is on the verge of nervous prostration. When a mother finds that she cannot be calm and quiet with her children, she may be sure that her condition needs attention, and she cannot do better than to take

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

It builds up her system, strengthens her nerves, and enables her to calmly handle a disobedient child without a scene. The children will soon realize the difference, and seeing their mother quiet, will themselves become quiet.

Read what the Vice-President of the Mothers' Club at Hot Springs, Ark., says:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will make every mother well, strong, healthy and happy. I dragged through nine years of miserable existence, worn out with pain and weariness. I then noticed a statement of a woman, troubled as I was, and the wonderful results she had obtained from your Compound, and decided to try what it would do for me, and used it for three months. At the end of that time I was a different woman, and the neighbors remarked it, and my husband fell in love with me all over again. It seemed like a new existence. I had been suffering with inflammation and falling of the womb, but your medicine cured that, and built up my entire system, till I was indeed like a new woman. Sincerely yours, Mrs. CHAS. E. BROWN, Vice President Mothers' Club, 21 Cedar Terrace, Hot Springs, Ark."

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I was married for five years and gave premature birth to two children. After that I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it changed me from a weak, nervous woman to a strong, happy, and healthy wife within seven months. Within two years a lovely little girl was born to me, which is the pride and joy of our household. If every woman feels as grateful and happy as I do, you must have a host of friends, for every day I bless you for the light, health, and happiness your Vegetable Compound has brought to my home. Sincerely your friend, Mrs. MAE P. WHARRY, Flat 31, The Norman, Milwaukee, Wis."

DECLINED OFFER

By Robert Bonner of $20,000 For Stallion Hambletonian.

Great Faith of Rysdyk In His Wonderful Horse.

Chester, N. Y., Jan. 14.—"The death of Eugene Horton of Craigville," said William M. Vail of Port Jervis, "recalls to me an interesting incident in the career of the famous sire of trotters Hambletonian. It was never known to any one besides Horton and myself and the others directly interested."

"I lived at Goshen forty years ago, and was in a business that brought me into familiar relations with Robert Bonner, who was then indulging for the first time his taste in fine horses. Hambletonian stock had not yet acquired more than a local fame, although Dexter and George Wilkes were soon to give it worldwide reputation. "The most conspicuous son of Hambletonian up to that time was Edsall Hambletonian, who was purchased from Major Edsall at Goshen two or three years before the civil war and taken to Kentucky, where, as Alexander's Adair, he was stolen by guerrillas. Hambletonian was at Chester, where Bill Rysdyk, his owner, was struggling under a load of debt, with prospects anything but bright, so far as his friends could see. "Robert Bonner had come into Orange county several times looking up chances for getting hold of fine and fast stock, as Orange county was noted for good horses, even before the days of Hambletonian, and he had made the acquaintance of Rysdyk and visited his stables at Chester.

"One day after returning to New York from a visit to Hambletonian, Bonner wrote to me and told me to go to Chester and buy the stallion from Rysdyk for him, and enclosed a check to pay for it, the size of which simply took my breath away. "Well, said I to myself, I guess Bill Rysdyk hadn't worry much about the future now."

"I didn't know anything about buying horses, though, but my friend, Gene Horton, did, and so I got him to go with me to Chester and do the negotiating for it. It never struck me for a minute that we would have to pay as much for the horse as Bonner's check called for. A short time before that, George M. Patchen had been sold for as large a sum, but Patchen was the crack horse of the time and had made a great record on the track and won much money for his owner.

"Horton and I drove down to Chester with no other thought in the world than that we were to amaze Rysdyk with the good fortune that was coming to him and make him happy. We found him and his wife at home, and after a while, Patchen, the purpose of our errand and told him we had come to buy his horse, if he was willing to take a fair price for him."

"Rysdyk had married his second wife not long before that. She was a very plump lady, and a member of one of the best Orange county families. "It was well known that she did not approve of her husband's keeping a stallion, and was anxious to have him get rid of the horse. She seemed overjoyed when she learned what we had come for, and she turned to Rysdyk and said: "You will sell him, of course, William. If you get a fair price for him, won't you?"

"To my surprise, Rysdyk manifested no enthusiasm or curiosity, but calmly remarked that he didn't care particularly about selling the horse, but he might sell him if he got anywhere near a good offer for him. He was as aggressively stolid and unconcerned in discussing the matter that by and by Gene Horton couldn't hold in any longer, and he took Bonner's check, and thrust it in Rysdyk's hand and exclaimed: "Well, there, then! There's what will give you for your horse! I guess you'll think that comes pretty near being a fair offer. Twenty thousand dollars!"

"Mrs. Rysdyk rose from her chair with her hands clasped before her, and I thought for a moment that she was going to swoon, but presently she gasped: "Twenty thousand dollars! Twenty thousand dollars! Then she burst into tears, and, turning to her husband, exclaimed: "Oh, William! It will pay everything and leave us a fortune besides!"

"For she had no more idea than we had that he wouldn't simply over-whelm with the offer and welcome it, but he sat and calmly and coolly read the check, turned it over once or twice, and then handed it back to Horton. "No, sir," said he, "Twenty thousand dollars is a pretty good offer, but why that horse Patchen brought as much as that the other day, and there's nothing to him except that he can trot a good race and had made some money. "But I have got the greatest horse in the world," he said, "and he is going to leave the greatest line of horses the world has ever known."

"I don't care about selling him at all, but I wouldn't look at a cent less than $20,000, and I don't know that I would look at that!"

"Here was a man, poor, almost crushed by the price of one horse, and a fortune as the price of one horse, and in spite of our persuasive arguments and the tearful pleadings of his wife, he persisted in his refusal to accept $20,000 for Hambletonian. "I don't care about selling him at all, but I wouldn't look at a cent less than $20,000, and I don't know that I would look at that!"

THE TRADE OF KOREA

Amounts to About Fifteen Million Dollars Per Annum. About One-Third Passes Through the Treaty Ports.

FROM THE HERALD WASHINGTON BUREAU.

Washington, Jan. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Korean commerce amounts according to a statement just issued by the department of commerce and labor through its bureau of statistics, for about fifteen million dollars per annum. Imports materially exceed exports, and according to the best statement that the bureau of statistics is able to obtain amount to about ten million dollars, and the exports to about five millions. While in the past the direct trade of the United States with Korea has been small, the country is rapidly becoming one of the largest foreign markets of the United States, and the direct trade of the United States with Korea is rapidly becoming one of the largest foreign markets of the United States.

The trade of Korea with Japan is growing more rapidly than with any other country. The exportation of cotton goods from Japan amounting to 2,000,000 yen annually. Cotton goods are the largest single article in the value of imports into Korea, amounting to between 6,000,000 and 7,000,000 yen annually. Silk goods amount to about 1,500,000 yen per annum. The chief articles of export are rice, 4,000,000 yen in value, beans, 600,000 yen; hides, 400,000 yen; and ginseng, 250,000 yen.

The minerals of Korea are of considerable value. Copper, iron and coal are reported as abundant, and gold and silver mines are being successfully operated. An American company having charge of and operating a gold mine at the treaty port of Wonsan. A concession granted in 1895. Concessions have also been granted to Russian, German, Japanese and French subjects.

Railways, telegraphs, telephones and a postal system have been recently introduced into Korea. A railway from the seaport of Chemulpo to Seoul, the capital, a distance of twenty-six miles, was built by American contractors, and has reduced the time between the seaport and capital from eight hours to one and three-quarter hours. The Seoul Electric company, organized chiefly by Americans and with American capital, has built and operated an electrical railway, near Seoul, which is much patronized by the natives. This electrical plant is said to be the largest single electrical plant in Asia. The machinery is imported from the United States, and the consulting engineer, a Japanese, is a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Transportation in the interior is chiefly carried on by porters, pack horses and oxen, though small river steamers, owned by Japanese, run on such of the streams as are of sufficient size to justify the use of steamers. The area of Korea is estimated at 22,000 square miles, or about equal to that of the state of Kansas. The population is variously estimated at from 4,000,000 to 16,000,000. The foreign population consists of about 20,000 Japanese, 5000 Chinese, 300 Americans, 100 British, 100 French, 100 Russians, 50 Germans, and about 10 of various other nationalities. The postal system is under French direction and has, in addition to the central bureau at Seoul, 37 postal stations in full operation, and 326 sub-stations for registered correspondence.

deated, many of these articles from the United States consumed in Korea are sent first to Japan or China and from those countries shipped into Korea. The value of American petroleum consumed in Korea in 1891 is stated at over $200,000; machinery and supplies, $250,000; and electrical goods and lumber, $250,000. These importations of merchandise from the United States were due in part, largely, perhaps, to the presence of Americans engaged in mining operations in Korea and the purchase by them in the United States of machinery and supplies for that work.

The Statesman's Yearbook puts the total trade passing through the "treaty ports" of Korea at ten million yen of imports and about nine million yen of exports in 1897, but only nine million yen of imports, but only nine million yen of exports, thus indicating the growth, especially of imports, which in 1891 were over 60 per cent in excess of those of 1887. These figures, however, relate to the treaty ports only. The value of the yen is about 30 cents, or practically identical in value with the Japanese yen.

The imports are chiefly cotton and wooden goods, metals, kerosene, silk, and machinery for the use of the railways and those engaged in agriculture and construction. The chief exports are rice, beans, hides, ginseng, and copper. The value of exports in 1897 was about $22,000,000, of which $5,000,000 is copper cash, $14,000,000 nickel, $1,500,000 Japanese coins, and $250,000 Korean silver dollars.

Eight ports of Korea are open to foreign trade and are called "treaty ports." Treaties were made between Korea and the United States in 1855, and the same year with China, in 1858 with Germany and Great Britain, in 1860 with Russia and Italy, in 1866 with France, in 1892 with Austria, and in 1893 a further treaty with China. Under these treaties Chemulpo, Fusan, Wonsan, Seoul (Whidoh), Chinnampo, Mokpo, Songchin, Masampo, and Kusan have been opened to trade. The actual trade through the treaty ports, however, is, as already indicated, much greater than that through the treaty ports, and the bulk of the trade is carried on through the interior of the country.

HAVE LIVED IN SECLUSION

For Thirty Years and No One Knows the Reason.

Owensboro, Ky., Jan. 15.—With the body of their oldest sister laid out in the parlor of a big, old-fashioned Southern house, the others of the most remarkable quartet of women that have ever lived in Kentucky kept vigil in an adjoining apartment through the hours of a wild, stormy night. Neighbors went to the house and offered to watch by the body of the dead woman, but they were refused admittance. The sisters said they wanted to spend the last night with their loved one as they have spent all other nights for the last 30 years.

The following morning an undertaker entered the house and took charge of the body. Followed only by the sisters, it was taken to the cemetery. Since the early '70s the four Delon sisters, natives all of them, had lived in the house in which they were born, with not even a servant about the place, and it was only at the rarest intervals that outsiders were admitted there. It was Miss Mary, the oldest, who died. She was 73 years of age. The surviving sisters are Syl, Amette and Victoria. They are of French parentage and their father was at the court of Napoleon.

For two decades before the war between the states the Delons were among the most prominent and exclusive people in this section. The young women, all of them cultured and beautiful, were social favorites. The transition from belles to hermits came gradually and nobody seems to know just how or why the women secluded themselves. The actual trade through the treaty ports, however, is, as already indicated, much greater than that through the treaty ports, and the bulk of the trade is carried on through the interior of the country.

BORN IN JAIL. This Little Girl Knows No Other Home. Reading, Pa., Jan. 15.—Alma Edwards, 25 years old, who was born in the Berks county jail, and who has lived there all her life, had a happier holiday than many children in outside homes. She is the daughter of Mrs. Kate Edwards, convicted of the murder of her husband, John Edwards, at Stouchsburg, several years ago.

The little girl has become a general favorite with the prison inspectors, officials and visitors at the institution. During Christmas week she was deluged with toys, including a doll, a horse, a sheep and a sheep that bleats. These toys she carried around the jail and showed to the prisoners. In all her jail life she has never been allowed to see Samuel Green, her mother's lover, who is under sentence of life imprisonment for the same crime. While Mrs. Edwards and Green are growing fat in the hands of the galleys, the child is joyously prattling about the prison corridors by day and sleeping in her mother's cell by night.

Frequently she calls to her mother to come to the wardens' room, and is greatly disappointed when Mrs. Edwards tells her that she cannot.

RHEUMATISM NOT A SKIN DISEASE.

It is natural to rub the spot that hurts, and when rheumatic pains are shooting through the joints and muscles and they are inflamed and sore, the sufferer is apt to turn to liniments and plasters for relief; and while such treatment may quiet the pain temporarily, no amount of rubbing or blistering can cure Rheumatism, because it is not a skin disease, but is in the blood and all through the system, and every time you are exposed to the same conditions that caused the first attack, you are going to have another, and Rheumatism will last just as long as the poison is in the blood, no matter what you apply externally. Too much acid in the blood is one cause of Rheumatism; stomach troubles, bad digestion, weak kidneys and torpid liver are other causes which bring on this painful disease, because the blood becomes tainted with the poisonous matter which these organs fail to carry out of the system. Certain secret diseases will produce Rheumatism, and of all forms this is the most stubborn and severe, for it seems to affect every bone and muscle in the body. The blood is the medium by which the poisons and acids are carried through the system, and it doesn't matter what kind of Rheumatism you have it must be treated through the blood, or you can never get permanently rid of it. As a cure for rheumatic troubles S. S. S. has never been equalled. It doesn't inflame the stomach and ruin the digestion like Potash, Alkalies and other strong drugs, but tones up the general health, gently stimulates the sluggish organs, and at the same time antiodotes and filters out of the blood all poisonous acids and effete matter of every kind; and when S. S. S. has restored the blood to its natural condition, the painful, feverish joints and the sore and tender muscles are immediately relieved.

Our special book on Rheumatism will be mailed free to those desiring it. Our physicians will cheerfully answer all letters asking for special information or advice, for which no charge is made.

PRESIDENT ACCUSED

Of Discriminating Against Independent 'Phone Concerns. Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 15.—The independent telephone interests of the whole country may soon become involved in a fierce war with President Roosevelt and Postmaster General Payne over the order recently issued by the latter that but one telephone company's service would be allowed at any one postoffice, and that the company furnishing long-distance service to Washington should be patronized by the department. Independent telephone men throughout the country are bringing the question to the attention of their representatives in congress.

President Dickson of the Cuyahoga Telephone company, dictated a personal letter to President Roosevelt protesting against the alleged discrimination, and asked that his company be given fair play.

We have five children and have given it to all of them with good results. One good feature of this remedy is that it is not dangerous, and to take and our babies really like it. There is no risk from giving an overdose. I congratulate you upon the success of your remedy. For sale by all druggists."

QUARRELS BETWEEN

Mabel Bechtel Swore Frightfully at Brother, Neighbors Say.

Examination of Witnesses at Murder Trial Continues.

Allentown, Pa., Jan. 15.—In the trial today of Mrs. Catherine Bechtel as an accessory after the fact to the murder of her daughter, Mabel, counsel for the defense, Mr. Schadt, continued the cross-examination of Mrs. Margaret Miller, who was on the witness stand when court adjourned yesterday. Mrs. Miller testified that she observed three blood spots on the sidewalk directly in front of the Bechtel home. She also saw tracks made by carriage wheels, in rear of the Bechtel house after Mabel's body was found, and hoof marks, which looked as though the horse had stood at the spot.

Witness said that it was a fact that Tom Bechtel did not talk to Mabel, and that he hardly spoke to any member of the family.

What did Mrs. Bechtel say about Tom, asked Mr. Schadt?

"She often said: 'I've got a deaf and dumb boy,'" replied Mrs. Miller.

How was Mrs. Bechtel toward Mabel?

She was too good to her. Mabel controlled her mother and did as she pleased.

Did Mabel ever quarrel with her mother?

"Oh, yes, sir, she used to swear at her something dreadful."

Was she ever in the district attorney's office, asked Mr. Schadt?

Mrs. Miller said she found a pair of overalls in her yard on the day following the murder, but she could not say they were Thomas Bechtel's. She noticed some spots on the garment which looked like blood, but she did not know.

Witness testified that Mrs. Bechtel and Mabel frequently quarreled about Weisenberg, the man who was objecting to her daughter associating with him.

Mrs. Lizzie Weiland, who lives in the house adjacent to the Bechtel home, testified that only a thin partition separated the two dwellings, and that she could easily distinguish the voices of the Bechtels in conversation. She said she heard nothing unusual on the night of the murder, but she could not say she heard anything from the dogs in the yard of the Bechtel house.

Coroner Scheller testified that rigor mortis was not in the body of Mabel Bechtel. He said the wound had evidently been inflicted by a long knife, the blade of which he found a pint of blood under the wounds of the forehead. The wounds as though they had been washed.

ANGLING FOR BIG FISH.

Rods are not put away during the winter in Southern California, for there are the whitefish, the shinerhead and the rock bass always to be had offshore. As spring comes on there is greater activity and the best fishing. The best sport is in the spring and summer, where the black bass and the big game fish are taken. The fish is tempered by the semi-tropic sun, and the shore is swarming with bait, says cutting.

The tuna is game for the veteran, but the inexperienced angler may work up to it by practicing on albacore, a gamey collection in the sea. The albacore, California islands the year around. A 12-pound fish towed an angler three miles before it could be brought to land. If larger game is desired without the excitement of the chase, the blue fish of the bass affords it. This is the giant of the sea, and it is the most difficult to catch. The record and catch with 21-throw line is a 22-pound fish caught by Edward Edwards, a local fisherman, at the end of the pier. The fish was 21 inches long, weighed 22 pounds, and was the largest of its kind. The fish was taken in the bay, and the record is a 21-throw line. The fish was taken in the bay, and the record is a 21-throw line.

the gaff its ponderous tail raises, and angler and gaffer are swept with a small tidal wave. It rises, plunges, tips the boat dangerously, and must be killed before it is brought in, then almost filling the boat. Little wonder that those who sail to see such catches are affected with doubts, as the black sea huss is stupendous, and when hung up at the stand of the gaffer, with the thread-like line dangling from its mouth, and the split bamboo standing against it, it seems incomprehensible that these trifles have killed so powerful, so gigantic a fish.

TWENTY-FIRST YEAR.

LAST EDITION.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 16, 1904.

SOCIETY.

TWO CENTS.

PROTESTANTS WILL TRY TO PROVE SMOOT GUILTY OF ENDORSING POLYGAMY

Senate Committee Meets to Hear Evidence Concerning Charge.

The Attorneys For Opponents State What They Expect to Show.

Washington, Jan. 16.—The senate committee on privileges and elections met today to hear the attorneys on both sides of the case involving the right of Senator Smoot of Utah to occupy his seat. Former Representative Taylor of Ohio was heard for some of the Protestants and T. P. Stephenson for those who are representing the national reform association. A. S. Worthington, and Waldemar Van Cott were present on behalf of Senator Smoot, who also was in attendance.

The first presentation was made by Mr. Taylor, who began his statement by saying that he did not know that any proof would be presented in support of the charge that Smoot was a polygamist. He took up the question of the rights of the senate to expel a member, contending that the senate's authority in the matter was limited only by the question of propriety. On the point of testimony, Mr. Taylor said the Protestants expected to prove the following charges:

1.—The Mormon priesthood, according to the doctrine of the church and the belief and practice of its membership, is vested with, and assumes the exercise of supreme authority, in all things temporal and spiritual, civil and political. The head of the church claims to receive divine revelation, and these revelations are by his covenants and obligations to be accepted and obeyed.

2.—The first presidency and twelve apostles, of whom Reed Smoot is one, is supreme in exercising the authority of the church and in the transmission of the authority to their successors. Each of them is clothed with power, and each is to be obeyed.

3.—As shown by their teaching and by their own lives, this body of men has not abandoned belief in polygamy and polygamous cohabitation.

On the contrary, as the ruling authorities of the church they promulgate in the most solemn manner the doctrine of polygamy without reserve. They have not only promulgated this doctrine, but have taken polygamous wives since the manifesto of 1890. These things have been done with the knowledge and countenance of Reed Smoot, plural marriage ceremonies having been performed by apostles since the manifesto of 1890, and many bishops and other high officials of the church have taken plural wives since that time. All of the first presidency and the twelve apostles encourage, countenance and assist in the practice of polygamy and polygamous cohabitation and honor and reward by high office and distinguished position the men who most persistently and defiantly violate the law of the land.

Though pleaded by the Mormon apostles and bound by the law of their commonwealth, this supreme body, whose voice is to be obeyed, have refused to pass a law nullifying the statute against polygamous cohabitation.

For all these things Reed Smoot is responsible in law and in conscience to this body and to the American people.

In connection with the third specification, Mr. Taylor gave a list of the documents received by the Mormon church as inspired.

In reply, Mr. Worthington said the statements made by Mr. Taylor differ very materially from the charges made in the formal statement of the Mormon church, and he asked the committee to make a reply, which was granted.

Mr. Worthington agreed that there was no limit to the power of the senate to pass upon the constitutionality of its own members, but he insisted that the jurisdiction is limited. He laid down the general proposition that the senate was without jurisdiction of offenses which may have been committed in connection with his election.

"Do you mean," asked Senator Pettus, a member of the committee, "that this body is not permitted to inquire as to any moral quality as one of its members, with a view to his expulsion?"

EMPEROR WILLIAM AS KING OF PRUSSIA OPENS THE DIET

Introduces New Ceremonial For His Appearance and Delivers a Speech, In Which He Refers to the Improvement in Economic Situation of Prussia.

Berlin, Jan. 16.—The newly-elected Prussian diet was opened today by Emperor William, king of Prussia, who read the speech from the throne in a full, resonant voice, which was heard clearly throughout the spacious white hall of the castle.

The emperor introduced a ceremonial not previously used by him or by his predecessors at the opening of the diet. He entered the hall preceded by two heralds, wearing tabards chequered with the royal arms and quarterings in white, black and blue and red and gold, one of the hereditary colors of the Hohenzollern arms and the emperor carrying a banner which bore the words "For Prussia." A long train of princes followed, including the Crown Prince Frederick William, prince of Prussia, and Prince Albert of Prussia, and Chancellor Von Buelow.

In the speech, which only concerned domestic affairs, the king thanked Providence for his speedy restoration to health and expressed gratitude for that no matter what he did or said before his election, the election purified him.

Mr. Worthington replied that such was his meaning, and he quoted the action of the senate in the Roach case and the position of the house in the Roberts case in support of this view.

In reply to a question from Senator Pettus as to what would be the effect if the offense should be of a continuing character, Mr. Worthington admitted that the senate would have jurisdiction.

He also said, replying to Senator Beveridge, that it was not intended to admit that his client had been guilty of offense prior to his election.

Senator McComas asked whether there was anyone present who appeared for the person who charges Mr. Smoot with being a polygamist.

No one answered, and Mr. Worthington said that if anyone did appear to support that charge, it must be borne in mind that Mr. Smoot has positively denied it.

He referred to Mr. Smoot's answer, setting forth the circumstances of his marriage which Mr. Worthington said is the only marriage he has ever contracted.

Mr. Worthington referred to the charge that Mr. Smoot took an oath to support the church in connection with his election in 1890 as an apostle of the Mormon church. The oath taken by Mr. Smoot, a senator had been declared, he said, incompatible with the former oath, and continued Mr. Worthington, "If anyone has proof that this is a violation of the oath, let it be produced."

If this charge could be supported, it would convict Mr. Smoot of acting in a manner which would be in violation of the compact between Utah and the United States, before which Utah was admitted into the union as a state. These charges, he argued, demanded proof, for if it can be shown that Mr. Smoot had furthered a movement to promote polygamy contrary to this act, "then the United States would be bound to expel him."

Mr. Van Cott made a statement in Senator Smoot's behalf. He said Senator Smoot had nothing to do with the manifesto of 1890, the building bill, the legislature and should not be charged with it.

He invited the fullest inquiry into Senator Smoot's life.

"We throw down the bars," he said, "and invite you to investigate his entire career."

He went on to say that he had never seen any evidence against the law, his counsel will throw up their hands and walk out. "We also will throw down the bars as to Mr. Smoot's moral character."

Senator McComas asked whether it was true that the apostles take a secret oath and that the apostles take a secret oath and that the apostles take a secret oath.

He then entered into an argument to show the propriety of investigating the relations of other people to the charges made against Senator Smoot.

CONCILIATORS CANNOT AGREE

Judge Gray Is Asked to Appoint an Umpire.

Five Grievances of Coal Miners Are Unsettled.

Hazleton, Pa., Jan. 15.—T. D. Nichols, secretary of the conciliation board, has sent a request to Judge George Gray, of the third judicial district, for the appointment of an umpire to decide five grievances from the Wyoming and Lackawanna districts which the conciliators have been unable to agree.

They are:

Grievance of the company miners at the No. 1 and 2 collieries of the Pennsylvania Coal company and Dunmore, who worked eight hours a day for some years prior to the award of the strike commission, but who have since been put on a nine-hour day without receiving any extra pay, thus reducing their hourly rate of wages.

The case of Charles Dickson against the Pennsylvania Coal company, who alleges that he was suspended thirty days because he tacked up on the property of the company a meeting notice of his local, of which he is president.

Complaint of the contract miners of the Delaware and Hudson colliery, Plymouth, who object to the system of laying rails, which were heretofore set in the center, but are now carried on the side of the plane, causing them to claim, unnecessary additional labor.

Petition of the runners in the same colliery for a standard system of work so that men performing the same kind of labor receive the same pay, and the grievance of the miners at the No. 6 colliery of the Pennsylvania Coal company, at Pittston, where the company has refused to collect from more than the exact amount of wages to be paid every month for a check weighman.

The men ask that the company permit them to accumulate a surplus during times of steady work for the check weighman fund, and draw on it when work is slack and the earnings of the employees are low.

THE KELLIHER FIGHT ENDED

The Couple Who Cleaned Out Gambling House Surrenders.

Justice Fined Them and Drove Them Out of Town.

St. Paul, Jan. 16.—A special to the Dispatch from Black Duck, Minn., says: Word has been received here that Kelliher, the new town on the International border north of here, that William Plummer and his wife, who drove the proprietor and inmates of a gambling resort out of the place at the muzzle of their guns, Thursday night, and who held the place against a posse of citizens, surrendered today. They were taken before a justice of the peace and given the alternative of paying $15, all the money they had, and at once leaving town, or waiting until the arrival of the sheriff. They decided to leave.

ST. PETERSBURG OFFICIALS SHOW GREAT EXCITEMENT OVER THE REPLY OF JAPAN

SITUATION IN FAR EAST IN A NUTSHELL.

The situation in the far East may be summed up as follows: Japan is dissatisfied with the Russian note and returns it for amendment. According to the declaration of a high official of the foreign office, when the last Russian reply was sent to Japan, Russia had conceded all she possibly could, and while willing to grant small concessions to Japan in Korea, she refuses to discuss the question of Manchuria.

Japan insists in pushing the Manchurian open-door question as a sine qua non, and also with equal insistence urging that she should have assurances of the integrity of Korea and China, to which Russia's consent is impossible.

Russia will reply in a similar tone, and will lay her reasons before the powers justifying her attitude.

EX-ASSISTANT POSTMASTER GENERALS APPEAR AT TRIAL

Johnson and Jones Tell What They Know About the Groff Fasteners and How They Were Ordered In Their Time.

Washington, Jan. 16.—When the trial of August Machen and others in the postoffice cases was resumed today, the cross-examination of former Assistant Postmaster General Johnson was begun. Replying to questions by Mr. Douglas, of counsel for the defense, witness said that in building up the free delivery service, Machen devoted himself to the work, consulting Postmaster General Smith and the first assistant postmaster general (the witness). He said it was necessary to establish new methods. Witness said he regarded Machen as a man of good executive ability. When shown letters by Mr. Douglas and asked to identify signatures, he said he had no reason to believe other than that they were signed by Machen. If the signatures were made by others, Machen should have advised him of the fact.

"When did you first see one of the Groff fasteners?" was asked by Mr. Maddox, counsel for the Groff Bros. "A few days ago," replied witness. He knew what the fasteners were, he said, the various details connected with the office having been explained to him when he took charge of the office, but he did not recall that he had seen one until a few days ago.

Former First Assistant Postmaster General Jones, who served from 1896 to 1897, testified that he gave an order during his term of office for Groff fasteners. He said if orders were given for articles to be used in Machen's division, it was upon Machen's information and recommendations and witness' own judgment.

Papers were identified by witness showing that an order for a test of the Groff fasteners was given in 1896 and another order authorizing payment for number of fasteners to be used in Washington was made in 1897. On cross-examination Mr. Douglas sought to show that after adopting the device and fixing the price therefor, the ordering and installation of fasteners was a matter of routine.

The witness said that although the fasteners had been installed in Washington he held it to be his right, if the question arose as to supplying another city with them, to make a change in the device. In his judgment it was best to do so. Court adjourned until Monday.

SAWMILLS NOT ALLOWED On Chippewa Reservations, Secretary Hitchcock Rules.

Washington, Jan. 16.—Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock has passed upon the petition of Representative A. L. Cole and others who desire to have the logging rules changed so that all pine logs cut on the Chippewa reservation shall be manufactured at sawmills located on the reservation.

Mr. Hitchcock refused to grant the petition. He says that the Morris act gives him the choice of either granting permits for sawmills or not. In the secretary's opinion, it will not be for the best interests of the Indians to have the lumber saved on the reservation.

Mr. Hitchcock holds that it might result in lowering the bids on pine in the future. Mr. Hitchcock also refuses to extend the time for logging. He says that if any emergency arises where it will be necessary to extend the time, action can then be taken.

CASHIER WAS SHORT. Apparently Cause of Suicide of Signourney Man.

Muscatine, Iowa, Jan. 16.—Development today indicate that G. F. Utterback, cashier of the Signourney Savings bank, who committed suicide Monday, was short $47,000 in his accounts. The shortage was the result of speculations.

Utterback blew his brains out just before the time scheduled for him to attend a directors' meeting and make a showing.

Washington, Jan. 16.—The senate committee on foreign relations failed to secure a quorum today for consideration of the Panama canal treaty, and adjourned until Monday.

Constantinople, Jan. 16.—Mutinous Turkish troops have been terrorizing Beirut, Syria, for several days. The mutineers, who number about 1200 men were landed January 11, from Yemen, Arabia, and immediately besieged the governor's palace, demanding the payment of about $50,000 in arrears and threatening otherwise to sack the town. The governor succeeded in pacifying the men and made them daily small advances, borrowed from the branch of the Ottoman bank, until Thursday.

when the bank was closed, owing to it being a holiday. The latest account received here said the mutineers were threatening to sack the bank.

The Brooklyn, flagship of the European squadron, commanded by Rear Admiral Cotton, according to the latest report available is at Beirut, where she arrived January 4, from Alexandria. The San Francisco sailed from Alexandria January 8, for Aboukir Bay, thirteen miles from Alexandria. The Machias was at Jibuti, French Somaliland December 22.

A CAMPAIGN AGAINST USURERS

New York, Jan. 16.—A campaign against usurers is being carried on by the district attorney's forces here which has led to the discovery that many of the money lenders are banded together and have maintained a sort of clearing house to facilitate their operations.

The alluring advertisements offering unsecured loans to persons working on a salary are believed to be fostered by a small group of men whose true identity has been hidden through their employing women to carry on the business. Four of these women are now under arrest and have been held for trial. They are charged with endeavoring to collect interest on loans which in some cases equalled the principal. A few days ago two women were convicted on similar charges and fined heavily.

Mayor Hugo, who is as confident of his election as is the mayor of his, and they are sparing no efforts to make it so, has been the cause of the attention of the managers of "the campaign to hold no general mass meetings, although a few small gatherings might be held, but no large ones," and it is doubtless he called before election day arrives.

Mayor Hugo addressed a meeting of the workers of the Fifth ward last evening, at the headquarters, in the Fifth ward, and he was very successful in the work of the present city administration and urged that the present election should be held on the 2d of January in view of the approaching general election.

Emil Carlson's Sad State—Eric Molen Loses His Cash.

"Was I abusive?" asked Emil Carlson in the municipal court this morning, when asked to plead either guilty or not guilty to the charge of using abusive language.

"Are you guilty or not guilty?" asked Judge Windom.

"I don't know, your honor," was the answer.

"Weren't you there at the time?" asked the court.

"After mature deliberation, Carlson decided to plead guilty and was assessed $5 and costs, which he paid."

"I am afraid to home until he is arrested," said Mrs. Joseph Pelon to Chief Trower this morning.

Mrs. Pelon appeared at police headquarters to secure a warrant for the arrest of her husband on the charge of assault. She claimed that he has ill-treated her.

After swearing out the warrant for the arrest of her husband, Mrs. Pelon stated that she feared her husband's anger too much to go home until he had been lodged in the city jail.

Pelon will be arraigned in the municipal court.

Sixty dollars was the loss sustained by Eric Molen as the result of a single night's spree in Duluth.

He appeared at the police headquarters this morning, claiming he had been robbed.

After a search of his pockets, the police found a roll of bills in his pocket amounting to $60 in addition to some loose change, when he was taken up this morning his financial condition was in that state known as very badly broken.

Detective Terry investigated the case and reported that it was his belief that Molen had lost the money while in an intoxicated condition.

Several of the pockets of the man's clothing were bottomless and as the man himself had no suspicions as to who had robbed him, it is the opinion of the police that the money was lost instead of stolen. A search will be made, however, of the resorts which Molen had visited in the city, in an attempt to recover the money if possible.

The ice rack at this end of the lake has become so thick that the Hon. Amel, of the White Line Transportation company, which is the only boat now running on Lake Superior, is unable to break through it.

The little steamer arrived at the edge of the pack yesterday afternoon and tried to force an entrance into the harbor. The ice was too thick, however, and she was compelled to turn back to Two Harbors.

It was the intention of the owners to lay the boat up here for the winter if she succeeded in making the harbor.

Now, however, she will be compelled to pass the winter in Two Harbors.

She will make one more attempt to force her way into the harbor, but if she fails, she will be compelled to pass the winter in Two Harbors.

LUMBER CUT

Figures For the Duluth District For the Year 1903.

Show About Five Millions Increase Over the Previous Year.

In its annual statistical report issued this week, the American Lumberman of Chicago, one of the leading lumber journals of the West and Northwest, gives the total lumber cut of the mills in the Duluth district as 54,725,000 feet as compared with a total of 50,000,000 feet in the season of 1902.

The increase of nearly 5,000,000 feet in the lumber production of this district last year, over the preceding year, was a surprise to some of the lumber manufacturers who have been predicting that the figures for 1903 would show a decrease from the production of the previous year.

This increase, however, is readily understood when the fact is taken into consideration that the figures represent the cut of all the mills of this district, both on the north shore and on the south shore. While it is true that the lumber cut on the north shore was not as heavy in 1903 as in 1902, there were more interior mills cutting in the district than the previous year and some of the interior mills that have been in existence some years cut much more lumber than ever before.

The lumberman gives the total shingle cut of the Duluth district at 1,361,100,000 in 1903, as compared with 1,311,000,000 in 1902. The shingle cut of the Duluth district in 1903 was 23,323,000,000, as compared with 22,323,000,000 in 1902. The shingle cut of the Duluth district in 1903 was 23,323,000,000, as compared with 22,323,000,000 in 1902.

The coming show should demonstrate that such laudable efforts are highly appreciated by the show room being filled from morning till night every day.

There would give a hint to the mayor and corporation to set the example and start the ball a-rolling, and the various public bodies should take the cue. The Commercial club should imitate their sister organization in Minneapolis and render such support to ensure success. The business men should also take a lively interest in it and all should interest their wives and families, and I feel sure that each and all will be amply rewarded. Yours for a hot time.

P. S.—I have just received the sad news that Mr. Philander Williams, of Taunton, Mass., one of the oldest and best known breeders and exhibitors in America, and the originator of the famous strain known as the Autocrat Light Brahmas, had the misfortune to have a foot taken off by a train while on his way to the New York show last week. of raft and a log. "And it's deep out in there," continued the boy. "There's one place where you couldn't find bottom, and the longest line you could get on your knees, the water comes clean over your head."

"They found the raspberries growing in a tangle along an old stone fence, and the boy fell to work immediately with boundless enthusiasm, scrambling over the stones, plunging his hands through the briars, and crying: "Oh, what big ones! And what a lot!"

The Man picked, too, more slowly, but he did not find any big ones, nor so many. "Oh, pshaw," he said to the boy at last, "this doesn't pay. You ought to have seen the raspberries I picked here when I was your age. They were twice as big as these and four times as thick."

The boy looked at him incredulously. "Oh, what big ones! And what a lot!" he cried. "They were twice as big as these and four times as thick."

The Man had about concluded that the world was deteriorated in the neighborhood of his old home as well as elsewhere, that it had run out, like the raspberries, and grown muddy and shallow like the swimming hole, when an old maid called one afternoon on his Aunt Molly. She was a sweet old maid, with a girlish figure and young eyes; one of the kind that rarely grows old, but is always at the expense of something or somebody. She smiled frequently at Aunt Molly, and she was simply attired in white, and she wore a bunch of sweet peas at her bodice. She knew her in a moment, despite the fact that the fresh, girlish color of her cheeks and the gleam in her eyes were not those of a young woman, but she was not grown older since a certain balmly evening many years ago. Fragrant with the scent of the honey-suckle blossoms, she thought she would not know him, but she walked straight up to him, and laid her hand on his shoulder, and said, as quickly as though they had parted yesterday: "

GET THEIR PASSES

Railroad Men Again Receive the Pastebords From Other Roads.

Indications That Roads Are Again to Be Liberal.

After several years of restriction on the part of the roads regarding the issuance of passes to those who are rightfully entitled to them, Eastern roads this year have been liberal in the distribution of passes and since the first of the year Western transportation men have received all of the passes they need.

The taking down of the bars regarding the privilege of travel through a small incident, after many years of effort on the part of railroad officials in general, about Jan. 1 an official of one of the roads at St. Paul received from an Eastern connection passes for all of the high officials of the line.

These officials have but little use for the passes and they were returned with a letter stating that the writer of the letter would present it a great favor if an equal number of passes could be made available to the Western line who would really use them.

It was thought that an answer would still be received stating that the same would be presented, but the answer was to the effect that the Western line should be liberal, however, but instead the request was denied.

This was but an opening wedge, and during the last two weeks the Eastern roads, who have always been more strict in their rules about free transportation, have fallen in line and distributed the pastebords with an open hand.

The Duluth grocers have received more transportation this year than ever before. It is also said that railroad officials over the country are freely liberal in issuing passes to any person who can convince them of their need.

TO OPEN JOINT OFFICES.

Northern Pacific and Burlington at St. Paul.

The announcement a few days ago that the Burlington and Northern Pacific were to open a joint office at St. Paul, caused more or less comment among railroad men in the Northwest, as it was thought it might point out the possibility of more offices throughout the country where the two lines could be dealt with in a more efficient manner.

The Duluth grocers are anxious that the information will gradually be given out that closer agreements have been made between the two roads.

The joint city passenger agent's office at Duluth and Burlington will open shortly and that agent will be in charge of the two lines. The agent will be in charge of the two lines.

STOCK GOSSIP.

W. H. Laidley & Co., the tone of the market has been somewhat trading on a rather narrow scale and conditions on the New York stock market was good while Pacific Mail was very good. We think the market is good, barring unforeseen circumstances.

Logan & Bryan to Palm. Webber & Co. to Palm. The market for stocks are strong. Stocks are well held and there is the same absence of selling pressure. All interests are still awaiting the results of the election. Outside of war we see nothing to make a war market in stocks.

Waldorf to Coe Commission Co.: For the purpose of relating to the public, the money was exchanged to one of the per cent. that offered lowest today while the stock market gives no reason for the remarks. In the event of a financial situation, it will soon do so.

THE COPPER STOCKS.

Following are the closing quotations of copper stocks at Boston today, reported by Faine, Webber & Co., 308 West Superior street:

COPPER GOSSIP.
 Boston to Pathe, Webber & Co.: The copper statement has a remarkably good showing of good news for some time back. It had little influence but should put prices in the long run. Money is in demand today. Coppers were in become. The outlook is favorable for more hefty and better prices in the copper market.
 Hayden, Stone & Co. to W. H. Laidley
 Co.: Coppers have been steady today few sales. Old Dominion has been feature and as there was little stock on hand, the market was not much on bull side and working for higher as money is working easier. It as if the market would be higher the end of the month and the of Amalgamated Metal market.

THE COTTON MARKET.
New York, Jan. 16.—The cotton market opened firm, with advances of 6 to 10 cents following higher cables than expected and estimates for continued light receipts. On the advance, however, long contracts were offered freely and there appeared to be only a limited demand so that the market closed quiet, developing a sagging tendency that carried prices back to within a point or so of last night's finals. The declining tendency was encouraged by the actions of the New Orleans market, which also showed a disappointing response to the advance.

Cotton spot closed steady; middling upland, 13.80; middling gulf, 14.05; sales, Cotton futures closed quiet and steady; January, 13.52; February, 13.61; March, 13.72; April, 13.80; May, 13.92; June, July, 14.00; August, 13.90; October, 13.70.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS ARE BEING PLANNED

Prospects Are For a Large Amount of Building During This Year—Transfers in 1903 Fell Far Below Those of Year Previous.

While inquiry has been quite brisk in the local realty market the past week not since the first of the year has there been so many sales have been closed. The demands said to be stronger for both improved and unimproved property since the first of the year than for several weeks preceding, although a few of the brokers report matters rather quiet. The past two weeks has witnessed an increased demand in the mortgage loan business and several good loans are reported placed within the last few days.

One of the strongest features in the local realty market at the present time is the large amount planning for improvement during the early spring and summer. The architects of the city door space and will have all the improvements of a modern store or factory building.

Reports from the range towns indicate more or less building activity in those localities. J. J. Wagnstein has turned out plans for a large store and hotel building for T. A. Thomas, at Tower, and Bergquist Bros., of this city, have the contract to erect the building. Work is already under way on the structure.

The Flood & Morgan new store building, on East First street, which has been under process of erection during the winter, is fast nearing completion, and will probably be ready for occupancy by the first of the spring.

The new building is characteristic of the substantial form which the improvements made by the Flood & Morgan company have always taken. It is a stone, concrete and steel structure, built along modern plans for brewery buildings, and is equipped or furnished in detail for the use it has been erected. The building is 120 by 75 feet, two stories above and one story practically underground. Structural steel has been used throughout, and with concrete floors, the new building is practically fireproof.

One portion of the new structure will be used for a cold storage plant and for "cracking" beer. Another portion will be used as a warehouse, and still another portion for it to cooperate for the fixing up and making of beer kegs.

The new addition to the plant is the building, seen on the left side of the picture.

When Lands In Northern Minnesota Were Opened to Settlers.

Twenty-Four Persons In the Line, Six Being Women.

Waiting Through the Night For Land Office to Open.

The accompanying cut gives a very fair representation of the corridor on the second floor of the federal building as it appears for several hours preceding the time set for the throwing open to settlement of lands in Northern Minnesota.

The photograph was taken Thursday morning a short time before the land office doors were opened to admit homesteaders desiring to file on claims in township 156, range 35, Itasca county. There were twenty-four persons in this line, most of whom had held their places for from twelve to twenty-four hours. Six of these were women. One of the women, Miss Sadie Mathews, of Larimore, N. D., who sits near the end of the hall in the picture, had entry on the same piece of land which James Stechman, the Tenstrike hotel keeper, who fought like a wild cat to hold a second place in line, attempted to file on. After a fierce scuffle, in which five men endeavored to keep Stechman from filing out of his turn, he finally gained admittance to the land office as number four, but his application was rejected on the ground that he did not have his naturalization papers with him. The men did not make themselves as comfortable during the night as circumstances would permit. Overcoats were spread on the floor and impromptu beds prepared. The men did not insist on the women or each other holding places in line. By common agreement the numbers of the applicants were agreed upon and each was allowed the liberty of the corridors.

VIEW OF FEDERAL BUILDING CORRIDOR PRIOR TO OPENING OF NEW TOWN.

The management of the McKay hotel provided rocking chairs for the ladies. Cards were played to pass the time away, and the locaters having the home-seekers in charge furnished them with food. In the photograph, O. O. Jahnke, of Tenstrike, holds the position of number one. To secure it he took his place before noon Wednesday. He was successful in making the first entry.

SHOULD BE HOME OF ICE BOATING

Duluth Is Well Fitted For This Very Exciting Sport.

Duluth, both from its geographical position and its weather conditions, is well fitted to be the home of the sport of ice-boating. With a large harbor frozen over from three to five months of the year, the devotees of the sport have a stretch of ice that is unequalled for their purpose. The lovers of the sport, however, look forward to the time when the lake freezes. Then there is a stretch of ice miles in extent, and as the lake seldom freezes until after the heavy snow storms of the year, the ice is generally free from all obstruction. With a clear stretch of blue ice from the canal to the Superior entry and a brisk breeze it is difficult to imagine more perfect conditions for the sport. Ice-boating has not gained much more than a good foothold in Duluth as yet. There are one or two boats in Superior and perhaps half a dozen good yachts in Duluth. But the few followers of the sport are enthusiastic concerning it and there is scarcely a Sunday afternoon when several of the yachts cannot be found on the bay engaging in informal races. Many tales have been told of the marvelous speed with which the boats can travel, and most of them are true. On clear and smooth ice there is practically no resistance offered to the progress of the boat. The smooth iron runners pass over the ice with almost no friction and the atmospheric pressure is about the only resistance offered. The modern boats are constructed of heavy material, with an immense beam, in order that a large spread of canvas may be carried without danger of upsetting. So little force of wind is necessary to propel these crafts that frequently they will maintain a high rate of speed in a wind that is not sufficient to start them when stationary without the aid of artificial means. The fact that an ice-boat will sail faster than the wind is well known. On a tack or a reach, an ice-boat will frequently travel 25 miles an hour in a twenty-mile breeze, and the speed which the boats can attain is limited only by the strength of the breeze. To a novice at the sport the suddenness with which the craft can be started, and the rapidity with which they increase their velocity is startling and even a little terrifying, but the smoothness soon restores confidence. In the hands of an expert ice-boater becomes one of the least dangerous of sports. About the only accidents that can happen are to break through the ice or to strike some pile or other obstruction. The former risk is very slight, as an ice-boat will travel on very thin ice, two or three inches being amply sufficient to bear the weight of the heaviest. The other risk can be discounted when a good sailor holds the tiller, as nothing but a sharp lookout is necessary to avoid an accident of this kind, although when it does happen it is by no means a trivial matter. When one of these racing machines flying over the ice at the rate of 30 or 40 or 50 miles an hour is suddenly checked by some solid obstruction, something has to go, and accidents of this kind have been reported where the unfortunate sailor had his brains dashed out against the mast.

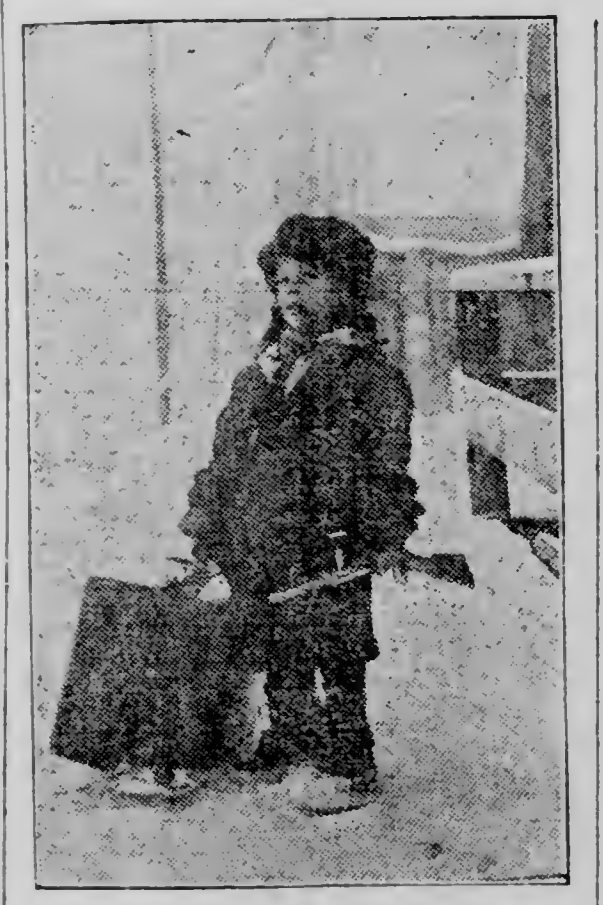

SKI JUMPING IS POPULAR

YOUNG SKI JUMPERS PRACTICING THE MOST POPULAR OF NORWEGIAN SPORTS.

Ski jumping, that most popular sport in Norway, bids fair to become one of the popular winter sports of Duluth. Within the past two winters there has been a notable increase in the number of persons using skis, particularly among the young boys, and the city can already boast some lads very proficient in this form of sport. The use of skis was introduced in this locality by some of those who have either used skis in the old country, or else have been spectators at the great festivals when contests in ski jumping take place between the best jumpers in the country. It is a national sport of Norway, and thousands of people watch the daring ski jumpers as they shoot down steep inclines and then launch lightly and gracefully into mid-air, landing upright perhaps over 100 feet from the point from which they jumped. The sport is declared to be very exhilarating and it finds ready favor among the young lads to whom the steep hillsides of this city have no terrors.

Duluth is peculiarly adapted to this form of sport, because of its steep hills and long grades, and boys, girls, men and women can often be seen mingling together in swift rides down a hill on skis. The accompanying picture, taken by J. O. Larson, of this city, shows several boys at practice in ski jumping, at Eighth street and Third avenue east. One of the boys was caught by the camera in mid-air as he sprang from the rock in his efforts to outdo a companion.

A YOUTHFUL HUNTER.

The above picture and the lad himself were both taken just as the latter was starting out on a hunting trip. He had a miniature air-rifle and an enormous valise packed with some of his clothing, and announced his intention of going after deer. The name of the youthful hunter is Herman Brown, Jr. He is the 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Brown, of Fourth avenue west and First street.

THIRTY-FOUR INJURED In Collision Between Street Car and Train.

Detroit, Jan. 16.—An eastbound Michigan line car, carrying a heavy load of passengers, hurrying home at the close of the day, was struck by a Grand Trunk passenger train last evening at Gratiot avenue and Dequindre street. More than thirty-four persons were injured, the heavy double-truck car being carried 300 feet down the track from the point of collision and being almost demolished. Every ambulance in the city was hurried to the scene. Several of the injured were conveyed to hospitals, and twenty-seven were taken to their homes. No one was killed, although some of the injured are in a very serious condition. Those most seriously injured are: R. O. Reed, Christine Reeder, Frederick Ohlms, Edward Rewoski, John Beck, Henry Offens, Mrs. C. A. Adams, Miss Gertrude Mitchell, Leonard Mitchell. A resolution was adopted requesting

MEMBERS OF THE W. C. T. U. OF WEST DULUTH, TAKEN AFTER A REGULAR MEETING.

Probably the largest and most active body working in the interests of temperance at the head of the lakes is the West Duluth W. C. T. U. Regular meetings of the society are held every two weeks and papers are read on topics connected with the cause of temperance. The membership has been steadily growing and the interest in the meetings increasing. The following is the list of officers of the society: President, Mrs. G. W. Smith; vice president, Mrs. N. C. Hendricks; secretary, Mrs. C. R. Keyes; treasurer, Mrs. W. F. Bailey. The above picture was taken by Mrs. E. W. Green at the close of one of the meetings of the society.

NAVAL MILITIA OFFICERS. Association Elects Them and Then Adjourns.

Washington, Jan. 16.—The Naval Militia association of the United States adjourned sine die, after electing the following officers: President—Commander Edwin Geer, Baltimore; first vice-president—Lieut. Commander H. C. Darby, Illinois; second vice-president—Lieut. Sidney Elieher, Washington; secretary—Lieut. Willard, Baltimore; treasurer—Commander Washington Irving, Hoboken, N. J. Lieut. Elieher was chosen to represent the association in dealing with the navy department. A resolution was adopted requesting the secretary of the navy to insert in the navy appropriation bill an item of $150,000 for arms, clothing and equipment for the naval militia.

WHOLESALE STEALING From Railroad Has Been Unearthed at Ashland.

Ashland, Wis., Jan. 15.—The police here have unearthed one of the most daring and extensive railroad robberies ever committed in this city. During the past few years the Northwestern road has been robbed of thousands of dollars worth of coal and merchandise by an organized band of their employees. Almost every car of coal that was received at the mines from here during later years was found to be several hundred pounds short in weight. While no arrests have yet been made, sufficient evidence has been procured to apprehend all the guilty parties, and the case has been turned over to the railroad detective.

WISCONSIN NATIONAL GUARD. Milwaukee, Jan. 15.—The Wisconsin National Guard association closed its convention last night after re-electing the old officers, headed by President Charles H. Boardman. Resolutions were adopted asking congress for an appropriation to enable the militia to conform to the regular army organization; to enact a law granting free postage to militia officers for official business, and to establish a military camp at near Camp Douglas, Wis.

It is here that the guests, after the first of the evening, exchanging greetings with their hosts, who always receives alone in the drawing room, are seated for the supper is devoted to the reception and to general dancing.

The opening of the evening was the occasion of the eighth ball which Mrs. Astor has given since the new house was built. The house was finished and opened for occupancy at the end of the year 1886, and Mrs. Astor held her first ball there on the evening of Feb. 2, of the same year. Since that time, in accordance with the custom, the houses of both Mrs. Astor and Col. John Jacob Astor, her son, have been the scene of the annual ball. Owing to the recent death of her mother, Mrs. Edward Willing, of Philadelphia, the ball of the year 1900, her son, Col. John Jacob Astor, was unable to attend, and the ball was not present.

On each side of these entrance doors were beds of scarlet poinsettias. The wide landing, with its white railing and its entrance to either house, is in white, the effect of the green and scarlet was striking. The green and scarlet was a part of the holiday appearance. These same masses of scarlet poinsettias were used with much effect in the toy gallery and ball room. Trailing vines partially draped the walls, and the flowers in the main hall, and other flowers in the main hall. The dining room was done in pink and white, and the effect was very pleasing. The room in which Mrs. Astor received, was decorated simply but richly with large vases of American flowers. The large vases of American flowers in the drawing room. * The Shell Ocean. *

BY W. S. WALLACE.

SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING PARTS.

Doris, a disobedient little girl, goes through a big shell in her garden; she comes out on the real ocean, where she meets a kindly mermaid. The mermaid takes her on a journey under the sea. After seeing many wonderful sights they come to a high cliff under the water and tumble over it, down to a beautiful garden of sea flowers. Here they have a narrow escape from a huge fish by hiding away. They reach a grotto, which becomes a cave full of sponges. Here they are chased by another monster and escape again by getting into a plant oyster shell. The cave ends in a passage through which Doris rides on a snail's back. They meet a band of mermaids, who dance around them. And finally the mermaid decides suddenly to go down still further under the sea. The mermaid takes Doris to the bottom in a shell; they barely escape a jellyfish and a crab and reach a bed of sea lilies. Here they escape from a lobster and see other interesting things among the lilies. Beyond they come to a rock, where there are vanishing flowers and plenty of shrimp, on which the mermaid feeds.

Doris and the Mermaid have several exciting adventures with the jellyfish, the lobster and the shrimp.

When Doris and the Mermaid reached the island they were surprised not to see anything, but Doris looked in vain for any real land. There was just a shelly beach, with three or four big palm trees on the top and the blue sea beyond.

"How very strange!" cried Doris. "Where's the rest of it?"

"Rest of what?" asked the guide.

"Why, I never heard of a beach without any land to it before; it must have got lost."

The truth was it was a coral island, or atoll; merely a strip of beach in the form of a ring, open at one side and with a quiet lake of water inside. They stepped up on a smooth white patch of sand and the Mermaid at once sat down to comb her hair. Doris went exploring.

"O-o-o, what's this?" she cried suddenly. "Isn't it gorgeous and shiny?" as she held up a shining fish. It was a parrot fish, and if Doris hadn't been holding it by the head it would have taken a piece out of her somewhere.

"Why," she continued, "it's got a beak—it must be a bird fish." The poor little fish was colored, too, like a parrot. It was bright green, blue and yellow. Doris dropped it into the pool. She glanced over the edge of an old fallen tree and her eyes grew round with wonder. Her mother's garden, with its roses and pinks, its dahlias and blue forget-me-nots, was never half so beautiful or gay as that pool. In the first place the bottom was of white coral sand, like snow.

In this green sea a multitude of strange forms and bright colors made Doris clasp her hands in silent awe. The red and pink coral animals almost hid the sand in places, and above them waved green curlew masses on stalks. These latter things looked like living fans covered with violets. Beyond grew white fields of flowers, green, yellow, orange and red. Among these growing things crawled animals, dancing starfish and feather stars and basket stars in such profusion that they had hardly room for their various motions. The beautiful red and Peter McGinnis—A True Story.

The first time that I remember to have seen Mr. McGinnis he was seated on a heap of cotton wool in a corner of his new house, which he was surveying with great interest, curling his white mustache with his pink, clawlike fingers all the while. To prevent misunderstanding perhaps I had better say that Peter McGinnis was my brother's new white rat.

Pete as we soon came to call him, quickly made himself at home; in a few weeks he was so tame that we often let him out of his cage to run about the rooms. Of course our pet was exhibited to all of our friends. One evening an extremely bashful gentleman called, and Pete was brought in, duly admitted and then placed upon the floor to amuse himself, while the conversation, interrupted by his entrance, was resumed. All at once an expression of utter dismay appeared upon our friend's face, while even his neck became of a crimson hue. In agitated tones he said—

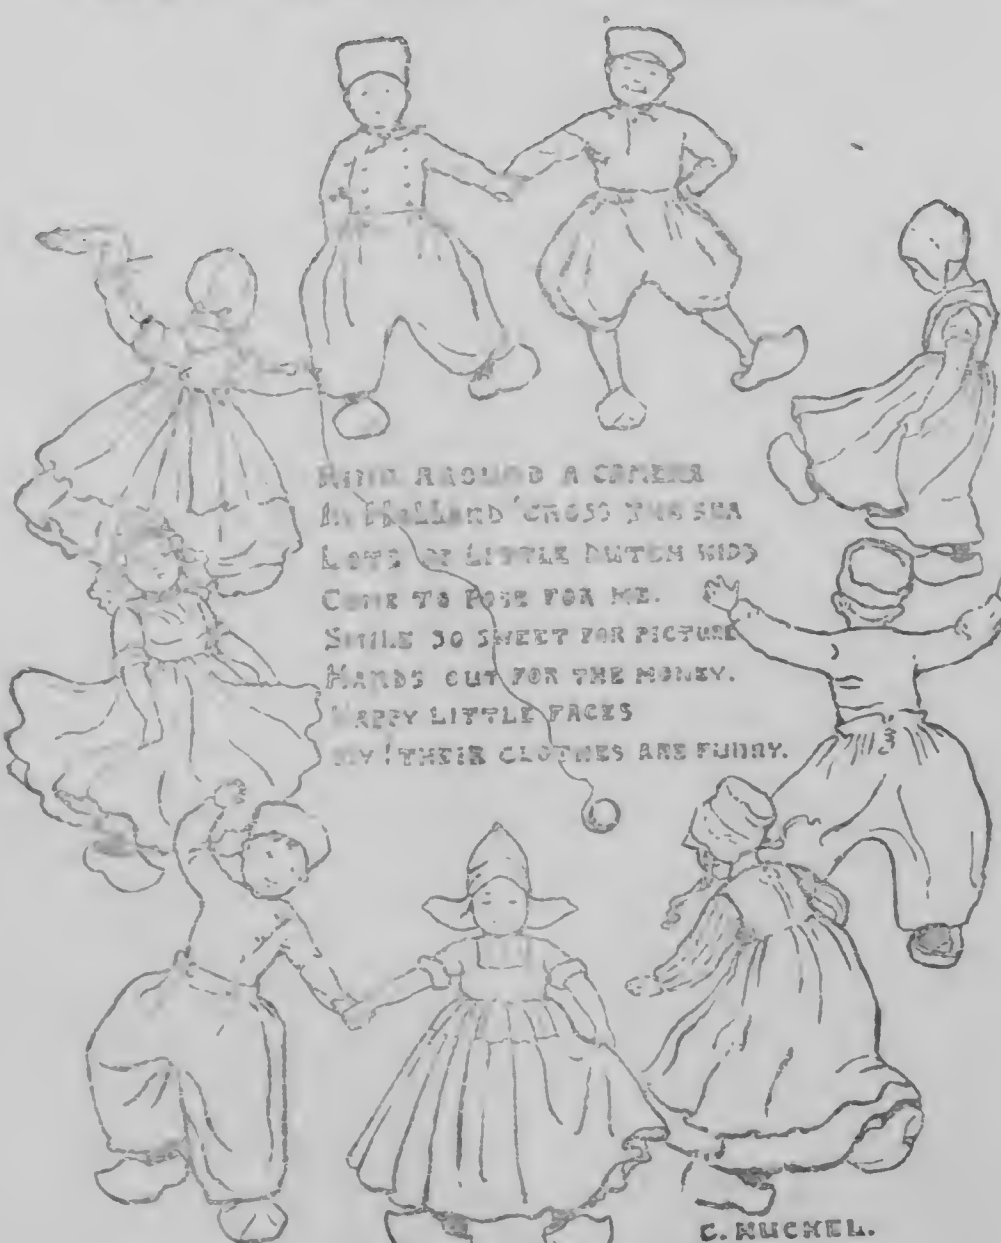

"That rat has gone up my sleeve! Please let me go into the other room so that I can take off my coat and get him out!"

We considerably left the room, after which my brother, captured the delinquent, who, having made his way completely up the under sleeve, was now settling down for a peaceful nap on the gentleman's shoulder. This circumstance so mortified our bashful friend that for months afterwards he could not be persuaded to enter our house.

Pete was a favorite plaything with us children, and the number of shipwrecks in the bathtub from which he escaped was

A Bat and a Coin

A very neat trick may be performed with a bat and a silver quarter. The quarter may be brand new, just from the mint, but the bat had better be an old one, or at least one that its owner is not very particular about, for it is likely to get a little rough handling.

It must be of the pattern known as a "scowlop," either silk or beaver. Lay it on its side on top of a glass tumbler, and on the upper side of the hat place the quarter.

Now, what you wish the company to do is to knock the hat from under the quarter so that the latter will fall into the tumbler. Every one that tries it will be sure to strike the hat on its brim, but will only send it across the room, and the quarter somewhere on the floor.

A Legend of Starlight.

A FLATHEAD INDIAN MAIDEN.

BY EUGENE O. MAYFIELD.

The bluish of the rose
And the blue of the sky;
These are the colors (the story goes)—
Blue for the cheeks,
Blue for the eyes.

Dame Nature's blues Kris Kringle seeks.
The Christmas Doll that Starlight made
Shall always be," Kris Kringle said.

I said, and now what shall we do with it?"
"Not what we shall do with it," corrected the dame, "but what shall we call it?"

"Starlight," suggested her husband, and Starlight she became.

Little Starlight grew rapidly and in almost no time—she may have been days, and it may have been weeks—was as big as the largest Flathead doll of Kris Kringle carries each year to the wee red pinnacles up and down the Puget Sound; or those he brings to the pole fair children by the big waters to the East.

In the many years gone by Kris Kringle has been unable to make a doll look just right, try as he might. There always seemed

THE DUDE ACROBAT.

Here is a very stylishly dressed gentleman who can be made to ent up very funny antics. Cut him out and paste the pieces on a cardboard background in the attitude you think funniest.

When the feat has been pronounced impossible, you make a few felts, as if you, too, were going to strike it on the beam, and then, suddenly, you give it a smart tap on the inside of the crown, when it will jump quickly out and let the coin fall directly down into the tumbler.

THE TURTLE.

Little Ted had found a turtle.
And he looked with wondrous eyes
At the creature while I told
The name and nature of his prize.
Then he touched the shell, half shy,
While he said, "twixt smile and pout,
"If the turtle is in this box
I wish 'twould hurry and come out."

Florence—not yet in her teens—
Was sent to the garden for greens;
But she got the wrong plant,
Which angered her aunt—
"Why, child," she said, "don't you know showed him the supposed flower was a thing of life. And so old Kris Kringle picked up the mite and carried it to his home, where his wife was mixing gaudy paints to beautify presents intended for boys and girls everywhere, even little Indian children.

"I have brought you a present," said the old man; "one you can keep and not send away, as you sometimes do when the stock runs low."

"A present!" exclaimed the good dame. "And where did you get it?"

By this time old Kris Kringle had placed the baby girl on the workshop table and stood shaking his mischievous sides with laughter.

"I found it in a bank of snow," at last he said. Just then the little one's eyes opened and a peal of merry ripples echoed throughout the room.

"Found it in a bank of snow," repeated Dame Kringle. "Such an odd place to find a treasure."

"I truly found it there, good wife, just as to be something wrong; something out of keeping; but what, neither he nor his good spouse could tell.

"I know what it is," said Starlight, who overheard the discussion. "And if you will give me the task I will remedy the defect."

"Hiss your bright eyes," replied old Kris, "and you may have the task and welcome."

And so it came about that Starlight, the little Flathead mite, brought to the land of snow by an old stock, took charge of all the dolls in the home.

First she mixed a pot of carmine—the rosiest red ever seen—and then she mixed the blue. With a brush she painted the cheeks of a doll and laid it away on a shelf. Then she took a pair of lambies, called "eyes" by old Kris, and dipped them in the blue. These in turn she placed on a shelf to dry.

"Don't ask questions tonight or try to sleep," said little Starlight, "and tomorrow I will show you how the work is done."

"But you might tell me," pleaded old Kris, "I would never tell. You know I keep the

Mr. Bat and his Little Family.

The house was large, with a high arched roof and only one room, and it was perfectly dark, for there were no windows. Along the walls were some irregular little ledges, but there were no chairs or tables, because the family did not need any. No beds, either, and yet the father and mother and two children were sound asleep, and what is more, they thought their home a very nice and comfortable one.

Perhaps you think they lay on the floor, but indeed they did just the opposite; they hung from the roof with their heads down. These queer creatures slept all day, and at night went out to take the air, for they were a family of bats and lived in a cave. Their bodies were covered with very soft short fur, but their wings were quite bare, not feathered like a bird's.

One evening the bat family were skimming about in the air, catching mosquitoes and gnats for their supper, when they happened to fly in among some people who were having tea in a garden. The ladies jumped up and screamed and put pocket handkerchiefs over their hair, as if they thought the bats meant to hurt them. Then a boy ran around calling out, "Bat, bat, come under my hat!" But the little creatures did not care to do that.

"Don't let them catch you," said Mr. Bat to his children, "for they are cruel."

One of the little ones, however, got so confused that he flew into the house by mistake, and the boys rushed indoors to catch it. They could hear the swishing sound of its wings as it flew round and round near the ceiling, and they tried to hit the helpless creature with brooms and umbrellas. Faster and faster it circled in the dark hall until the boys grew dizzy, and one of them called out:

"Get a lamp; we cannot see in the dark!"

It seemed as if the bat understood what was said, for as soon as the door was opened it swooped down right into the boy's face, and with a parting slap flew out over his head.

Oh, how glad the bat was to find itself free once more in the fresh air! It did not need any light, but went skimming about until it found its family again.

"Oh, my dear," said the mother, "I thought you were going to be killed. I stuffed and put in a foolish collection! Boys never seem to think that animals like to live and enjoy themselves in their own way. We do not hurt people, and yet they want to kill us."

"That is because they know so little," said Mr. Bat, who was coming his fur with his long claws, and keeping his eyes open for mosquitoes at the same time. After he had swallowed a choice morsel he said wisely: "My children, you will often hear a person call another as blind as a bat, yet we can see in the dark, while they have to wait for a light. How much better to be a bat. People tell all kinds of foolish tales about us. They say we try to fasten our claws in women's hair and that large bats will even kill children and suck their blood!"

"Oh, papa," cried the baby bats, "why do you tell such stories? We will have nothing more to do with them."

"That is the best plan," said the mother. "Don't trouble your little heads about them, but come and have another race before day dawns and it is time to go to bed."

Then the whole family went chattering each other merrily over the lawns and sweet-scented flower beds, across the ponds where frogs were croaking noisily, while mosquitoes danced in the air, and before daybreak the bats were so tired that they stopped at the first hollow tree, went into the trunk, hooked themselves up by their hind legs and folded their wings. In a few minutes their little black eyes closed and the funny family went off to sleep.

INCONSISTENCY.

My mother said that Buster Brown was just the cutest little boy.
My father laughed at all the pranks that naughty youngster did enjoy.
My sister said he was "so bright,"
His harmless fun was her delight.
From baby stunts to Russian hair,
The family thought he was all right.

I cut my hair in Russian style,
I named my cat for Buster's pup,
I thought I'd practice "harmless fun,"
I studied up his antics up.
I knew how pleased they all would be,
I'd furnish them amusement free,
I'd let them share this pleasure rare,
So they'd enjoy the sport with me.

I tried one trick—but only one—
For sister called me a "disgrace,"
What father said I said for print,
A crowd spread o'er my mother's face.
She whipped me, packed me off to bed;
In vain I argued, begged and plead.
She saw no fun when her own son
Would practice what with joy she read.

San Francisco, Jan. 18.—M. C. McManus and C. Thompson of Halifax, N. S., have returned from an unsuccessful hunt for treasure in Terra Del Fuego. They sailed from Nova Scotia on March 17 last, with eight companions on the schooner Hattie Lee, to look for treasure in large quantities of which the natives of the island were supposed to have knowledge. When the schooner reached the coast of Terra Del Fuego she went aground in trying to land. McManus and Thompson having had a misunderstanding with others of the party, took their belongings in a small boat and sailed for the interior where a band of Patagonian Indians. Here they met with nothing but hardships and finally made the coast again, where they made a cache of 15 miles and reached a point whence they sailed for this port.

attentive and careful nursing, but sadly gradually to die. An autopsy was performed in the presence of three of the medical students. The dissection was examined first and the doctors were amazed to find them shrivelled and atrophied. They had not been there for 50 years. Then the dissectors found an enlarged liver that belonged to a contemporary of the patient. The patient's history concerned, it would be pronounced to be the heart of a man who had lived a life of hard work. Nature presented another and a stronger abnormality in the arteries. The arteries of the legs had lost their flexibility. The arterial stream had flowed through them with a force that had hardened them while the walls had thickened and become almost brittle.

The medical history of the patient in previous condition was obtained when McGrath was admitted for treatment in 1907. McGrath was a man of 40 years of age, good, and he was not given to alcoholic excesses, so that without any known cause he had become a man of 60 in twenty-four years.

been confined to a single corridor, that the students made up their minds that the robberies were being committed by someone in the building. The accused, however, provided himself with pass keys to the various rooms. Quiet investigation eventually uncovered the last suspect, who charged upon a man whose integrity had never before been questioned. His reputation in the university last year had been the highest, and he had been known as the most brilliant man of his class.

The facts were placed before the faculty, and the accused was asked to remain at his home pending a hearing. No legal steps will be taken, however, and the university authorities say even if the accused were charged.

WOULD YOU HEAR THE BOSTONIANS?

Opportunity For Duluth Poets to Show What They Can Do—Prizes For Best Verses to Be Used In "Dreaming" Song In "The Serenade."

When the famous, everlasting Bostonians come forward at the Lyceum next week for two nights in the two standard light opera compositions of the American stage, "Robin Hood" and "The Serenade," an opportunity will be offered for Duluth aspirants of lyric honors to appear at the same time. There exists no doubt considerable latent poetic talent in Duluth, and The Herald would like to have an evidence of the genius of Duluth local poets. To that end, London G. Charlton, managing director of the Bostonians, will offer several prizes in the way of admission during the company's engagement here next week, to the person or persons (collaboration being allowed), submitting the best verse of purely local interest to fit into the topical song, "Dreaming, Dreaming," which Mr. Barnabee, Mr. Frothingham and the prima donna, sing in "The Serenade."

The prizes offered are: First, a box and two orchestra chairs for either of the performances; second, two seats for "Robin Hood" and two for "The Serenade"; third, two seats for either "Robin Hood" or "The Serenade."

The merit of the verses will be passed upon by a committee, consisting of Henry Clay Barnabee, William H. Macdonald and Charles R. Bacon, manager of the Bostonians; Charles A. Marshall, manager of the Lyceum, and John Panton.

Any topic of general local interest may be selected, be it political, social, personal, impersonal or general. The only conditions are that the lyric conforms to the measure of the regular verses of the song which follows:

One afternoon while dozing,
My eyes a moment closing,
I seemed to feel a loving kiss
From some unknown, attractive niss;
Her arms around me pressing,
She spoke in voice caressing,
But I awoke, awoke to swear,<
For there was no such person there.

Ah!
Dreaming, dreaming,
Talking in my sleep,
Wandering in dreamland,
Where happiness is cheap;
When we awake,
Things are not what they seem;
I thought it was a kiss,
But it was just an idle dream.

The verse winning first prize will be sung by the trio Tuesday evening of next week at the performance of "The Serenade."

All verses must be in by 5 o'clock, Monday evening, and the names of the winners will be announced in The Herald of Tuesday afternoon.

GOES TO THE JURY.

Neddy Damage Case Against Street Railway.

This afternoon a district court jury is deliberating over the personal injury case of Richard Neddy against the Duluth Superior Traction company. The case was started for trial last Friday and was adjourned to the jury early this afternoon. Neddy claims to have been getting on a car in the West End when it started up suddenly, throwing him to the ground and injuring one of his limbs.

In Judge Can't's room the case of Jens Jensen against the Commodore Mining company, another personal injury action, was argued to the jury this noon. It was expected that the defendant would introduce the case would be argued to the jury, possibly the last thing in the afternoon.

Jensen was employed in repairing or removing in the defendant's car. He was struck and severely injured.

Swipes a Coat.

An overcoat, which belonged to another man and which was temptingly displayed on a hook in a Lake Avenue restaurant, is claimed by the police to have been the cause of the downfall of "Columbus" Williams.

"Columbus" is a gentleman of color, and, unlike his famous namesake, has none of the blue blood of old Spain in his veins. Yet when he discovered the overcoat he is claimed by the police to have been seized with a desire to appropriate it in the same manner the Chicago robber appropriated his discovery.

"Columbus" was arraigned in the municipal court this morning and pleaded not guilty. His hearing was postponed.

Pre-Inventory Sale.

The annual pre-inventory clearance sale of the Gray-Tallant company begins tomorrow, and in the firm's ad in today's Herald will be found striking values in many departments. The announcements made by the Gray-Tallant company are always of unusual interest, the firm priding itself that its agreements are lived up to the letter in every case, and the present sale promises to eclipse anything ever held before by the firm.

Handsome Wash Suits.

Today the Great Eastern makes its first showing for the present season of fine wash suits for boys and girls. Mr. Burrows states that the assortments this year surpass anything ever shown before in variety and value and extends a cordial invitation to heads of families to call and inspect the many beautiful things on display.

Congressman Littlefield Says Roosevelt Will Succeed Himself.

Admits That Republican May Not Carry New York.

"Theodore Roosevelt will succeed himself as president of the United States. There will be a hard fight in New York between the Republicans and Democrats, and it is possible that we may lose the state at the coming election. We do not need New York, however, and it will only make the fight more interesting. The choice of a Democratic candidate lies between Parker and Gorman. I think Parker will receive the nomination."

The above paragraph is the gist of a forecast of the political outlook for the coming year, made this morning by Congressman Charles E. Littlefield of Portland, Me., who will lecture tonight at the First M. E. church on "Education and Civilization." Mr. Littlefield responds to a request for an interview in much the same manner that he delivers a political speech. He is unreserved in his speech, and one cannot accuse him of making any mental reservations while talking.

Mr. Littlefield went straight to the Spalding hotel this morning after alighting from the Omaha train. He was not met by a committee from the Commercial club, as Secretary Eva. The club had been unable to get into communication with him. Mr. Littlefield having left Washington Thursday.

Upon the hotel register he inscribed his name and Portland as his place of residence. A reporter found a crowd of traveling men looking intently at the register a few minutes afterward, and it was the consensus of opinion that the place of residence given by the Maine congressman was Rock Island, Ill.

As he stepped away from the desk preparatory to going to his room, he was asked:

"Mr. Littlefield, what do you think of the general political outlook?"

"Well," he replied, "as far as national politics go I have no doubt but that Roosevelt will receive the nomination and will be re-elected."

"Do you think that the reports which emanate from New York and Boston, that the effect that Hanna is a stronger man than Roosevelt, have any weight?"

"That is a difficult question to answer," Hanna may be stronger than the president in New York and one or two Eastern cities. There is in fact but little of this being the case. It will not get him nothing, however, as Mr. Roosevelt clearly has a straitaway course for the nomination."

"What do you think of New York? Is that going to be found in the Democratic or Republican column?"

"I should not be surprised to see New York go Democratic this year. With millions of dollars and several hundred positions to give away in case of Democratic success and considering the fact that those in power in New York City were elected when they did not have the support of a single newspaper, I cannot see that the Republican party has any chance to get the state into line by next fall."

"You think it possible for the Republican party to be defeated at the coming election?"

"There is only one thing, to my mind which might cause the defeat of the party. That is financial depression of great proportion. If that occurs, it will occur and have reason to believe that the business of the country in general will not suffer to any great extent."

"During the campaign of 1900 you spoke almost entirely on the subject of the tariff. Have your views changed in any way on the subject since that time?"

"No sir. I still believe that there are combinations of capital which are legitimate and which do not harm the people. There are combinations which do harm the people. Among the latter the ones which are doing the most harm are those which combine to reduce the wages of their workmen so that they may declare dividends on an inflated capital."

"What do you think of the situation in the various states?"

"It would take a great deal of time to make a thorough statement in reply to that question. There will be a good fight in Ohio between Foraker and old man Hanna and it looks very much as if Foraker would win out. In Wisconsin there is a fight being made on several of the congressmen. Rabcock, it appears, is having a hot scrimmage on his hands and I think will have to put up a fight to save himself."

"Of course that is the result of state factional disputes and I do not think that we do the party as a whole much harm in the national election."

"How about the Democratic candidates? Who, in your opinion will be the Democratic nominee?"

"It looks to me like Parker. It lies between him and Gorman, with the chances in favor of Parker."

"How about Hearst and Bryan?" Do they loom up as strong possibilities?"

"No. Neither would have any material strength. Bryan would be easy to beat and Republicans would want nothing better than to have Hearst as the nominee."

"If the Democrats carry New York, do you not think it possible for them to carry a majority of votes in the electoral college?"

"No, sir. There is not the same enthusiasm for Roosevelt that there was a year ago, but the people want him and are going to have him. They realize that he has been giving them a businesslike administration and that he is a man of rare executive ability. He cannot be beaten."

The conversation was switched off of politics and Mr. Littlefield said:

"I remember when here during the last campaign that I spoke in a barn which was dignified with the name of 'Armory.' I am glad that it has not fallen to my lot to speak there again. I am glad, however, to come to this section of the country. I am glad that the country sees in Duluth a city which will in time rank as the first in commercial importance in the Northwest."

JURY MAKES QUICK WORK

Finds Andrew Mattson Guilty of Assault on Charles Sundquist.

One ballot by the jury was all that was required this noon to find Andrew Mattson guilty of assault in the second degree. The case went to the jury a few minutes after 12 o'clock and the deputy sheriff had hardly walked to the jail with Mattson when he was sent for to return and hear the verdict.

The complaining witness in the Mattson case was Charles Sundquist, of West Duluth. According to the evidence, Sundquist and two friends stood in a West Duluth saloon drinking and talking late when Mattson entered. The latter was not invited up to the bar and he made a sneering remark to Sundquist to the effect that he need not think himself any better than Sundquist. Sundquist also a derogatory remark about one of the Sundquist family.

The testimony showed that while Sundquist was indignant at the sneer cast by Mattson he did not offer personal violence and, after exchanging words for a few minutes, followed Sundquist to the door and struck him down, afterward following him on the street and using a knife with such effect that Sundquist's overcoat and underclothes were cut and several places, and he received a few flesh wounds.

Mattson denied that he had any knife on him at the time, and he requested Sundquist to start the trouble and of sundquist's knife. Judge Potter defended Mattson.

This afternoon Samuel Korvula, indicted for assault in the second degree on trial. It is alleged that Korvula attacked one John K. K. at Virginia, Nov. 22, and cut him up with a knife.

CARNIVAL AT RINK

One to Be Given to Aid the Free Skating Rink.

One Hundred Dollars Needed to Continue the Place.

A grand carnival will be given Friday evening, Jan. 23, at the free skating rink for the purpose of raising sufficient funds to keep the rink in operation throughout the remainder of the winter. The carnival will consist of more than the usual masquerade skating party. There will be several athletic contests, including a three-mile race, open to all contestants, and a race for boys under 16 years of age.

Local business men who are interested in the success of the rink have donated prizes for the different contests, and also the usual prizes for the best costume and the best fancy skater on the ice.

A band will be engaged for the occasion, and the management of the rink will make special efforts to get the ice in the best of shape. Extra lights will be put in and the grounds will be almost as brilliantly lighted as during the summer carnival, which was held at the same place.

On account of the lack of a fence about the grounds, no regular admission fee can be charged, but the management will endeavor to collect 25 cents from everyone present toward maintaining the rink during the remainder of the season. About $100 is necessary to keep the rink open during the remaining six weeks of winter, and it is hoped that this amount can be raised from the carnival.

The committees in charge of the affair has not yet been appointed, but will be chosen within the next few days.

Some of the prizes which have been promised by local merchants will be expensive and beautiful gifts. The management will endeavor to bring out as many fancy costumes as possible, and for this reason the choice of the prizes will be given for the best fancy costume of the ice.

Some of the best local amateur skaters have already entered in the 3-mile race, and it promises to be one of the best skating contests seen in Duluth for several years past.

The rink has been steadily growing in popularity for the past month, and every afternoon and evening large crowds enjoy the privileges of a free skate.

FEET WERE FROZEN.
Carl Johnson, a woodsman from a tie camp near Burnett station, who claimed to have frozen both feet, applied for aid at the office of A. F. Cook, secretary of the board of county poor commissioners, this morning and was sent to the Red Cross hospital.

An examination of Johnson's feet at the hospital showed that his injuries are not of an extensive nature, the flesh being frostbitten in spots, no amputation being necessary. Johnson claimed that while crossing a river some distance from the camp he broke through the ice and got his feet wet, afterward walking several miles to the railroad track, the intense cold causing his feet to freeze.

MUST PROVE CONSPIRACY

Evidence in Machen Case to Be Confined to Indictment.

Washington, Jan. 18.—When court convened today to continue the trial of August W. Machen, the Groff Bros. and Dr. and Mrs. Lorenz, for alleged conspiracy in furnishing postoffice supplies to Taggart, for the government, produced a certified copy of the patent on the Groff fastener, showing that a half interest had been assigned by Samuel A. Groff to his brother, Diller H. Groff.

The first witness was E. M. Gilpin, a clerk in the office of the comptroller of the treasury, who identified a paper authorizing Diller H. Groff to sign the name of Groff Bros. to all warrants, drafts, and all business where the firm name is required. James E. Bell, superintendent of delivery of the Washington city post-office, next testified. He explained in great detail the difference between the old system of attaching letters to mail bags by means of iron bands, and the new system of using the fastener. He first knew of the Groff fastener, he said, in 1883 or 1884.

Mr. Taggart offered in evidence an order dated June 25, 1888, for 800 fasteners, but Mr. Douglas objected, and the court ruled it out for the present, saying:

"Until we have some evidence of an overt act I shall require a case of conspiracy to be made out."

Mr. Taggart sought to introduce further evidence, which Mr. Douglas in the course of a long argument to the court declared was inadmissible. He insisted that the case should be confined to the period named in the indictment.

AFRAID OF HER HUSBAND

Charles Lesti Has His Wife in a Terrorized Condition.

Accused of threatening to kill his wife, Charles Lesti was arraigned before Judge Gearhart in the municipal court this morning.

Lesti is a Polander living on St. Croix avenue. Both he and his wife have been in this country but a short time, and neither of them are able to speak the English language.

"He said he was going to kill me," said Mrs. Lesti through an interpreter, when placed on the witness stand. "He spends all his time in the saloons. He goes out in the morning after he gets his breakfast and then does not come back until midnight. He is always drunk when he comes home, and he swears at me and beats me and has threatened to kill me. I am afraid to live with him any longer."

The testimony of Mrs. Lesti was corroborated by that of two neighbors, who were also placed upon the witness stand. Lesti testified that he always brought home the money he earned and gave it to

KILLED BY TRAIN

Woodman Struck By Omaha Limited at Hines Station.

Jumped In Front of It—Supposed to Live Here.

William Jones, a woodman, supposed to live in Duluth, was killed by the Omaha train which arrives in Duluth at 10:55, at Hines station this morning. This is the first station this side of Solon Springs on the Omaha road.

Jones in company with two other woodmen, left Duluth this morning for Hines station, where he was going to work for the Hines Lumber company.

The down train on which he was a passenger drew up at a siding at Hines station to allow the up-bound train to pass. The name of the station had been called, but the men evidently did not hear it as they remained in their seats for some moments after the train had stopped. They then seemed to suddenly realize that they had reached the station, and hurriedly gathered up their bundles made for the door of the coach. Jones wrenched open the door of the vestibule and leaped out on the wrong side of the coach. He jumped immediately in front of the up-bound train which was approaching on the other track. The train was traveling at a high rate of speed and the engine hit him before he could make a move to save himself. His body was thrown to one side as the train flew by, and when he was picked up he was dead.

His companions had seen his danger in time to stop themselves from following him, and they were unharmed.

The body of the man was taken to Hawthorne, and Coroner Doherty, of Superior, left for that station this afternoon to hold an inquest over the remains.

Complete identification of the man has not yet been secured. His name has been variously given as William Jones, Joseph Stone and Joseph Rowe. He is said to have resided on St. Croix avenue in Duluth.

The body was searched by the train men and the man's property turned over to the station agent at Hines, who is holding it for the coroner. Some of the passengers claimed that the trainmen exceeded their rights in searching the body, and that the man's possessions should have been left undisturbed until the coroner arrived.

The services yesterday began with the "Decision Day" exercises in the Sunday school. Rev. E. C. Clemens, presiding elder of the district, preached afternoon and evening. DR. KLINE TALKS Speaks on Christian Education at First Christian Church.

All Life Shows That Self Preservation Lies In Knowledge.

Dr. Linus Kline, of the Duluth Normal school, delivered an address on "Christian Education," Sunday morning, at the First Christian church, of which he is a member, basing his remarks on Rom. X, 14, 15.

The third Sunday of January has been set apart as education day among the churches that constitute the Christian brotherhood. Dr. Kline spoke along the line of the education of the ministry.

"The setting apart of a day for Christian education by churches," said he, "is of deeper significance to our people than we at present realize, but I am convinced that in years to come it will have given it its proper place in the permanent establishment of our life."

"One of the first principles of life is self-preservation. This is attained through knowledge. It is seen in the lower as well as higher forms of life. Those animals that lack in strength make up in cunning. The very lowest forms, such as the animalcule, teach us the same truth. This minute one, called organism, as the water evaporates, the stagnant pool, collects itself in a case and sinks in the mire, safely landed from the ravages of time."

"The Hebrews gave us no scientist or orator, but taught men how to live a life of righteousness. One of their teachers, Jeremiah, said: 'I have been gathered about him in the year 619 A. D. a school and this education gave him the power to preserve his life through force of arms and higher in the scale, through the power of knowledge.'

districts are not brought face to face with many questions which arise in metropolitan circles. Hence do not realize the need of a more educated ministry, which can stand with those of the first rank on all questions that arise.

"Then, again, our colleges have not been able to keep pace with our growth because the latter has been so phenomenal. Our origin dates to the first quarter of the last century, when whole churches separated themselves from their religious bodies because of differences in views. Not Baptists alone, but the Methodists and Presbyterians as well. These finding that they had so many points of belief in common, united and established the brotherhood of the Christian church. Though only three-quarters of a century since we became an active force, it at present numbers 1,250,000. One of our leaders has said: 'We must do one of two things, either stop evangelizing or else pay more attention to the education of a strong body of men to carry on the work under constant stress and strain. They lack funds to supply the needed equipment. To the brotherhood comes the appeal. With us lies the answer.'

"We are removing the wires on the Superior street poles westward from Third avenue West as rapidly as possible and it will be only a few days before the poles are stripped down to the ground. The city's police and fire alarm system."

"The removal of the poles and wires will not make a great difference in the appearance of Duluth's main business street, to say nothing of the other advantages."

"Some of those old poles along Superior street are regular landmarks. I have known them for nearly 20 years."

EPIDEMIC RAGING

Diphtheria at Grand Marais and Physician Is Ill.

A Duluth Doctor and Nurse Volunteer Their Services.

A diphtheria epidemic is raging at Grand Marais, on the north shore. The first news of it was brought to Duluth Saturday by Capt. Andrew Clausen, master of the steamer Mabel Bradshaw.

Through Capt. Clausen, the people of Grand Marais appealed for medical attendance and for nurses. Dr. Houston, the only physician in the village being seriously ill and several other critical cases absolutely without a medical attendant.

Capt. Clausen communicated with Dr. J. E. Kline and the latter hastened to place the matter before the state board of health.

Two Duluthians, however, have not waited until the state takes steps to relieve the sufferers at Grand Marais. Dr. E. L. Cheney and Miss Emma Boyd, the latter a nurse at St. Luke's hospital, volunteered their services yesterday, as soon as they learned of the situation, and went to Two Harbors, where they expected to take the steamer Bon Ami for Grand Marais. It is possible that the boat will be unable to get into the harbor at Grand Marais and the physician and nurse may have to walk over an ice field.

The report of the spread of the disease at Grand Marais included the statement that there was no anti-toxine in the village. One of the winter months Grand Marais is cut off from communication with the outside world except by a ride on sleighs over a rough country road. Two Harbors, and it is likely that Miss Boyd and Dr. Cheney will have to return by that route.

Both the nurse and the physician have gone to Grand Marais on their own responsibility, and are bearing their own expenses, besides taking along a quantity of anti-toxine.

Miss Boyd graduated with a class of nurses from St. Luke's hospital in 1902 and has been on the extra list at the hospital for the past year.

Dr. Houston, who is suffering from diphtheria, is being treated by Dr. J. E. Kline, who is also suffering from the disease.

INSTITUTE ROTHE

A Pretended Electrician Rifles Benedictine Sister's Cash Box.

Bold Plan Successfully Carried Out—No Clew as Yet.

In the guise of an electrician inspecting the lights, a thief who gave his name as Welch, entered the Institute of the Sacred Heart yesterday morning, rifled the cash box of $627 in negotiable checks and $100 in cash and made his escape.

The robbery was one of the boldest that has been committed within the memory of the local police, as the thief was compelled to work in constant danger of discovery. The twenty-five people who were in the building at the time.

Welch undoubtedly contemplated the robbery of St. Mary's hospital before entering the Sacred Heart Institute, but he was arrested by the close watch kept upon his actions.

Clad in the clothes of a workman, he appeared there the morning at St. Mary's hospital, and walked through the corridors as one accustomed to the place and perfectly familiar with the business was an electrician in the employ of the Duluth General Electric company, that the company was putting in a new dynamo and that he desired to see whether all of the lights were working properly.

He had a pair of pliers in his possession and he made a complete inspection of all the lights in the building, going to the top floor and occasionally turning on a light and turning it off again. He returned to the office, but attendants were still present. He visited the office three times during his stay in the building, but was not seen by the mother superior, who has been in the building since the robbery.

From St. Mary's hospital he evidently went to the Sacred Heart Institute, where he appeared shortly before noon, and went through the same pretended inspection. After he had turned on the light on the lower floor he went to the top story and politely asked one of the sisters to procure him a chair or a ladder in order that he might inspect the meter.

While he pretended to be examining the meter, he was actually rifling the cash box of the Benedictine sisters, and he was seen by one of the sisters, who called out to him. He then fled, but was caught by the mother superior, who had been in the building since the robbery.

He was taken to the police station, where he was held in custody. The mother superior, who has been in the building since the robbery, is now recovering from the shock of the incident.

WOULD GET MARRIED

For Third Time, Though He Is 114 Years Old.

He Picks Girl of 22 Years of Age to Be His Bride.

Passaic, N. J., Jan. 18.—Although George Udell, an old Hebrew, is celebrating his 114th birthday today, he wants to get married for the third time.

Udell has several daughters and many grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Rebecca Wodiski, a good-looking Jewess, 22 years old, is the ideal of the old man's heart, and she shows no aversion to him on account of his age.

Udell is best known as "Lazarus," from the fact that he resembles the Bible character of that name in appearance. About twenty years ago the local Hebrews purchased ten acres of ground, a mile from this city, for a burying ground. To follow out an ancient tradition, they decided to find an aged person to be the first to be buried in the cemetery. A committee was sent to New York to find an old man, who would not be considered a good life insurance risk, and Udell was selected as a fit subject. His great age and failing health promised that he would soon be gathered unto his fathers, so the committee offered to cure for him while he lived if he would allow them to bury him in the new cemetery, when the end came.

He was brought to Passaic and the change of air and the good care seemed to agree with him. Instead of dying, Udell began to improve. A number of those who had brought him to Passaic are now occupying graves in the cemetery.

Recently an additional ten acres of ground was added to the burying ground. Udell spends his time in going from house to house visiting his fellow countrymen who are eating anywhere he can find a meal. Of late he has taken to drink and frequently the police have had to carry him to the house of friends or lock him up. The Hebrews who wanted to bury him then began to reject him.

Udell had a room in Second street, where he slept, until about a year ago. One night last winter he built a fire in an old stove and set fire to the woodwork of the room. When the fire reached the house Udell was lying in a corner on a pile of filthy rags, suffering from exposure and lack of nourishment.

The physician who was called to examine the man said that he could not live long. He was hurried to the general hospital, where for days he hovered between life and death. He died with good care and nursing, the old man improved, and last spring was discharged from the hospital.

He is a strict believer in the Hebrew faith, and now spends most of his time in the local synagogue.

INJUNCTION IS QUASHED

Ruling of Court In the Eveleth Justiceship Case.

Judge Dill has quashed the alternative writ of mandamus that required Judge J. G. McGilvray, of Eveleth, to turn over to his successor in office, Judge Vivian Prince, all the books, papers and seals of the office of Judge of municipal court.

At the hearing held Saturday afternoon at the city hall, Judge Prince said that he had been entitled to possession of the records that Judge McGilvray sought to recover from Judge McGilvray and the court, while holding that it was not in the province of Judge Prince to take possession of the records. Judge McGilvray had no right to possession of the records and papers than a district judge.

"It is understood that Judge Prince will proceed at once to appoint a clerk of the court in the office to which he claims. Judge Prince has not been legally elected, and Judge McGilvray has been re-elected as the legal court in Eveleth, by Mayor Maxwell, who has instructed the city officers to transact their municipal court business with him."

"It is said that the municipal court at Eveleth has never had a clerk of court, although the justice has had a strong right in his office."

GIRL ELOPES WITH NEGRO

Kalamazoo, Mich., Jan. 18.—Miss Hazel Lester, daughter of Herbert Lester, a leading Buffalo stock broker, eloped this morning with Harley Storrs, a colored coachman, employed by L. Houghton, of this city. Miss Lester for some time past has been visiting Miss Marie Houghton, one of the young society leaders here. Word was received about noon from the couple at Albion, stating the fact. Where Morris and Miss Lester went from the college town is not known, and beyond the message sent to the Houghtons nothing is known of their whereabouts. In 1900, it is said, Morris was in the employ of Herbert Lester at Buffalo, having charge of his stables. Lester has been notified of his daughter's escapade, but to word has as yet been received from him. Miss Lester is handsome, a decided blonde, and had always borne a splendid reputation in the circles in which she moved. Morris came to the city almost the same time as Miss Lester, and a preconcerted arrangement is thought to have existed. Beyond the fact that Morris at one time was employed by Lester at Buffalo, nothing is known of his history. He is almost white, though constantly associating with negroes. The facts regarding the elopement have been practically suppressed in this city, only a few connected with the family being aware of the affair. It is thought that the couple are headed for Canada.

GOLD HUNT IN LONDON.

Britishers Dig In Streets For Buried Prizes.

London, Jan. 18.—London, especially in the suburban districts, presented a scene during all last week like that in Paris recently, when the city was in the hands of the treasure hunters. The Weekly Dispatch, one of Alfred Harmsworth's publications, decided to follow the example set by one or two Paris newspapers, and an agent was busily employed burying treasure in the form of medallions, each of which entitled the finder to the sum of $25. In all, about $200 was thus distributed about the metropolitan district.

Clews were given in articles which appeared in the Sunday's issue of the Dispatch, and early on that day, men, women, and children, armed with sticks, umbrellas, and trowels, began to feel along the tops of walls, to explore crevices in the pavement, to grub about the bases of lampposts, and, despite the warnings printed that no medallions were buried in private property, to turn up the edges of lawns and public squares. The wags had been at work, and many persons came upon, as they thought, the much sought medallions, only to find later they were penny lead medals conveniently buried by some joker.

The Harmsworth newspapers had been booming the treasure hunt, but those of C. Arthur Pearson, who is considered a rival in the newspaper field, have been calling on the police to stop what was termed wholesale trespass and vandalism.

REVOLUTIONISTS DEFEATED. Buenos Ayres, Jan. 18.—It is an

GREATEST RECORD

In Export Figures of Cotton Was Made In 1903.

Value Averaged More Than One Million Dollars a Day.

FROM THE HERALD WASHINGTON BUREAU.

Washington, Jan. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—King Cotton made his greatest record in the export figures of the calendar year 1903. From 1853 to 1903 cotton exports averaged a little more than three-fourths of a million dollars a day. In 1903 they averaged more than one million dollars in value per day, in the last three months of 1903 they averaged more than two million dollars per day, and in the closing month of the year, nearly two and a half million dollars per day. Exports of cotton in December, 1903, show a greater value than in any preceding month in the history of cotton exportation, the total being over one million and two hundred dollars and thus averaging two and one-half million dollars for every day of the month. The value of cotton exports from the United States, as shown by the department of commerce and labor, through its bureau of statistics, was $33,600,000. These are only preliminary figures. These will not be materially changed by the revised statement to be issued later in the present month. The total value of the exports exceeds by sixty-four million dollars that of the preceding record year, 1900, when the value of the cotton exports was $24,000,000. The value of cotton exports never reached the $30,000,000 line except in the years 1900, 1901 and 1903. In 1900 the value was $24,000,000, in 1901, $30,000,000, and in 1903, $33,600,000.

While the total value of the year's exports of cotton was the highest on record, the quantity exported did not reach so high a figure as in 1903, when the value was much below that of 1903. The total quantity exported in 1903 was 2,020,000 bales, which exceeded that of any preceding year except 1893, when the total was 4,175,000 bales. The value of the cotton exports of 1903, however, was only $33,600,000, or less than two-thirds as much as in 1903, although the quantity in 1903 was thirteen per cent greater. Cotton forms constantly a very large share of the exports, and especially of the agricultural exports of the United States. During the entire period from 1853 to 1903 the value of cotton exports has aggregated over five millions of dollars. The value of cotton exports in 1903 was 2,020,000 bales, or nine per cent of the total exports of domestic products and 36 per cent of the agricultural products. The value of the cotton exports of 1903 was 2,020,000 bales, or nine per cent of the total exports and about 36 per cent of the total exports of agricultural products.

The United Kingdom was in 1903 the largest customer for our cotton. The total value of cotton exports from the United States to the United Kingdom in the calendar year 1903 was, in round terms, $11,700,000, and this total of $11,700,000 forms thirty-nine per cent of our total cotton exports in that year. Germany stood second on the list of our cotton customers, the total value of our cotton exports to Germany during the year being $11,000,000. France was third on the list of purchasers, our total exports of cotton to that country in 1903 being $7,400,000. To Italy, which stood next in the list, the total was $4,100,000, while Mexican purchases in 1903 were $3,100,000. To Japan, about $2,500,000, and to Mexico, a little over $2,000,000. While the United Kingdom is the largest purchaser of American cotton, her increase over preceding years is much less than that of Germany. The total value of our cotton exports to the United Kingdom in the year 1903 aggregated but about $7,400,000, or less than one-third of the total value of our cotton exports in 1903. The increase in the value of raw cotton exported from the United States in 1903, especially the value of our cotton exports, has never reached $30,000,000 since 1860, and has never but once fallen below the $30,000,000 line, and in 1903, as already stated, it was $33,600,000. This fact, the cotton mills of the United States have during that time consumed large quantities of cotton, more than ever before. Prior to 1903 the cotton mills of the United States had never in a single year consumed so much as 3 million bales of the domestic crop; since the beginning of that year the annual consumption has ranged from 2 1/2 million bales upward, and in 1903 and 1902, respectively, exceeded 4 million bales. The value of the exports of raw cotton averaged higher in quantity and value than ever before.

The table which follows shows the total quantity and value of cotton exported from the United States in each calendar year from 1853 to 1903:

Year	Quantity (bales)	Value ($)

WINTER IS COMING BRINGING CATARRH

Every Catarrh sufferer dreads the coming of winter, for with the first breath of the "ice-king" this miserable disease is fanned into life and all the disgusting symptoms return. The nostrils are stopped up and the throat can be kept clear of mucus and spitting. Catarrh is a nuisance and source of annoyance, not only to the one who has it, but everybody else. The thick, yellow discharge from the head produces a feeling of personal defilement, and the odor of the breath is almost intolerable.

The catarrhal poison brings on stomach troubles and affects the kidneys and bladder. It attacks the soft bones and tissues of the head and throat, causing total or partial deafness, the loss of smell, and giving to the voice a rasping, nasal twang. No part of the body is secure from its ravages. Catarrh makes you sick all over, for it is a disease of the blood, and circulates all through the system, and for this reason, sprays, washes, inhalers, powders and salves have proven failures.

The way to cure Catarrh thoroughly and permanently is to cleanse the blood of the unhealthy secretions that keep the membranes of the body inflamed, and nothing does this so surely and promptly as S. S. S. As long as the blood is poisoned with Catarrhal matter the discharge of mucus and other disgusting symptoms of the miserable disease will continue. S. S. S. goes to the fountain source of the trouble and purifies and enriches the blood, and so invigorates and tones up the system that catching cold and contracting Catarrh is not so likely to occur. Keep the blood in order and winter's coming brings none of the discomforts of Catarrh.

Write us particulars of your case, and let our physicians help you get rid of the blood-tainting and stubborn disease. We make no charge whatever for medical advice.

A GROWING TRADE

Robert F. Fitzgerald Talks of American Commerce in Mexico.

Developing at Great Rate—American Methods Being Introduced.

Robert F. Fitzgerald, of the Duluth Shoe company, who has just returned from an extended trip through Mexico and Cuba, is surprised and delighted at what he learned of the natural wealth and progressiveness of Mexico, where he and Mrs. Fitzgerald spent four weeks, traveling in that time from one end of the country to the other.

To be brought to a full realization of the commercial importance of Mexico, and an understanding of the immediacy of its trade relations with the United States," said Mr. Fitzgerald today, "one must himself visit this land of sunshine."

"The trade of the United States with Mexico, exports and imports combined, has doubled during the last five years. It is a big business, full of life and promise. The expansion of the last few years, of course, no other country will come without special effort. The two countries just naturally grow into closer and more important commercial and industrial relations."

"In the year ending June 30 last the value of goods imported from Mexico was $41,000,000, while Mexican purchases in the United States amounted to $42,000,000. About 60 per cent in value of Mexico's exports are to the United States. Our total trade with Mexico is $83,000,000 a year."

In 1899 the aggregate was only $15,000,000; in 1870, $8,000,000, and in 1850, $2,500,000. Our largest item of export to Mexico is iron and steel manufactures, including $1,000,000 worth of machinery last year. This republic has nearly a monopoly of the Mexican market in many great branches of trade. All that remains to be done is to widen and stimulate the Mexican demand. As the country develops and increases its purchasing power, the demand for American goods will come to the United States. In the main, as far as foreign commerce is concerned, Mexico is a market for American products will surely come, and the larger the profits will be upon American capital invested."

"American business enterprises, the use of American capital and the presence of an increasingly large number of Americans in Mexico all stimulate powerfully the progress of Mexican industries and the general economic advance of that country. The closer the relation between the neighboring republics grow, the bigger, richer and more profitable will be the market for American products will surely come, and the larger the profits will be upon American capital invested."

WORKS OF ART

Unearthed In Sub-Basement of the Capitol at Washington.

Change By Court Decision In Dealings With the Indians.

FROM THE HERALD WASHINGTON BUREAU.

Washington, Jan. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Stowed away in an obscure room in the sub-basement of the capitol are forty or fifty boxes, which have lain in the dust for thirty years or more. These boxes contain works of art of more or less merit. Some of them are entitled to rank with the best brush products to be found in the capitol. It would be difficult to find the owners of many of these pictures. Nearly every one was sent to the capitol years ago in the hope that congress would authorize the purchase of the canvases to add to the gallery of portraits and pictures which adorn, or disfigure the walls of the building—according to the point of view.

A day or two ago one of these boxes was opened. A canvas 53 1/2 feet was revealed. It was a painting of a scene with the accumulated dust of three decades that a glance failed to show that a brush mark had ever been made upon it. It was carried to the little room in the terrace where Mr. Dicks, the official custodian of all the capitol paintings, has a studio. A careful application of a restorer's eye brought out a portrait of Lincoln. The beauty of the work revealed under the dust caused exclamations of astonishment from everyone who was given the opportunity to view the picture. It proved to be the work of Travis, a celebrated artist of the sixties. It is by many degrees the most perfect likeness of the first martyr president ever seen in Washington. There are still living in this city a number of men who knew Lincoln in life. All of them who saw this portrait join in declaring that it is by far the best counterfeit presentment of Mr. Lincoln that has been where. The owner of the picture proves to be a Washington man who is now trying to sell it for $25,000. A resolution to this effect passed the senate some years ago, but it failed in the house and for years the portrait has remained boxed up and forgotten.

In that same room in the sub-basement a life-sized, full-length portrait of Roosevelt was found. Like the picture of Lincoln, the "Roosevelt" canvas has been buried for an age. Its history is a story of neglect and its owner unknown. Still another box contains a picture of the "First Homestead" in America. That too, is without a known owner, and although evidently the work of an expert with the brush it is covered with a fine dust and cobwebs, and there it is likely to repose for another decade or more.

A sensational story appeared in a local paper a few days ago, to the effect that a negro had been captured while trying to steal a book containing copies of all United States notes and silver certificates. The story said that secret service agents were supplied with these books and that one of them had been found in the hands of a negro. The story was asked today what there is to the story. "Some fifteen years ago an official of the department obtained permission to have printed at the bureau of engraving and printing copies of all United States notes. These faces and backs were reproduced on card board and were bound into books. The object being to furnish a means of enabling bankers and other large users of money, to detect counterfeit. The scheme was a good one, from one standpoint, but it had one from every other. In 1891 congress enacted a law whereby prohibiting the ownership by any individual of any portion of a printed or engraved obligation of the United States which had not been properly issued. Under the act of 1891 the secret service officials seized several card board copies of the reproductions of notes and certificates. All of these seized were destroyed. But the secret service failed to destroy all that had been sold. Every one who saw one of these books turns up somewhere followed by all sorts of phantoms relative to "stolen papers" and "counterfeits" and so forth.

"The agents of the secret service are not supplied with half printed notes. None of these are issued to anyone and the only copies of faces and backs known to be in existence are the few which are framed and are hanging on the wall of the treasury department and some of its bureaus."

The decision of the supreme court that the government stands in relation to the Indian as a trustee stands in its way, has brought about a great change in the minds of the secretary of the interior and the commissioner of Indian Affairs. Heretofore the commissioner of Indian Affairs has held that the Indian must be consulted as to changes contemplated in treaties, or in making of new treaties, throwing Indian reservations open to settlement. The opinion of the supreme court, however, holding that the government stands to the Indian as a trustee, and is, therefore, in position to do that which is best for the Indian, without the ward being considered, makes contemplated legislation, looking to the opening of Indian lands to settlement much easier than heretofore. This practically applies to the Rosebud reservation, in Gregory county.

ty, S. D. Here is a body of land, 416,000 acres in extent, which the South Dakota and the Nebraska delegations in congress have been endeavoring to throw open to settlement for a number of years. The Indian office has held that the consent of the Indians must be first obtained before any action could be taken segregating this land from other portions of the reservation. Then, again, the Indian office has been of the opinion that the land should bring $5 an acre, which, according to the best judges, was out of all reason. In fact it was prohibitive in character, and the treaty which an agent of the interior department sought to make with the Indians failed because the Indian office had held out to the wards of the government a hope which is not to be realized.

The bill which Congressman Burke of South Dakota introduced, and which has been reported favorably from the Indian affairs committee of the house, provides that the lands in the Rosebud reservation shall be sold for $250 per acre, 50 cents per acre to be paid when entry is made, 50 cents within two years after entry, 50 cents within three years after entry, and 50 cents within six months after expiration of five years after entry. The settler may commute his entry by paying the full price and receive patent as provided for in the general homestead and townships. These lands are to be disposed of under the general provisions of the homestead and townships laws of the United States, and shall be opened to settlement by proclamation of the president. Union soldiers and sailors of the civil and Spanish wars are to have the same preference as prescribed in the general homestead laws. Sections 16 and 36 of each township are ceded to South Dakota for school purposes. The land is said to have been over it to be very good for homestead purposes, and is surrounded on all sides by fertile agricultural proposition, but one that holds out strong inducements to those who till the soil and who are looking for homes in the great Northwest.

It is not generally known that the United States is largely engaged in the manufacture of macaroni and spaghetti. We are inclined to think that such articles are made only by Europeans, but this is not the case, for, as a result of expert testimony, macaroni and spaghetti are made in almost every state in the Union, and thousands of men, boys and girls are employed in their manufacture.

While this industry is still in its infancy in the United States, many thousands of dollars have been expended in machinery, equipment and apparatus to bring about the production of this article of food. At the present time it has been estimated that 2500 barrels of flour are consumed in the daily manufacture of macaroni and spaghetti in the United States, the manufacturers engaged in this business being found along the coast of the Atlantic from the lake to the gulf and from the Atlantic to the Pacific. It is constantly expected that with the continuation of existing conditions, and with the present rate of tariff, the production of macaroni and spaghetti will be doubled within the next five years.

Macaroni is now considered more of a staple article of diet than before, and thousands are now using it where before this product was unknown. During the past season, when potatoes and corn were scarce, it was used as a substitute for these articles, and it was then demonstrated that at a very small cost a dish could be provided, containing more nutriment, perhaps, than any other food product that could be produced for a like sum. The average price obtained by American producers of macaroni is a trifle under 4 cents per pound, and while but little profit is realized by the manufacturers, this is due entirely to the large quantities of paste goods imported from France and Italy. American manufacturers have been caused to be discouraged when it is realized that American labor cannot be had as cheaply as labor in France and Italy, when it is realized that considerable more money has to be expended by the producers in this country, because of the cost of drying European countries, where the climate is not so warm and dry, additional expense is incurred in purchasing the necessary artificial means of drying the product. Notwithstanding all the difficulties with which American producers have to contend, the production of macaroni and spaghetti bids fair to become a most profitable one.

Reference to statistics shows that the annual importation of macaroni and other paste articles amounts to about twenty-five pounds, making a total importation of 15,000,000 pounds per year. Were it possible to increase the output of the American manufacturers by one-half the amount imported from Europe, additional persons in this country, not only this, but 37,000 barrels of flour more would be consumed than at present; the manufacturers of wooden cases would be benefited; also time manufacturing paper, paper cartons, twine, machinery necessary, and transportation companies would all be largely benefited.

As said before the manufacture of macaroni is still in an infantile state, but it is believed that the output may be increased, and the time is not far distant when macaroni may be considered and known throughout the entire country as one of the most healthful, least expensive and most nutritious of all American food products.

For Treasurer Inglis of St. Andrew's Society at Chicago.

For Months Had Shown Signs of Mental Derangement.

Chicago, Jan. 19.—Heartbroken over the disappearance of her husband, Mrs. William P. Inglis returned yesterday to her residence at 451 Holden avenue, after a hard search in two states for the treasurer of the St. Andrew's society, who disappeared on Dec. 27. Mrs. Inglis made the announcement that the family fortune in stocks and bonds could not be found. The aged woman believes her husband had conspired it with the missing aspect of the St. Andrew's society, and declares the hiding place will be revealed when Mr. Inglis is found. "My husband left Chicago while I was in the city," she said. "I am following every clue. His name must be cleared of these accusations which have been brought against him."

All received information last Tuesday from the marshal at Poplar Bluffs, Mo., which led her to believe Mr. Inglis was there. He told me of seeing a stranger man, who evidently was out of his mind. I went to Cairo, Ill., and found the captain of the steamer which carried the man down the river. He said he believed the aged passenger resembled the picture which the police have."

At Decatur, Ill., Mrs. Inglis brought the report that the old man was fourteen miles from the city, seeking a place to hide. I started in a carriage before daylight. It was a lonely drive, but the thought that my husband was somewhere near made me nearly frantic, and I kept on until I was nearly exhausted. I found twenty-three miles I found the aged man, who was a white beard, but he was not my husband. We left him with a farmer, and I came home."

Often severe, heavy, aching pains, passing down the small of my back, and it was accompanied with irregularity and unnatural condition of the kidney secretions. I tried everything in my power to check the trouble, but was unsuccessful until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at a drug store. FROM THE HERALD
WASHINGTON BUREAU

Washington, Jan. 19.—(Special to the Herald.)—It is evident that the burden of the campaign for a ship subsidy bill has been shifted from the shoulders of the owners of fast passenger vessels to those of steam and sailing ships. The bill, which is now before the Senate, is a great deal of the opposition to the project from which those who fought the bills heretofore, because they were designed to aid principally the American Navigation Company. A hearing was given by the house committee on merchant marine to a bill introduced by Representative Gardner, of Massachusetts, to appoint a commission to investigate the condition of the American merchant marine, and to recommend a bill for the relief of the American merchant marine of unworky memory, for the International Mercantile Marine association, which is a trust, was represented, but every prominent independent shipyard on the coast, and the owners of the sailing vessels and tramp steamers, together with experts on the merchant marine, were present. Among the speakers were Rear Admiral Frank B. Rowley, formerly chief of staff of the navy, and the president of the United States ship company, Quincy, Mass., Alfred Windsor, president of the Boston Steamship and the Eastern Steamship companies, and Capt. J. H. Cull, president of the Newport News Shipbuilding company. Edward C. Smith, president of the William Cramp & Sons Shipbuilding company of Philadelphia, Samuel S. Sewall, of New York, president of the New York & New England Steamship company, R. Smith, superintendent of the Marine Exchange, of New York, and J. H. Smith, president of the New York Shipbuilding company, of Camden, N. J., and Superintendent of Navigation, of the department of commerce, were present.

Representative Gardner, who introduced the bill, explained that the bill would give to the United States the annual message of President Roosevelt. He outlined the history of American commerce with Spain, which in 1800 amounted to 20,000 tons in 100 years, although the exports had increased to 1,000,000 tons in the last period. At present but 9 per cent of that trade was carried in American ships. He stated that the United States in this country in the recent war with Spain, and predicted that the United States would be the victor. He said that a war between Germany and England, which he felt was sure to come, would result in the United States being allied with Spain. Listing 11 days," he said, "and even that should be sufficient to enable the United States to build a mercantile marine, such as we have as an adjunct to our war establishment." But suppose that the United States had been a war of disturbance with Spain had been a war to death between Germany and England, which he said would have been practically speaking all of our carrying, had swept even other countries out of the market. He would have carried these $2,000,000 worth of exports and imports to the United States through the congestion of business would have been incalculable. I know that many of you are of the opinion that that many of you are of the opinion that England and Germany is unlikely to have a war. Mr. Gardner asked the question, "Mr. Gardner, would you not rather have a war between Germany and England than have a war between Germany and Spain?" He said that a war between Germany and England would be a war between a merchant marine, and

In a letter received from Capt. Resche, the council last evening was asked to consider the proposition of enlarging the Armory.

The letter stated that if the two divisions of the reserve were to be accommodated in the building, it would be necessary to complete the structure as it was originally planned. When the present structure was erected, the Navy had in mind a larger building and there is still a part of the foundation, 15 by 100 feet in size, on which no superstructure is erected.

The letter also stated that the naval reserve would in all probability have about $100,000 worth of government property and equipment stored in the proposed place where they could keep it.

The expenditure required for the proposed addition would be about $250,000, according to the estimates furnished by the board of public works.

The matter was referred to the committee on public buildings and the city engineer should furnish an estimate of the cost of the proposed addition.

Alderman Sarg introduced a resolution recommending that the volunteer fire department be reimbursed for the volunteer's expenses an hour for the time they worked on the fire. The resolution was adopted.

Alderman Mannheim moved, and the city agreed to pay $100 per month be paid into the treasury of the volunteer department at New Duluth. The city also agreed to pay $100 per month to the volunteer fire department at New Duluth Heights and that after each fire the amount of money in the treasury be divided equally among the volunteer fire departments present at the fire.

There will be some incentive for the volunteer fire departments at New Duluth, Mannheim, in speaking to the motion. "There is not likely to be more than one or two departments at New Duluth, and with $100 or $120 in the treasury to be divided, the men will go directly to the fire department and get the money. Perhaps, for the sake of getting the help. It will give the people of these sections a very small cost of the city."

Alderman Sarg agreed to support the amendment in place of the original motion.

Alderman McEwen objected to the amount allowed Duluth Heights, claiming that although the value of the property interests there might be smaller, the volunteer department was just as large and just as enthusiastic as the Duluth Heights. He said that the same amount of money should be allowed each.

His amendment was adopted by both Alderman Sang and Alderman Mannheim, and the motion carried without opposition.

Alderman Barnes quoted a short interview with P. R. Haley, the West Duluth contractor, which appeared in a recent edition of The Herald, and in which Mr. Haley stated that sewers could be constructed during the winter months at a smaller cost than in the summer, owing to the scarcity of labor during the summer, and the cost of propping up the sides of the sewer. Mr. Barnes added that the board of public works investigate the matter and report whether the plan is feasible or

In accordance with the report of the committee on auditing and county conference, the city sealer of weights and measures will hereafter be compelled to keep on file a statement of the results of the work done by him. The committee reported that there is a present record of the measurement of coal and coal, but recommended that a record of the tests of scales and measures be also kept.

A letter was received from John McKee, of 2116 West Second street, in which the writer claims that the money expended for the free labor bureau was thrown away. The letter is as follows:

Tuesday's Evening Herald I noticed a report from W. F. Markus, chief free employment office, business agent for the city, that in the first half of the year in which he states he hired 229 men at an expense of $1,000, he had not been able to find work for 229 men. He said, "I do not doubt he thought that it issued that many tickets but I want to ascertain how many of those tickets were cashed. I want to know what went to work? If he, in passing along Superior street, saw a man with a ticket in his hand, he would call out to him, 'What's the sidewalk or gutters there for?' and he would tell him to go to work. I was scarcely a day when he could not have picked up tickets he had issued, and that had been thrown away. I venture to say that the same thing has happened in other cities. I have called attention to the fact that no complaints have been lodged by men not procuring work. The chief of police can certainly

"It seems to me that if the city would use the money spent by the free employment bureau in replacing sidewalk tax-payers than throwing it away on a large number of men who are neither citizens or taxpayers."

Lake avenue, from Fifth street to the boulevard. The city engineer submitted an estimate of the cost of the work of $4001.25.

C. H. Graves, W. B. Getchell, J. W. Crowley, C. Flynn and J. W. Rowley were appointed commissioners to investigate the proposed building line easements on East Superior street and East First street. Their compensation was fixed at $5 per day.

The aldermen of the Second ward reported that the powder house at Kenwood, concerning which numerous complaints have been received, would be removed to the Wisconsin side within the next sixty days.

The members of the council extended their sympathy to Alderman and Mrs. Krumsteg in the death of their infant daughter, on a resolution by Alderman McEwen.

To the Editor of The Herald:
Your editorial, "The Awful Fire Loss," in your issue of Jan. 12, hit the nail squarely upon the head. All editorials are educational, or should be so; but that particular kind of writing merits the term "educational" in the very largest sense of the word. Would that more papers would follow your splendid example.

Since this construction was first used in the early 1970s, it has been used so often that it has collapsed even before it was completed, and many lives have been crushed out in these accidents. Some of the people who are in the form of construction, and others surround it with so many rules and regulations that no longer can they build the proper structure. It has been rumored of late that people in Duluth intended putting up a new bridge, but they were shown a crane up good construction. I would use a month of construction. Whatever I might say against that mode of construction might be a little bit of a problem. I have been told that because I have been called a "partisan" to the old rebellion, steel and iron. I know so well of the weaknesses of this new-fangled a crane and a month of construction. I know that I am really bitter against it.

So I wish you, if you are interested in the matter, as I think you are, to read the issue of the Brickbuilder for December, 1903. That magazine is easily the leading architectural journal in the country. I don't think it could be tainted with "partisanship," even if it may be. That editorial is a timely warning and I can think of no more pertinent to the subject, than the good of your city, certainly as far as building are concerned, than to give it to you, read it, and act on it.

Under separate cover I also send you a magazine called Fireproof, in which you will find a statement of the year's work in fireproofing. I think it is most pertinent to the subject, that I know you will be interested in and that you may deem it advisable to give to your readers.

Washington, Jan. 15.

Editorial from the Brick-builder, December, 1936, published at 85 Water street, Boston.

Justice to the community ought to be a decided stand taken by every one of us. It is a stand for the protection, in permanence of building, against such concrete work as was done in the construction of the first time since the floors of a courthouse in eastern Illinois collapsed almost without warning. It is a stand for the fact that when a building was under construction it was being installed in a large manufacturing plant at Trenton, N. J., collapsed and killed 100 men. It is a stand for the fact that it fell from the third story through the second and third floors, killing 100 men and others and doing $20,000 worth of damage. It is a stand for the fact that the apartment house in Pittsburgh, section of each of the floors were totally destroyed. It is a stand for the fact that the men who were killed, 20 men were in peril of their lives. It is a stand for the fact that the men who were killed, 20 men were in peril of their lives. It is a stand for the fact that the men who were killed, 20 men were in peril of their lives.

damage was killed. The roof felt taking on all the lower floors through to the top. The roof was not damaged. It has been in place about five months. The construction consisted of expanded metal mesh, 12 inches by 12 inches, with 1/2 inch steel rods between beams. Concrete was poured over the mesh. The concrete was 4 inches thick. The number of concrete construction is not known. The concrete is not a single year is certainly appalling. Of course their failure was due to poor workmanship. The concrete was poured into a trench which happens, but that is not a very good design of a wall system. The fact that other systems fail occasionally is not a very good design. The concrete is not only failed under great varying circumstances but has been found to be very poor. The concrete is the very quality for which it is chiefly known. The concrete is not a very good design, which does not guard against fire, which has killed scores of men. The concrete is not a very good design. The intelligent architect or builder who is interested in the safety of his building, which is by no means fully explained by the fact that the concrete is not a very good design, not condemn concrete, altogether. In its use and in its place, for some purposes, the concrete is a very good design. The builder has at command, but we have a very good design, which is not a very good design, or column construction, which in our opinion is a very good design, trusted to the building.

The king of Nicolania is a monarch who spends most of his time to studying out means of getting rid of his subjects. He has a favorite procedure by betting on any proposition that comes before him. He has lost all of his money all of the time. As the king he is allowed two wives and each wife is allowed to have two children. The king is banished for eight years.

At the time the first act opens one of the king's subjects of roach is in his allotted period of time to make a marriage with Teresa, who is his ward and who has barrels of money. About the same time the United States navy comes in and in an attempt to capture the king, Katchaloff, S. N., arrives shortly afterward in search of the dealers who are selling the king's subjects. The king is looking as visitors from the sun.

At the close of the first act of Teresa and at the close of the piece is the receipt of the king's consent to marry his ward. The king's subjects are told of his fortune. Into this story is woven anything that has been heard here this year.

Burt Haverly as Bom Boska is good enough to have apparently had lost the greater part of his voice last night. William M. Armstrong as Katchell, has an opportunity to use an excellent voice to advantage in a number of songs. The opportunity James Francis and Toby Lyon as Collins and Mackinaw are comedians of the type which many audiences find more amusing than the type of the numerous ludicrous situations in an admirable manner.

John W. Hayward, as Teresa, displays a face and figure that are pleasing to look upon and her singing is of a high order. Leslie Leigh as Kamora, whose songs are as beautiful as her appearance, well and sings better, making a strong hit in "Peggy Brady."

TO FIGHT FIRES

Park Point Residents to Organize Volunteer Department.

Desire to Make Use of Street Railway Tracks.

A volunteer fire department is in process of formation on Park Point. The residents of the point are at present entirely without adequate fire protection of any kind. In the summer a tug can reach some parts of the point, but the water below the beach house is too shallow to allow the residents of the lower end of the point any protection from this source.

There is a volunteer bucket brigade in existence at present, and it has done good work at recent fires, but the equipment is very inadequate. Since the first fire on Park Point was extinguished, the residents of that district have had no protection.

"We hope to secure some kind of apparatus that can be run along the street railway tracks," said Alderman Walker last evening. "If we could make some arrangement with the company whereby the apparatus could be kept on a siding and run out in case of a fire it would give us the best possible service. Almost every house on the point could be reached from the railway tracks and the lack of good roads could thus be overcome."

The work of organizing the department was first taken up shortly before the primary election. There was a rather close fight in the primaries in that ward and the plan was allowed to drop for a time, but it will be taken up again and completed at an early date, I hope.

Alderman Walker received assistance from the other members of the council last evening, that when the Park Point department had been organized it would receive the same allowance of $20 per month which was granted to the Duluth and Duluth Heights departments. The plan of organizing such a department was first considered several months ago, when one of two disastrous fires caused several of the residents of that locality to lose all their earthly possessions. No action was taken at that time, however.

FOR NAVAL RESERVE.

Bill Creating One Introduced in the House.

Washington, Jan. 19.—Bills creating a naval reserve and reorganizing the naval militia were introduced by Representative Foss, chairman of the house committee on naval affairs. Both bills have the endorsement of the naval board and the naval militia association of the United States. The naval reserve bill provides for the enrollment in the navy of seafaring men, or men who, in the past have followed that occupation. This force is to be equipped and supplied with uniforms, is to be drilled by naval officers for a certain period each year, during which time its members will receive the regular pay of enlisted men in the navy. In time of war the naval reserves is to become a part of the naval force.

The bill to reorganize the naval militia follows the lines of the "Dick law" reorganizing the state militia.

Under all the circumstances it is a matter of public knowledge that the government is endeavoring to secure the services of a revolution. The attitude of the United States constitutes, according to the most ancient and modern authority on international law, not only a great offense, but a formal attack upon her honor.

Hay comments, "your repetition of gross imputations upon the conduct and motives of the government is a disgraceful and unwelcome appearance in the Republican newspaper."

Secretary Hay says the United States has since the treaty of 1846 been engaged in the full burden of its responsibility for the maintenance of the peace of the great design of the treaty of 1846 remains as has heretofore been shown, that the United States has been the victim of a canal by the government of the United States.

Under the result of the action of the government in Bogota in repudiating the Hay-Panama treaty, the United States has been forced to take a position in connection with the revolution in Panama, which has been a considerable credit to its honor and its credit.

CAMPAIGN PEPS

Mayor Hugo Reads Republican Platform to the Voters.

Keynote of Speeches Is Appeal to Republican Partisanship.

The Republican campaign was opened in Duluth last night at the meeting of the Garfield Republican club, in Hunter hall, when Mayor Hugo and other prominent Republicans made addresses, and the platform on which Mr. Hugo is to stand for re-election, drawn up by the Republican city committee, was read.

The mayor and other speakers of the evening made an urgent appeal to the voters to stand by the Republican party. "Do not let this campaign be one of personalities," was the sentiment most strongly expressed by every speaker. Mayor Hugo dwelt with emphasis upon the fact that the meeting was not only the first gun of the municipal campaign, but that it was also virtually the first gun fired in the presidential campaign, for Duluth is the first city in the United States to open its municipal campaign so early in the year. The speaker was careful to heartily endorse the platform as read by Mayor Hugo.

TWO HUNDRE THEATRICAL PEOPLE ROUTED FROM BEL BY HOTEL FIRE IN CHICAGO

Panic Among Frightened Men and Women Narrowly Averted.
Several Were Overcome
But No Lives Were Lost.

Ill-Luck Seems to Follow
Stranded Actors and Actresses.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—Ill fortune of Chicago theatrical people during the last few weeks was again in evidence at a fire in the Grand Palace hotel, Indiana and Clark streets, early today, nearly 200 members of theatrical troupes being driven into the streets by the flames. It was with difficulty that a panic was averted and the frightened men and women assisted from the structure in safety.

The fire originated on the second floor, supposedly from crossed electrical wires, and was carried quickly up the elevator shaft by a draught to the top floor.

Joseph Northrop, a guest of the hotel, saw the smoke in the shaft and ran down stairs in the rear of the building to notify the night clerk. The clerk immediately started to awaken the guests, and Northrop helped arouse the guests on the top floor.

The halls were soon filled with excited men and women. The other guests were compelled to force their way back from the windows and fire escapes, toward which a rush was being made. A number of women were preparing to jump from the windows when policemen arrived and aided the work of restraint and rescue. The women were taken down stairs, down which they escaped through the smoke that was pouring upward from the lower floors. Miss Louise Mitchell, who had been hemmed in by the flames, was rescued by the firemen and taken down a fire escape. Few of the guests had time to dress, and but few of the women had thought of their theatrical wardrobes and stood shivering in the lower halls of the building, holding some gaudy decoration of gauze and tinsel. The fire was extinguished quickly after the guests had been taken from the building.

The building is a part of the H. J. Dickey estate. It is a six-story brick building, well provided with tracks and escapes. The damage to the structure was about $500.

This is the second fire in the building in the last two weeks. The first fire started from a lighted cigarette thrown on the hall carpet on the third floor.

Almost all the guests at the hotel are members of the theatrical companies stranded in Chicago.

BIG AVALANCHE

Pacific Road.

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 20.—Traffic on the Canadian Pacific railway west of Calgary was completely paralyzed yesterday and word of a terrific snowslide has just reached Winnipeg. An avalanche of snow left the mountain side some miles west of Calgary at a point known as "The Bow," crashing and tumbling down the height and carrying everything before it. The monstrous snowslide, which was for several hundred feet and wiped away the telegraph wires, and the snow threatened. Fortunately no train was on the track at the time, but it must have been buried beneath the snow.

So far only the most meager details have been received here, but it is not thought that anyone was injured. Men are engaged in digging out the road and relaying the rails.

The transcontinental express from the West, due to reach Winnipeg yesterday morning, was held for twenty-four hours by the slide. A snowslide is being run east from Laggan, about 100 miles west of Calgary, on account of the accident.

TO LIE IN STATE.

Thousands of Children Will View Train's Body.

New York, Jan. 20.—The body of George Francis Train, who died early yesterday, has been removed from Mills' hotel, No. 1, to a mortuary chapel, where it will lie in state until the funeral hour tomorrow. Thousands of children, in whom Mr. Train displayed remarkable interest, are expected to take a farewell view of the remains. The funeral will be private and interment will be made in Greenwood cemetery. Of his once considerable fortune Mr. Train retained nothing personally except the interest of the 2000 lots in once owned in Omaha. Protracted litigation has taken place about them, and it is said, he continued by his daughter.

ANOTHER TYPHOID VICTIM.

Peoria, Ill., Jan. 20.—The death of Alonzo Alexander makes the fifteenth victim of the epidemic of typhoid fever, which has been raging at Canton, in Fulton county. Dr. E. F. Baker, of the state board of health, has been called in consultation with the local board of health to devise some means of checking the epidemic. For several weeks typhoid has baffled all efforts to suppress it.

ELECTIONS TRANSFERRED.

Rome, Jan. 20.—The pope has issued a personal order transferring the election of bishops who do not depend on the propaganda from the special commission of cardinals to the congregation of the holy office, of which the pope is the head.

SCHWAB WILLING TO RELEASE HOLD ON BETHLEHEM PLANT

Makes a Proposition to Four First Mortgage Bondholders to That Effect—Is Not Satisfactory to Them But May Lead to Compromise.

New York, Jan. 20.—Charles M. Schwab has made to the four first mortgage bondholders who are pressing the action for a permanent receivership for the United States Shipbuilding company, what is tantamount, says the Times, to an offer releasing his hold on the Bethlehem Steel property.

The offer came as the result of a long series of conferences which would up in a meeting of three hours duration in Mr. Schwab's office. It was, however, not accepted, nor did the conditions under which it was discussed later by William Nelson Cromwell, counsel for the Sheldon reorganization committee, and Samuel Untermyer, at the former's residence, admit of what might be called a definite proposition for the reorganization of the Shipbuilding company.

The conference, it is understood, had to do with a tentative plan by which the second mortgage bonds to the extent of $10,000,000, which Mr. Schwab holds as the purchase price of his Bethlehem properties, and the $16,000,000 of general first mortgage bonds on the entire Shipbuilding company would be placed on an equal basis. This, it is understood is not, and will not be acceptable to the four first mortgage bondholders lacking the Conklin suit, who believe that despite the fact that Mr. Schwab's bonds are a first mortgage on the Bethlehem plant by reason of the terms of the deal incorporated in one of the constituent properties of the ship combination, their holdings and the holdings of every first mortgage bondholder ought to go ahead of the Schwab bonds in any settlement.

There the matter stands at present, with the prospect, it is stated, of an amended offer and a resumption of conferences looking to some kind of an agreement to end the long-drawn-out controversy.

These conferences were the most important of any held since the litigation began, inasmuch as the definite decision to submit to the federal court in Jersey court a week ago by a number of persons, including practically all the shareholders on the Sheldon reorganization committee, and disinterested persons who were called to pass upon the fairness of the proposition. The approval of the latter was given, it is learned, and, according to certain reports, the advice of Benedict Smith was obtained. The resultant plan was therefore considered by the parties concerned in proposing it, as a general proposition and barring details to be considered later quite as far as they can go in the matter.

COLOMBIAN TROOPS ILL; WILL PROBABLY ABANDON CAMPAIGN

Many of the Soldiers Who Went to the Panama Border Are Unable to Stand the Heat and Have Returned Much Discontented.

New York, Jan. 20.—Strong indications that there will be no war between Panama and Colombia have been observed by Bishop Junguito, who has just returned from Cartagena and Barranquilla, capitals the Panama correspondent of the Herald.

The bishop journeyed to Colombia to see the pope's nuncio, who is enroute home. He declares that many of the soldiers who went to the front along the border have returned with ill health. The soldiers from the interior, who have not seen the heat of the climate and the conditions in Colombian camps.

There are no facilities for getting supplies and there is no food for the soldiers. The hospitals are reported everywhere. The troops are not anxious to start on a hard journey to the isthmus and the continent along the coast favoring the abandoning the campaign.

The people of the border are anxious to be rid of the burden imposed on them by paying the army and all the officials on a gold basis, as they have received no gold from Bogota and the drain is greater than they are willing to make. The government junta here has letters from Gen. Del Toro and other points showing that there has been no further advance of the Colombian army.

IMPORTANT BATTLE TO BE FOUGHT

New York, Jan. 20.—Seven hundred government soldiers are on the march to Santiago, the rebel stronghold, says a Herald dispatch from Puerto Plata, Santo Domingo. It is believed this battle will be the most important of the Jimenez revolution. The rebels are firmly entrenched in their camp and it is reported they will make a desperate resistance. Details of the capture of Puerto Plata a few days ago by the government forces, show, according to the Herald's correspondent, that the commander of an American warship in the harbor practically managed the battle and that a fighting zone demarcated by the forces of Gen. Jimenez.

DOMINICANS WANT PROTECTORATE

New York, Jan. 20.—It is reported here, says a Herald dispatch from St. Thomas, D. W. I., that the Dominican minister of foreign affairs, accompanied by a delegate, has left San Domingo for Washington, to attempt to make arrangements with the United States to establish a protectorate over the republic of Santo Domingo.

A dispatch last night from San Juan, P. R., correspondent of the Associated Press, announced the arrival there of a delegate on his way to Washington, with the object of soliciting recognition of the Morones government and an assurance of an equivalent to its consul general in New York. No mention was made of a desire for a protectorate.

DRIVERS GO ON STRIKE AT ST. LOUIS

St. Louis, Jan. 20.—Pursuant to an order issued at a meeting held late last night by the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, 800 hack and carriage drivers went on strike today to force their demands for $12.50 a week pay, a twelve-hour day, 25 cents an hour for overtime and recognition of their union. A small proportion of this number are men working in East St. Louis. The strike is directed against the St. Louis Livestockmen and Undertaking association.

Representatives of the union declare that the strike management will continue no violence. William Reynolds, business agent of the union, adds that the union controls 250 independent carriages and eight hearse, and that with these they propose to conduct whatever funerals there will be during the strike. He says there will be no trouble here as there was in Chicago.

MOTHER ARRESTED FOR MURDER

Patterson, N. J., Jan. 20.—Mrs. Arthur Oswald was arrested today on the charge of murdering her 5-year-old son, at her home in Oakland. She is believed to be insane. The tragedy was discovered by the woman's husband when he returned home last night. As he entered the dining room he was horrified to see the headless body of his son lying on the floor. The head lay near the boy's feet. Nearby lay the body of his pet dog, which also had been beheaded. Oswald said her wife lay in bed with her young baby in her arms. She was smiling and holding the infant. Near the bed two other children lay sleeping in a crib. The woman did not recognize her husband nor seem to understand what was said to her.

INSPECTORS NEGLIGENT

Chicago Officials Shown
In Bad Light By Manager.

Inspectors In Other Cities
Were Always Prying Around.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—Edwin H. Price, manager of "Mr. Bluebeard, Jr.," at the Iroquois inquest today, showed up the work of Chicago building inspectors in bad light, compared with inspectors of other cities.

Manager Price said he frequently has seen inspectors examining exits in other places during the progress of performances, but never at the Iroquois. The manager's evidence was designed to exonerate Klaw & Erlanger from all responsibility for the fire, and to lay the blame on the theater management.

Mr. Price gave his occupation as "manager for Klaw & Erlanger."

He said that Mr. Erlanger put on the "bluebeard" show and hired the members of the company.

Asked if he had known where the fire escape exits were he replied: "I know where they were because I saw them before the draperies, so much discussed, were put up."

"In other cities," he said, "we often were annoyed by inspectors who came around during performances to see that the exits were open."

"Were you ever annoyed by inspectors in Chicago?"

"No."

Mr. Price described the fire at Cleveland in October. He denied that similar conditions existed in Chicago.

ADDITIONAL ARRESTS Made at Denver For Election Law Violation.

Denver, Jan. 20.—Additional arrests have been made as a result of the investigation of charges of fraud at the recent elections. The persons arrested are Mrs. Ellis J. EMPRESS INDISPOSED.

Excludes Ladies From the Drawing Room.

Berlin, Jan. 20.—Empress Augusta Victoria has various ailments in one of her legs and is obliged to keep it extended on a cushion. The exclusion of ladies from tonight's drawing room because of the empress' indisposition has caused intense disappointment on the part of many women of distinction who have come from the provinces or other countries for presentation.

Usually only one drawing room is held each season at this court, and it is uncertain now whether there will be any this winter to which ladies will be invited.

The empress' physicians think she probably will be able to attend the court ball of four of which will be given in February.

MAY CHANGE DATES.

Educational Meeting Conflicts
With Democratic Convention.

Winona, Minn., Jan. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Irwin Shepard, of the National Educational association, says: "The association, on its own initiative, without a communication from the Democrats, is taking a vote of the executive committee, by correspondence, to see if, in view of the Democratic national convention being called to meet in St. Louis, on the same date selected by the Democrats, it would not be wise for the latter to change their convention dates from June 25 to July 1, to a week earlier."

MAN MAY HAVE BEEN DEVoured BY WOLVES

St. Paul, Jan. 20.—A special to the Dispatch from Blackduck, Minn., says: The jawbone of a man and two human feet, incased in shoes, were found on the Little Fork river, about sixty miles north of this place, by trappers who have just arrived. The rest of the body appears to have been devoured by wolves. It is thought that it may be the body of J. C. Sullivan, of Minneapolis, who left Blackduck last May apout, on his way to Koochiching, to look for a claim, and who has never been heard of since.

CONSUL GENERAL GOODNOW IS VISITING HIS OLD HOME

JOHN C. GOODNOW.

Minneapolis, Jan. 20.—Consul General John C. Goodnow returned to Minneapolis yesterday after an absence of nearly three years, but little changed by the burdens which his work at Shanghai and in China generally have imposed on him.

While very willing to talk about commercial China and the new treaty with that country, Mr. Goodnow was not disposed to discuss the charges which are supposed to have been brought against him.

"I know nothing about charges excepting what I read in the Hearst papers," he said. "Nothing was said to me of any charges in the department at Washington. So long as I do things there will be charges against me. Until congress provides for an appeal from the court in Shanghai the only resource of the defeated attorney in any case is to curse the court."

GRAIN COMMISSION LAW IS TO BE STRICTLY ENFORCED

An Understanding Has Been Reached With Railroad and Warehouse Board and a Strict Observance of Provisions Will Hereafter Be Necessary.

St. Paul, Jan. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Grain commission interests in Minnesota have reached a thorough understanding of the grain commission law, and at a conference with the state railroad and warehouse commission yesterday, declared it to be fair and susceptible of a strict observance. The law has been in effect since 1890, but has produced much minor friction. The conference, it is thought, will produce a thorough understanding under which friction will be eliminated.

At the close of the conference report, grain men from Duluth and Minneapolis requested the commission to issue a circular, instructing grain merchants that the law will be rigidly enforced, and that there will be no modification of its provisions in enforcing the law. It was believed that such a circular will help firmly to establish the law, and will give fair notice to all interests that it must be observed.

An important result of the conference is that any shipper in the state, failure to receive proper returns, may notify the commission and immediately obtain any facts he requires concerning the sale of his grain. This information the commission itself will not furnish. The fact that a failure to make returns is reported will be sufficient grounds for action against the grain firm which made the sales, and the error will be rectified by the firm itself. The commission believes that the understanding reached will be very important in holding grain commission men to the strict letter of the law.

There were present at the conference John Miller, J. N. McKendley and J. E. McCarthy, of Duluth, and C. C. Wynum, A. A. Poehler and W. A. Freeman, of Minneapolis.

STORM KNOCKS OUT THE ELEVATED

Chicago, Jan. 20.—As the result of the storm, train service on the South side elevated road was paralyzed for nearly two hours today, endangering life and discommodating hundreds of passengers. Rain soaking the wood superstructure of the road caused the moisture to communicate to a defective third rail support, near a network of switches. The electric current deserted the car motors and flowed through the iron work of the structure to the ground. The entire structure for a considerable distance was electrified and men below, until the current was shut off at the power house. Trains on the road were crowded. Passengers on the stalled trains, after waiting for some time for signs of life in the motive, took surface lines and reached their work down town after long delay.

COURT WILL PUNISH COACHERS

Washington, Jan. 20.—When the postal trial was resumed today Justice Pritchard, referring to Mr. Kummer's charge made yesterday, that Postoffice Inspector Mayer had coached witnesses, said that if he found sufficient cause for issuing a rule for contempt against Mayer, he would do it. Justice Pritchard informed counsel on both sides that he would demand that no extraneous matter be introduced to influence the jury, but that if it was, he would take occasion to mention it when he delivered his charge to the jury.

George Ashton, bookkeeper in the West End National bank of this city, concluded his testimony concerning the Kummer account.

William Sapp, assistant superintendent of free delivery, Toledo, Ohio, was recalled and identified the signature of Dr. Lorenz on certain letters to the secretary for a savings bank of Cleveland, Ohio.

Henry Humphreys, a clerk in the Cleveland bank, produced the copy books of the bank, containing the bank's replies to letters from Dr. Lorenz and wife, one of which the witness read, showing that the bank had returned a check for $3000 made in favor of George Lorenz by D. B. Croff, because it was improperly indorsed.

Witness identified a draft for $500 drawn in favor of George E. Lorenz and indorsed by him over to Machen.

The next witness was Machen's brother-in-law, N. H. Baumgartner, secretary and treasurer of the Deposit and Trust company, of Westminster, Md., who testified to the depositing of the remittances sent by Dr. and Mrs. Lorenz to Machen's account with that company.

Russian-French Alliance
Quite Separate From Pending Matters.

French Government Says
It Will Remain Militarily Neutral.

Resolution of France Will Affect the Situation Greatly.

Berlin, Jan. 20.—The German government has become privy to the fact that France declines to give Russia any assurance of armed help, should war be the outcome of the far eastern difficulties, even should Great Britain aid Japan. It is understood that Russia asked France to define her position in the contingency of Great Britain actively participating in a Japanese attack on Russia, and that the French government replies that France must remain militarily neutral as the Russian-French alliance was quite separate on the question now pending.

This resolution of France, it is believed here, deeply affects not only the situation between Russia and Japan but the Franco-Russian alliance.

New York, Jan. 20.—It is reported here, says a Herald dispatch from Chefoo, that the Russian viceroy, Admiral Alexioff, is preparing to remove his headquarters to Harbin, a town on the Manchurian railway, where the line branches off to Port Arthur, on the south.

Port Said, Jan. 20.—The Russian battleship Aurora, the transport Orel, the collier Sargol, and nine torpedo boats, bound for the far east, have entered the Suez canal.

COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

Department of Commerce.

Washington, Jan. 20.—At today's session of the national board of trade resolutions were adopted favoring the appointment of a standing committee of seven, to be known as the committee of conference with the department of commerce and labor, urging liberal appropriation by congress to bring the new department up to a full measure of efficiency, and declaring that it would be unwise for the national board of trade to become an incorporated body at this time.

A report was adopted favoring a national incorporation law and recommending the passage of the Palmer bill, now before congress, with some amendments.

A resolution favoring currency reform legislation, identical in form with that adopted by the board one year ago, was adopted unanimously.

The committee on merchant marine presented a resolution favoring legislation authorizing the appointment of a committee to investigate and report to congress upon the condition of American merchant marine, with a view of its encouragement by national aid.

A resolution favoring consular reform legislation was also adopted.

BOOT AND SHOE WORKERS Listen to Plea From Flour Mill Employes.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—The convention of the Boot and Shoe Workers' International union today was addressed by G. P. Darth, organizer of the International union of flour and cereal mill employes, for assistance in the Washington boycott at Minneapolis.

It was decided that the reinstatement fees and all other constitutional amendments would be effective March 1.

Constitutional amendments were adopted making members of cutters, trimmers, edge makers and other independent unions ineligible to local or general offices or as delegates to conventions of boot and shoe workers' union.

BUTT WAS LOADED.

Cheap Smoke Proves Dangerous
Thing to Handle.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—An ingenious young man with a craving for cigars, who has been a daily visitor for several weeks, was made the object of a "butt-end" joke at the Auditorium hotel yesterday.

He was evidently rejoiced to see a nice-looking Havana "butt" lying near the counter. Apparently no one was looking. With his tip of his cane he secured the butt and flung it.

"Bang!" went a report, and the employes who had been looking on saw the man quickly drop the cigar. It was blazing, and the victim of the joke was wiping powder marks from his face.

LEBE TURNER ACQUITTED.

TWO HUNDRED THEATRICAL PEOPLE ROUTED FROM BED BY HOTEL FIRE IN CHICAGO

Panic Among Frightened Men and Women Narrowly Averted.

Several Were Overcome But No Lives Were Lost.

Ill-Luck Seems to Follow Stranded Actors and Actresses.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—Ill fortune of Chicago theatrical people during the last few weeks was again in evidence at a fire in the Grand Palace hotel, Indiana and Clark streets, early today, nearly 200 members of theatrical troupes being driven into the streets by the flames. It was with difficulty that a panic was averted and the frightened men and women assisted from the structure in safety. The fire originated on the second floor, apparently from a crossed electrical wire, and was carried quickly up the elevator shaft by a draught to the top floor. Joseph Northrop, a guest of the hotel, saw the smoke in the shaft and ran down stairs in the rear of the building to notify the night clerk. The clerk immediately started to awaken the guests, and Northrop, stepping into the elevator, ran upward through the smoke and flames and helped arouse the guests on the top floor. The halls were soon filled with excited men and women. The other guests were compelled to force their way back from the windows and fire escapes, toward which a rush was being made. A number of women were preparing to jump from the windows when policemen arrived and aided the work of restraint and rescue. The women were led to a rear stairway, down which they escaped through the smoke that was pouring upward from the lower floors. Miss Louise Mitchell, who had been hemmed in by the flames, was rescued by the inmates and taken down a fire escape. Most of the guests had time to dress, and but few of the women had thought of their theatrical costumes, and several shivering in the lower halls of the building, holding some gaudy decorations of gauze and tulle, the fire was extinguished quickly after the guests had been taken from the building. The building is a part of the H. J. Dickey estate. It is a six-story brick building, well protected with fire escapes. The damage to the structure was about $2000. This is the second fire in the building in the last two weeks. The first fire started from a lighted cigarette thrown on the hall carpet on the third floor. Almost all the guests at the hotel are members of the theatrical companies stranded in Chicago.

HIG AVALANCHE Delays Traffic on the Canadian Pacific Road.

Winnipeg, Minn., Jan. 20.—Traffic on the Canadian Pacific railway west of Calgary was completely paralyzed yesterday and word of a terrific snowslide has just reached Winnipeg. An avalanche of snow left the mountain side some miles west of Calgary at a point known as "The Flow," crashing and tumbling down the height and carrying everything before it. The monstrous snowslide was the first for several hundred feet and wiped away the telegraph wires, and the tracks. The snowslide was on the track at the time or it must have been buried beneath the snow. So far only the most meager details have been received. It is thought that anyone who was injured. Men are engaged in digging out the road and relieving the rails. The transcontinental express from the West, due to reach Winnipeg yesterday morning, was held for twenty-four hours by the slide. A special train is being run east from Lagan, about 100 miles west of Calgary, on account of the accident.

TO LIE IN STATE. Thousands of Children Will View Train's Body.

New York, Jan. 20.—The body of George Francis Train, who died early yesterday, has been removed from Mills' hotel, No. 1, to a mortuary chapel, where it will lie in state until the funeral hour tomorrow. Thousands of children, in whom Mr. Train displayed remarkable interest, are expected to take a farewell view of the remains. The funeral will be private and interment will be made in Greenwood cemetery. Of his once considerable fortune Mr. Train retained nothing personally except the interest he had in 300 lots he once owned in Omaha. Fractured litigation has taken place about them, and will, it is said, be continued by his daughters.

F. Baker of the state board of health has been called in consultation with the local board of health to devise some means of checking the epidemic. For several weeks typhoid has killed all efforts to suppress it.

SCHWAB WILLING TO RELEASE HOLD ON BETHLEHEM PLANT

Makes a Proposition to Four First Mortgage Bondholders to That Effect—Is Not Satisfactory to Them But May Lead to Compromise.

New York, Jan. 20.—Charles M. Schwab has made to the four first mortgage bondholders who are pressing the action for a permanent receivership for the United States Shipbuilding company, what is tantamount, says the Times, to an offer releasing his hold on the Bethlehem Steel property. The offer came as the result of a long series of conferences which wound up in a meeting of three hours during the day in Mr. Schwab's office. It was, however, not accepted, nor did the conditions under which it was discussed later by William Nelson Cromwell, counsel for the Sheldon reorganization committee, and Samuel Osterman, at the former's residence, admit of what might be called a definite proposition for the re-organization of the shipbuilding company. The conference, it is understood, had to do with a tentative plan by which the second mortgage bonds to the extent of $10,000,000, which Mr. Schwab holds as the purchase price of his Bethlehem properties, and the $10,000,000 of general first mortgage bonds on the entire shipbuilding company, would be placed on an equal basis. This, it is understood, is not, and will not be acceptable to the four first mortgage bondholders lacking the Conklin suit, who believe that despite the fact that the shipbuilding company is a subsidiary of the Bethlehem plant by reason of the terms of the deal incorporated in the deed conveying the property of the ship combination, their holdings and the holdings of every first mortgage bondholder ought to go ahead of the Schwab bonds in any settlement. There the matter stands at present, with the prospect, it is stated, of an amended offer and a resumption of conferences looking to some kind of an agreement to end the long-drawn-out controversy. These conferences were the most important of any held since the litigation began, inasmuch as the definite decision to submit a new offer was reached. The first meeting was attended by Mr. Schwab, William Nelson Cromwell, counsel for the Sheldon reorganization committee, Charles W. Wayne, president of the North American company and chairman of the Sheldon reorganization committee and Max Egan, Mr. Schwab's personal counsel. The ground covered by the proposition which was to be adopted after certain details had been worked out, had been gone over since the last hearing before Judge Kirkpatrick in a Jersey court a week ago by a number of persons, including practically all the members of the Sheldon reorganization committee, and disinterested persons who were called to pass upon the fairness of the proposition. The approval of the latter was given, it is learned, and, according to certain reports, the result of the parties concerned in proposing it, as a general proposition and barring details to be considered later, quite as far as they can go in the matter.

COLOMBIAN TROOPS ILL; WILL PROBABLY ABANDON CAMPAIGN

Many of the Soldiers Who Went to the Panama Border Arc Unable to Stand the Heat and Have Returned Much Discontented.

New York, Jan. 20.—Strong indications that there will be no war between Panama and Colombia have been observed by Bishop Junguito, who has just returned from Cartagena and Barranquilla, capitals of the Panama correspondent of the Herald. The bishop journeyed to Colombia to see the papal nuncio, who is reported to be declaring that many of the soldiers who went to the front along the border have returned ill and are unable to stand the heat and the conditions in Colombian camps. There are no facilities for getting supplies and there is no food for the soldiers. The hospitals are reported crowded and discontent was expressed everywhere. The troops are not anxious to start on a hard journey to the isthmus and the sentiment along the coast favors the abandoning the campaign. The people in the border are anxious to let the bishop know that they are not paying the army and all the officials on a gold basis, as they have received gold from Bogota and the drain is greater than they are able to stand. The government junta here has letters from Bogota and other points, showing that there has been no further advance of the Colombian army.

IMPORTANT BATTLE TO BE FOUGHT

New York, Jan. 20.—Seven hundred government soldiers are on the march to Santiago, the rebel stronghold, says a Herald dispatch from Puerto Plata, Santo Domingo. It is believed this battle will be the most important of the Jimenez revolution. The rebels are firmly entrenched in their camp and it is reported they will make a desperate resistance. Details of the capture of Puerto Plata a few days ago by the government forces, show, according to the Herald's correspondent, that the commander of an American warship in the harbor practically managed the battle and that a fighting zone marked by the commanders of the United States and British warships was accepted by the contending forces. President Morales' troops promptly respected the order to cease firing, although Gen. Jimenez forces when routed ran through the streets and continued to fire in all directions. An American force composed of eight men, with the stars and stripes, went to the front line and demanded a suspension of hostilities. The commander of the United States warship then landed a force of 100 men and arranged for the surrender of the Jimenez forces and later turned over the fort to Gen. Cespedes, in command of the government troops.

DOMINICANS WANT PROTECTORATE

New York, Jan. 20.—It is reported here, says a Herald dispatch from St. Thomas, D. W. I., that the Dominican minister of foreign affairs, accompanied by a delegate, has left San Domingo for Washington, to attempt to make arrangements with the United States to establish a protectorate over the republic of Santo Domingo. A vicious bombardment of the capital continues by the forces of Gen. Jimenez.

DRIVERS GO ON STRIKE AT ST. LOUIS

St. Louis, Jan. 20.—Pursuant to an order issued at a meeting held late last night by the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, 800 hack and carriage drivers went on strike today to force their demands for $12.50 a week pay, a twelve-hour day, 25 cents an hour for overtime and recognition of the union. A small proportion of this number are men working in East St. Louis. The strike is directed against the St. Louis Liverymen and Undertaking association. Representatives of the union declare that the strike management will countenance no violence. William Reynolds, business agent of the union, adds that the union controls 250 independent carriages and eight hearse and that with these they propose to conduct what over funerals there will be during the strike. He says there will be no trouble here as there was in Chicago.

MOTHER ARRESTED FOR MURDER

Patterson, N. J., Jan. 20.—Mrs. Arthur Oswald was arrested today on the charge of murdering her 8-year-old son, at her home in Oakland. She is believed to be insane. The tragedy was discovered by the woman's husband when he returned home last night. As he entered the dining room he was horrified to see the headless body of his son lying on the floor. The head lay near the boy's feet. Nearby lay the body of his pet dog, which also had been beheaded. Oswald found her wife lying in bed with her young boy in her arms. She was singing softly to the infant. She saw the bed her two other children lay sleeping in a crib. The woman did not recognize her husband nor seem to understand what was said to her.

INSPECTORS NEGLIGENT

Chicago Officials Shown In Bad Light By Manager.

Inspectors In Other Cities Were Always Prying Around.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—Edwin H. Prince, manager of "Mr. Bluebeard, Jr.," at the Ironsides tonight, showed up the work of Chicago building inspectors in bad light, compared with inspectors of other cities. There the matter stands at present, with the prospect, it is stated, of an amended offer and a resumption of conferences looking to some kind of an agreement to end the long-drawn-out controversy. These conferences were the most important of any held since the litigation began, inasmuch as the definite decision to submit a new offer was reached. Russian-French Alliance Quite Separate From Pending Matters.

French Government Says It Will Remain Militarily Neutral.

BOOT AND SHOE WORKERS Listen to Plea From Flour Mill Employes.

Cincinnati, Jan. 20.—The convention of the Boot and Shoe Workers' International union today, was addressed by G. P. Darby, organizer of the International union of flour and cereal mill employes, for assistance in the Washington boycott at Minneapolis. It was decided that the reinstatement fees and all other constitutional amendments would be effective March 1. Constitutional amendments were adopted making members of cutters, trimmers, elix makers and other independent unions ineligible to local or general offices or as delegates to conventions of local and shoe workers' union.

BUTT WAS LOADED.

Cheap Smoke Proves Dangerous Thing to Handle.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—An ingenious young man with a craving for cigars, who has been a daily visitor for several weeks, was made the object of a "butt-end" joke at the Auditorium hotel yesterday. He was well-dressed and carried a cane. He was evidently rejoiced to see a slip of the Havana "butt" lying near the entrance. Apparently no one was looking. With the point of his cane he secured the butt and lit it. "Bang!" went a report, and the employes who had been looking on saw the man quickly drop the cane. It was blazing, and the victim of the joke was wiping powder marks from his face. LEE TURNER ACQUITTED. Middletown, Ky., Jan. 20.—Lee Turner, proprietor of the Quarter house, who was charged with killing Sheriff Chas. Cecil, in a famous battle, was acquitted by a jury today.

MRS. COL. GRESHAM Was Given Up BY THE DOCTORS. Pe-ru-na Saved Her Life.

(It was catarrh of the lungs so common in the winter months.)

MRS. JENNIE DRISCOLL

Miss Jennie Driscoll, 870 Putnam Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"If people knew how efficient Peruna was in the cure of catarrh, they would not hesitate to try it. I have all the faith in the world in it as it cured me, and I have never known of a case when the person was not cured in a short time."—Jennie Driscoll.

Mrs. Col. E. J. Gresham, Treasurer Daughters of the Confederacy and President Herndon Village Improvement Society, writes the following letter from Herndon, Fairfax Co., Va.:

The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio: Herndon, Va.

Gentlemen—"I cannot speak too highly of the value of Peruna. I believe that I owe my life to its wonderful merits. I suffered with catarrh of the head and lungs in its worst form, until the doctors fairly gave me up, and I despaired of ever getting well again.

"I noticed your advertisement and the splendid testimonials given by the people who had been cured by Peruna, and determined to try a bottle. I felt but little better, but used a second and third bottle and kept on improving slowly.

"It took six bottles to cure me, but they were worth a King's ransom to me. I talk Peruna to all my friends and am a true believer in its worth."—Mrs. Col. E. J. Gresham.

A PLAIN TALK

On a Plain Subject in Plain Language.

The coming winter will cause at least one-half of the women to have catarrh, coughs, pneumonia or consumption. Thousands of women will lose their lives and tens of thousands will acquire some chronic ailment which they will never recover.

KEEP PERUNA IN THE HOUSE.

Fortunate ones. Little or no risk need be run if Peruna is kept in the house and at the first appearance of any symptom of catarrh taken as directed on the bottle. Peruna is a safeguard, a preventative, a specific, is a cure for all cases of catarrh, acute and chronic, coughs, colds, consumption, etc.

If you do not receive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

JOKE KILLS Victim, a Young Married Man In Utah.

Salt Lake, Jan. 20.—Frank Daily, a young man of Summit, Utah, is dead as the result of a practical joke. Daily had just been married, and with his young wife and a friend had started to drive to Enceph, on the morning following the wedding.

Some young men donned sheets and white caps and lay in wait for them on the road.

When the buggy came to the scene the horse shied and attempted to run away.

Mrs. Daily says her husband turned pale for a moment and then rushed, and then turned his attention to a horse. He drove on for 100 yards further and then suddenly threw his arms over his head and dropped limply across the dashboard.

HORSE ON A TRESTLE

Great Northern Train Meets One on Rice's Point Track.

Traveled Half a Mile on Ties—His Career Ended.

"George Gill had 'em, or rather, he thought he had 'em. Then he found he didn't have 'em, and the horse was on Gill, and it was a dead one at that."

This was the explanation a Great Northern railroad man gave this afternoon to a number of other employees who gathered around the 12:30 o'clock train which came in from Hibbing and which had been delayed some time on the trestle between Twelfth avenue west and the bridge.

George H. Gill is the engineer on the Hibbing train, which is in charge of Conductor Masch G. Beckley. This noon the train was on time and was running at the usual speed on the trestle one-half mile from where it is intersected by Twelfth avenue west.

Gill was thinking of what a fine day it was for an appetite and a large dinner at the end of the run, and wondered whether everybody felt as he did. He leaned far out of the cab window to get a whiff of the cool, frosty air.

His eyes were constantly sweeping the track ahead, through force of habit. One would suppose that there would be nothing to look out for on a trestle more than a mile in length over which no one would care to walk, especially on a snowy, slippery day.

That is one of the peculiarities of the railroad business, that a railroad man never thinks that anything is impossible or that most things that can be imagined are improbable. It proved so in this case. Gill was just getting another whiff of rare atmosphere when his train halted at a junction that sounded like "clack."

"Great pistol rods! I've got 'em, sure. It looks like the walkin' beam of a steamer. Say 'Bill' to the front."

CLUBS FOR FARMER

One Way to Keep the Rural Population at Home.

Rush to City Is Due to Lack of Amusement.

Topeka, Kans., Jan. 20.—Mrs. James M. Lewis, of Kinsley, believes that farm life in Kansas could be made more attractive by the establishment of country clubs. She believes that the farmers are as well prepared for club life as the residents of the cities and that this system would prevent the restlessness among the young people which causes them to leave the farms and go to the city. On this subject she said at a meeting of the board of agriculture:

"It seems to me that the country club, with its meeting place, school, and school house, is possible in every community in Kansas. The children grow up together in a friendly intercourse, and one of the results is a co-operative commercial and social program was given. Sometimes persons from the city are invited to join in this."

"Later, when a railroad came through the town, the club was organized. The fraternal spirit generated in that organization makes it a fine model for the rural communities in Kansas. The children grow up together in a friendly intercourse, and one of the results is a co-operative commercial and social program was given. Sometimes persons from the city are invited to join in this."

TEXAS CITY BOOM

Much Interest to Know Cause of Excitement Now On.

Duluth Capitalists Largely Interested in Ownership of Town.

That a number of Duluth capitalists, at whose head is Capt. A. B. Wolvin, are largely interested in some improvement work at Texas City is well known to most Duluth business men, but the extent of the work that is being carried on at that point is realized by but few.

The improvements that are being made at that point have caused a boom in Texas City property, and lots have doubled and tripled in value during twenty-four hours. One deal is reported where four lots were purchased one day at $100 apiece and sold the following day for $500 each.

The following clipping from the Houston Chronicle of recent date will be of interest to many local business men:

"There is unusual activity at Texas City just now, which has given rise to considerable speculation in local circles as to its real meaning. Briefly stated, the facts are these:

"Hundreds of workmen are employed building immense docks, which are to be three times as large as the Southern Pacific docks at Galveston.

"Arrangements have been made to construct the Texas City terminal in the South in close proximity to these immense docks.

"Work is to begin within a few weeks dredging a 25-foot channel to Texas City, the appropriation for which is now available.

"An announcement is made that arrangements have been made with three big ocean transportation companies to use Texas City as their port.

"The Texas City Terminal company is building its line into Alta Loma, where connection will be made with the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe.

"The Duluth interests controlling Texas City property will not dispose of their holdings to anyone for love or money.

"It is said that the ships that will load and unload from Texas City will be the biggest that have ever pilled from a Texas port.

"Information concerning the real meaning of the unusual activity is hard to secure. Even local real estate men, who are interested in the development of Texas City, cannot discover the meaning, as the interests behind the development of the port are extremely silent.

"It is said that one of the transportation companies with which arrangements have been made to utilize this port is the Southern Pacific Steamship line, now plying between New York and Galveston. It is believed by some that Texas City will be used in connection with Galveston as a port.

"It is also hazarded that the Rock Island is behind the activity at Texas City, and proposes to utilize this port in reaching Tidewater. The building of the immense grain elevator is taken to mean that the Rock Island will load its grain shipments from the North and West upon ocean freighters at Texas City.

"Whatever may be the reason for the boom now on at Texas City, local real estate dealers say that it matters little. A boom is on, and the facts above set forth are sufficient grounds for local parties to give heed thereto."

THE SERVICE OF CONTEST NOTICE

Land Officials Make Two Decisions Which Establish Precedent.

The officials of the local land office yesterday made two decisions in contest cases which establish a precedent in defining what constitutes service of notice of contest and the qualifications of residence and intention of making homes on government land.

The cases were known as Charles Peterson vs. Alfred Johnson and J. S. Eaton vs. Joseph Turcott. In both instances the decisions favored the defendants.

In the first case the affidavit of contest, filed on April 28, 1903, involved a homestead entry on the northwest quarter of section 9-23-10. It appears that a copy of it to the wife of the entryman, which act states that service of notice must be made personally, and there is no provision for leaving a copy

MUNYON'S PAW PAW

CURES DYSPEPSIA
What Col. Hancock, Wash., D. C., Brother of the Late Gen. W. S. Hancock, says:

I take great pleasure in recommending Munyon's Paw Paw, before all other tonics, as a cure for dyspepsia and disordered stomach. I was a long sufferer and tried numerous remedies without benefit. I purchased a bottle of Paw Paw, and shared it with my wife, who suffered greatly with indigestion and indolent fits. It did us so much good that I straightway ordered half a dozen bottles for ourselves and friends. The result has been wonderful. It has put new life into both of us, completely regulating our digestion and seemingly transforming old age into youth. I beg to add here with the signature of Mrs. Hancock with that of my own.

(Signed) JOHN HANCOCK.
(Signed) AUGUSTA HANCOCK.
Washington, D. C., Nov. 23th.

If you have Dyspepsia, try it.
If you are Nervous, try it.
If you are despondent, try it.
If you are weak and run down, try it.

Cost, away all tonics, all medicines and all stimulants and let Munyon's Paw Paw make you well. It will lift you into the high altitudes of hope and hold you there. It will give exhilaration without intoxication.

Sold by all druggists. Large bottles $1.00. Munyon's Laxative Pills 25c a bottle.

of such notice with the wife of the contestant. Service must be either personal or by proper publication.

Peterson alleged non-residence. The decision said that although Johnson did not reside continuously on the claim it was because he was a man of small means and was compelled to make frequent trips to town to work at his trade of carpenter. Requirements in the matter of house building and other improvements were lived up to.

In the other case, involving a quarter section in section 27-21-23, the decision stated the contestant did not prove his case by a fair preponderance of evidence, and that it was certain that never intended to abandon the land. It was shown to be his home, and at the conclusion of his wife's work in the lumber camps it was proven that he returned to the claim to live.

PRICE OF CEMENT

Contractors Much Interested In What It Will Be.

Not Believed That Trust Is Possible—Government Heavy User.

Builders and contractors in Duluth and the Northwest are just present quite interested in speculation as to cement prices the coming season. With an increased output of cement in this country to meet the demand for the various uses to which it can be put, the industry has been growing in importance until it has assumed proportions where the formation of a cement trust has been talked of. Whether the trust will materialize is a question, and men who are closely touch with the cement production claim that there are too many small factories springing up over the country to ever make it possible for one corporation to secure absolute control of the output.

One of the reasons pointed out for the probable increase in prices of cement the coming building season is the fact that most of the works over the country have been shut down all or a greater part of the winter, because of the overproduction during the fall and early winter months, when cement prices declined to such an extent that many large contractors, Hugo & Thins, of this city, being among the number, bought large quantities in advance for work pier construction and other forms of structures. Some of the contractors have made a tidy sum of money on the difference between their buying price of cement and the face of the contract figured on the higher cost of cement earlier last season.

That money men have confidence in the probable cement trade during the coming year is said to be evidenced by their putting their money into the industry, with the expectation of making large profits in their investment. It is claimed by one prominent trade journal that men have actually borrowed money to put into cement industries in anticipation of the coming season's trade.

One of the largest users of cement in the Northwest in the past few years has been the United States government. The big concrete piers at the Duluth ship canal furnished market for an immense amount of Portland cement when prices were much higher than now, and the new south pier at Superior, now under construction, will furnish many more for many months to come. About 60,000 barrels of cement are now stored at the entry awaiting the beginning of the concrete work in the spring.

The contemplated new north pier will also furnish a market for an immense amount within the space of a few years. There have been some enormous fluctuations in cement prices in the past year, and some of the construction men account for it by stating that it was largely due to the inability of the mills to supply the legitimate demand for cement. Then came an important change in the industry that caused the stock houses to fill up, freight rate troubles, competition between overland and water routes, and until there resulted a market condition when cement could be bought at almost any price.

Cement factories are now so widely distributed that the question of freight rates is of little importance. The head of the lakes has thus far been favorable for not having a cement plant of its own, it has been able to ship large quantities of the lakes by rail.

It is understood that the past year because of the freight rates. Some bids for work were called about $2.00 to $2.10 per barrel. In contrast to those figures cement has been quoted in New York at an exaggerated case was found where the price of cement was $9 per barrel. This was due to a long railroad and wagon haul charges.

WON HER SUIT

And St. Louis Lawyer Weds the Ohio Widow.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 20.—Charles Brockway Sturge, newspaper man, lawyer and trader, celebrated his forty-fifth birthday anniversary by taking unto himself a wife, Mrs. Sarah Chapman, a recent widow, who recently bought a residence at 210 South Twelfth street.

Missouri legislators.

"Brock" seven years ago went to the Keeley institute in Jerseyville, Ill. There he met Mrs. Chapman and her brother, Henry Patterson. Mrs. Chapman, wife of a wealthy Dayton (Ohio) man, had taken her brother to the institute for treatment and she took an interest in Sturge.

Two years ago Mrs. Chapman lost her husband. She had to go to law for part of her property and employed Sturge. He represented her, made trips to Dayton, fought the cases in the courts and came out of the fight successfully.

DIVORCE CASE

That Is Attracting Considerable Attention in Ohio.

Ashland, Ohio, Jan. 20.—A divorce case that is attracting considerable attention is being heard in the common pleas court. The principals are Postmaster C. G. Ducomb and wife. Mrs. Ducomb filed a petition for divorce October 10, 1903, charging her husband with neglect of her marital duties. Mrs. Ducomb filed her answer and cross-petition December 15, 1903, charging her husband with intemperance, infidelity and abuse. Mr. Ducomb was appointed postmaster under President McKinley's administration. Prior to that time he had been a prescription clerk for 12 years. He has been prominent in county politics for the past 15 years.

Mrs. Ducomb, prior to her marriage, taught school for ten years. Both are widely known and the trial has caused unusual interest.

PITTSBURG BOY

Claims He Was Hypnotized and Abducted.

Charlotte, N. C., Jan. 20.—Elwood Bates, the young son of a Pittsburg capitalist, is in jail here, waiting for instructions as to his disposition from his father.

Young Bates disappeared from a Catholic school, which he was attending, near Pittsburg, some time ago and since then has been vainly sought by his father. The boy was discovered last night on a stage of a theater here by two priests. He was being used by a traveling hypnotist. The priests recognized the boy by descriptions sent out by the Pittsburg school and took charge of him.

Afterward the boy escaped from the priests, but was found by them and placed in jail. Young Bates alleges that he was taken from the school near Pittsburg by the hypnotist and forced to accompany the latter over the country, being unable to resist the man's bidding. The little fellow seems to have had no will of his own when in the presence of the hypnotist. The hypnotist denies abducting the boy, alleging he found the latter tramping and cared for him through charity.

Taft for the presidency. The Tribune says: "The homecoming of William H. Taft, just instructed statesman, splendid American, promises to be the signal for an outburst of enthusiasm on the part of friends and admirers that will not cool till he shall have been rewarded with the highest office within the gift of a grateful country. Already the Orient is aglow with praise for him. His journey homeward is marked with the same manifestations of worshipful regard that characterized Grant's reception in the far East. If it shall so transpire that the illustrious Ohioan, than whom Mr. Roosevelt declared at Fargo last April there is not in this nation a higher type of public servant, shall come before the Republican national convention at Chicago, there will be but one voice of praise for his worth."

PLATT FOR ROOSEVELT.
Says New York Will Instruct for Him.

Washington, Jan. 20.—"Senator Hanna is not only not a candidate for the presidency, but he favors Mr. Roosevelt's nomination. I have just talked with him. There need be no doubt on that score," declared Senator Platt, in his committee room here yesterday. The New York senator's conference with Mr. Hanna took place on the floor of the senate. It was long, animated and attracted much attention. Senator Hanna talked vigorously, with much gesticulation, and Senator Platt frequently nodded in approval.

"The story that New York will not instruct for Roosevelt was probably started by Democrats," he said.

"If instructions for him are needed, we will instruct."

"I presume the state convention will be held after the legislative adjourns."

"I don't think there will be a one session, or that the governor was correctly quoted when he said he wanted one."

"There will be no opposition to Roosevelt in New York."

"The grocers are all good fellows and good entertainers. The fourth annual ball at the Armory tomorrow night will be a very well affair. Are you going?"

BOULDER CREEK GOLD.

Stampede Still on and Many Rich Claims.

Vancouver, B. C., Jan. 20.—W. L. Whitney, a wholesale merchant at White Horse, brings word to Vancouver that the stampede to Boulder creek near White Horse is still in an acute stage. A steady stream of sleighs is going to the diggings, and the stampede is clearing up from 20 to 25 cents to the pan at a depth of six inches and has not reached the bed rock. Whitney says Johnson's claim is richer than any other in the Klondike.

Whitney has brought 150 tons of ore from his Copper King mine at White Horse for a smelter run and says the ore goes $20 to the ton. He says several firms will ship ore regularly to the coast smelters, which will pay them in spite of the tremendously low haul.

It is understood in Washington that Kentucky is likely to follow the example of Maryland and enact legislation shutting out the negro vote. This action on the part of the "border" states follows very closely the action of states further south, and indicates a widespread determination to exclude the colored people from the franchise.

Among Republicans there has been a good deal of concern over this proposed action by Kentucky. That state has been good fighting ground for a number of years. Twice it has elected a Republican governor, and in 1896 it went for McKinley. The elimination of its negro vote will make it safely Democratic for all time.

Surgeons at army posts where regimental field hospitals are maintained are instructed in recent years to refuse to admit negroes to such hospitals as often as once in three months, and at posts where the military authorities are maintaining the hospital canvas once a month.

There are nineteen army posts which are affected by this order, and the negroes are not permitted to enter them. These hospital accessories have only been allowed as needed, which has not always been in the interest of the health of the soldier.

Temperance people in the United States will find cause for congratulation in the fact that this country now stands fourth from the top of the list of countries consuming the least amount of intoxicants per capita per year. Canada comes next, with 5.1 gallons per capita, and Finland is second with 5.3 of a gallon, and Norway and Sweden are third with 5.4 gallons each.

Holland comes after the United States, consuming 1.74 gallons per capita per year; then comes Austria with 1.62 gallons, and Belgium with 1.52 gallons.

Denmark with 2.6, Italy with 2.4, Belgium with 2.5, Scotland with 2.5, and France, which consumes more liquor than any other nation in the world, with 4.81.

NATION IN CLUTCH

Of Banana Habit and Great Growth In the Import.

Over 4,000,000 Bunches
Received From Costa Rica In 1902.

Washington, Jan. 20.—The American nation is becoming a nation of banana eaters. The rate of consumption is growing rapidly, and the end of this growth is not in sight. We buy the entire crop of the British Honduras, and the great bulk of the crop in the British West Indies, Colombia, Costa Rica, Dominican Republic, Guatemala, British Honduras and Nicaragua. As showing something of the exceedingly rapid increase of the American consumption of bananas, a single illustration will suffice. We began to import this fruit from Costa Rica in 1881, in which year we bought 500 bunches. In 1902 our banana trade with that country had reached 4,178,198 bunches. Two hundred and thirty steamers, laden with bananas, cleared from the single port of Port Limon in 1902. The amount of $7,957,037; in 1903 the figure went up to $7,754,514, and this has been the average annual increase for a number of years.

In response to the rapidly increasing American demand, many of the planters have greatly increased their banana acreage. During 1902 more than 2500 acres were added to the banana plantations of Costa Rica, while the increase of 1902 over 1901 was quite as great. In the British West Indies, whose total exports of bananas to the United States average $1,000,000 annually, the increase of banana acreage averages about 7 per cent annually. No other country is so fond of the banana as the United States. It is said that this fact is of itself sufficient to insure a proper attitude toward us on the part of the Central American states and other banana countries. If our banana trade with Costa Rica were suddenly for any cause, to cease, the United States and England alone would be deprived of more than $2,000,000 of export trade each year. Our banana trade with Colombia amounts to only about $700,000 annually, but it can be increased almost without limit at the will of the Colombians.

It is understood in Washington that Kentucky is likely to follow the example of Maryland and enact legislation shutting out the negro vote. This action on the part of the "border" states follows very closely the action of states further south, and indicates a widespread determination to exclude the colored people from the franchise.

Among Republicans there has been a good deal of concern over this proposed action by Kentucky. That state has been good fighting ground for a number of years. Twice it has elected a Republican governor, and in 1896 it went for McKinley. The elimination of its negro vote will make it safely Democratic for all time.

Surgeons at army posts where regimental field hospitals are maintained are instructed in recent years to refuse to admit negroes to such hospitals as often as once in three months, and at posts where the military authorities are maintaining the hospital canvas once a month.

There are nineteen army posts which are affected by this order, and the negroes are not permitted to enter them. These hospital accessories have only been allowed as needed, which has not always been in the interest of the health of the soldier.

Temperance people in the United States will find cause for congratulation in the fact that this country now stands fourth from the top of the list of countries consuming the least amount of intoxicants per capita per year. Canada comes next, with 5.1 gallons per capita, and Finland is second with 5.3 of a gallon, and Norway and Sweden are third with 5.4 gallons each.

Holland comes after the United States, consuming 1.74 gallons per capita per year; then comes Austria with 1.62 gallons, and Belgium with 1.52 gallons.

Denmark with 2.6, Italy with 2.4, Belgium with 2.5, Scotland with 2.5, and France, which consumes more liquor than any other nation in the world, with 4.81.

England has been following the same course, and is now fourth from the top of the list.

Flax Market Has Another
Wild Day and Moves Higher.

Duluth Board of Trade, Jan. 20.—The wheat market made a heavy advance again today and Armour as usual was given credit for the larger part of it. PROSPECT OF PEACE RAPIDLY GROWING BRIGHTER IN EAST

News Received at Vladivostock Has Dispelled Fears of War.

International Peace Commission Is Also Acting to That End.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 21.—A dispatch from Vladivostock says:
"The news received here from Japan has dispelled fears of war. Peace, apparently, is assured for a long time to come."

cluding, it is understood, that of Washington, which has taken steps to learn the attitude of the foreign governments towards the proposition. It is expected that France will not act upon this note, as Foreign Minister Delcasse has already taken what is considered to be more effective means of exerting influence upon Russia.

Oscar II (Oscar Fredrik) king of Sweden and Norway, observed his 75th birthday Thursday, and throughout Scandinavia the day was appropriately celebrated.

King Oscar is the second oldest living potentate, King Christian of Denmark being the oldest. He is recognized as being the most learned living ruler, being besides a politician, a poet, musician and scientist.

KING OSCAR II

Paris, Jan. 21.—It has been learned in official quarters that the international peace commission (having its headquarters at Berne), which is an adjunct of The Hague arbitration tribunal, has sent a circular note to the powers asking for the adoption of means to secure a settlement of the Russo-Japanese controversy.

The note has received serious attention from some of the governments, in-

"MONTE CRISTO" WRIGHT PLACES BLAME FOR FAILURE ON ENEMIES

Erstwhile Financier Says Collapse Was Due to Malice of Members of the Stock Exchange.

London, Jan. 21.—Whitaker Wright, the company promoter on trial on the charge of fraud, led the witness box today after two days' cross-examination. He was supported by a witness prominent, as well as the prosecuting counsel. The latter designated Wright as a "man of straw" who had "been getting various amounts, some as large as £2,500,000 appearing on the credit side of the London stock exchange London balance sheet, but the defendant contended that they were merely slips of paper."

Wright, with declaring that the failure of the British American company was caused by the malice of the "London stock exchange," he was asked to change his deposition by deprecating the London and Globe shares. Wright added that he had sold 100,000 shares of the company. He estimated that his loss in London View was from £1,000,000 to £1,500,000. He said that he had sold his property, and sold his house in Park Lane, in order to save John Flower and other brokers, who were engaged in sustaining the operations.

Lane. His wealth was further attested by his beautiful country seat at Godalming, Surrey, where he bred the best racing horses. The investing public was greedy to be associated with such an authority, and he was able to attract a large following. So the shares of the London and Globe Assurance Co. were bought up by the Duke of Connaught, a brother of King Edward, who was financially interested in the company. He was frequently charged that it was owing to him that the Duke of Connaught was able to hold his wealth so well protected from public prosecution.

The Duke of Connaught bought 1250 shares in November, 1899, at the time the London and Globe Assurance Co. was at the height of its prosperity. These shares he held for six months and then sold them.

No less a name than that of Premier Balfour was carried on "Bright's" shares. He was the first lord of the treasury and leader of the house of commons.

Wright who had tried her hand at every thing from shoepecking to grant handwriting. Under Wright's advice she invested heavily in the stock market. Her stock market manipulation, Wright, rose to an unprecedented value, and at the present time is valued to sell out.

She netted a profit of $500,000 on her stock to tumble, and fell until they reached the bottom. She sold her shares at a profit of $100,000, and it is said that it was her sale which induced Lord Dufferin to invest in the stock market.

At the receptions held at her home, she introduced the promoter to the many financiers and directors in his many company ventures.

Lea Park Wright had one of the most magnificent estates in England, and a beautiful garden, and a little paradise. And she had a little paradise.

Salina, Cal., Jan. 21.—The news has just reached here that the Sunset limited train on the Southern Pacific which left San Francisco at 6 p. m. last night was held up by robbers between Palo Verde and Sanardo. The engineer, so the report says, pulled up at the sight of a red light displayed as a danger signal, when the trainmen were overpowered and the robbers forced an entrance into the express and mail cars. What they got away with in the shape of plunder is not yet known, but it is said that they looted a number of mail bags and took the plunder off with them.

city then only information received so far from the south was to the effect that the train, known as section No. 1, was being held up by a band of robbers in the city at 6 p. m. last night, had been robbed by bandits, who had taken the safe from the express car, weighing 100 pounds, and the money and jewelry. The officers from San Luis Obispo are now in pursuit of the robbers.

San Francisco, Aug. 10.—Fargo & Co. in this city, little information regarding the robbery was obtained. It was admitted that the safe of the express car was taken during the temporary absence from the car, but regarding the details of the affair they were unable to furnish any information.

The report that the amount taken as aggregated about $30,000 was denied, and the statement was made that the safe and its contents were of little value.

BURSTING WHEEL SCATTERS DEATH AND DESTRUCTION

Runaway Engine Causes Serious Accident In Cambria Steel Mill at Johnstown—Three Men Were Killed and Much Damage Done.

Johnstown, Pa., Jan. 21.—As a result of the breaking of a governor held, allowing an immense icy wheel to run away and burst, in the Cambria & Erie company's No. 2 rail mill, early today, three men are dead, three are fatally injured and six are more or less severely wounded.

In clearing away the debris during the forenoon workmen found two more bodies. One of them lay near the boiler and the flesh was hanging from the body in shreds. All the killed and injured were foreign laborers. Nothing but the walls of the mill are standing and they are full of dents made by pieces of the wheel. The property lost will be $10,000 to $12,000.

BOOPLER'S CHANGE PLEA TO GUILTY

Washington, Jan. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Congressman Buckman is moving to have an amendment to the bill which was passed at last session creating the new judicial circuit for Minnesota, now presided over by Judge Morris, so that a term of court may be held at Brainerd. The outcome will depend largely upon the recommendation which Judges Lochren and Morris may make.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Jan. 21.—Eugene Alderman James O. McCool today pleaded guilty to the charge of accepting a bribe from J. Lee K. Salsbery for adding the latter's name to the list of contributors to the Michigan State Bar Association today, but it is said that as a result of yesterday's proceedings, McCool decided to change his plea to guilty.

After ex-City Clerk Isaac F. Lamoreaux, also charged with the same crime, had pleaded guilty, McCool's attorney, J. Edgar conspiracy in the water deal, also having acknowledged the receipt of money from Salsbery, McCool's attorney, J. Edgar McCool had ordered that he appear in the judge's private office, where the proceedings were being held, was named.

The court granted a motion for a two-day stay of proceedings in the case, which was set for trial at 10 o'clock, fixed at $500 which Ellen furnished. A hearing on the matter, however, would appeal to the supreme court.

AMONG THE CAMPS

Lutheran Conference Decides to Prosecute Mission Work.

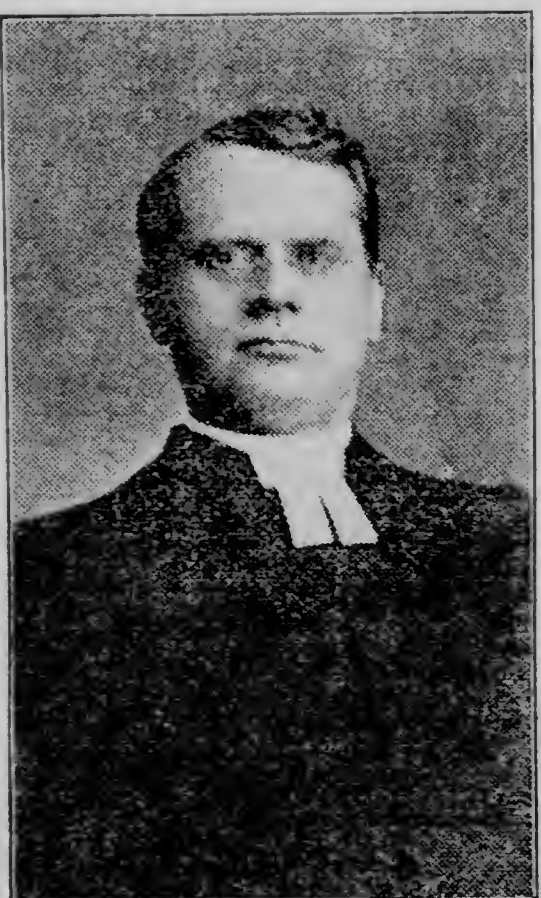

Some Recommendations as to Churches—One More Session.

At this morning's session of the Swedish Lutheran conference the opening service was the ministering of the Holy Communion. Rev. J. V. Soderman, of Superior, presided at the altar and took for his text John 15: 1-9 and dwelt with earnestness on "The Christian's Communion with the Lord."

At 10 o'clock the business session opened and the minutes of yesterday's meetings were read. It was recommended that the Ely, Tower and Soudan churches unite in one pastorate and that the mission board of the conference call a pastor for the united churches. The Rev. J. V. Soderman, of Superior, was recommended that the Rev. J. E. Orling, of Colorado, be called as pastor.

A request for mission work to be prosecuted among the men of the lumber camps was suggested and a long discussion followed as to the ways and means and the need of the work in the district. It was decided that the ministers in this district visit the camps with the work in view and that next year the conference provide a man for the work among the camps in northern Minnesota and Wisconsin.

This afternoon Rev. P. O. Hansen, of Virginia, opened the discussion on "What are pastors and churches to do to arouse more spiritual life within the church and among the people?"

J. V. SODERMAN, Rev. J. A. Krantz, new president of the Lake Superior District of Swedish Lutheran Conference.

Among our Lutheran people in general? A general discussion followed.

This evening Rev. J. A. Krantz will deliver a sermon in the Swedish language on "Home Missions of Our Church," and Rev. J. Truesdell, of Hibbing, will give an address on "Foreign Missions."

At yesterday's afternoon session, Rev. J. B. A. Hestrom, of Hibbing, Superior, addressed the meeting and from three to five a business session was held. $19 was voted to aid in supporting congregations in the district.

In the evening Rev. A. P. Elmquist spoke of the "Treasures and Opportunities of Our Young People Here in the Mother Church." The meeting was given over to the young people in addition to the address there was music and singing by the church choir.

This evening's session will close the conference.

Duluth Passenger Travel Independent Candidate For Alderman In the Seventh Ward. Lumbermen Making No Move For George H. Maxwell Debate.

Coming Business Considerably Better Than the Outgoing. Petition Is Now Being Circulated Among the Voters. Seem to Be Now Willing to Drop the Matter.

According to the statements made by local passenger representatives of the various roads running into the city the receipts at the Duluth offices during the last year have increased from 10 to 15 per cent over those of 1902.

Owing to the fact that none of the roads has a regular schedule of passenger service, the exact amount of business which each road has done during the year is not public figures on the year's business. A general statement of the business of the roads, however, shows that the Duluth and those who have commercial dealings in this section need have no fear that there are hard times ahead.

For years past the passenger business of Duluth has shown an increase at the end of every twelve months, but during the last year it is considered phenomenal. The fact that the incoming business has been greater than the outgoing is also a cause for congratulation as it shows that Duluth and contiguous territory is constantly increasing in population at a faster rate than the natural increase from births would give.

The reasons given for the immense amount of passenger traffic which has been handled in Duluth during the last year are that general conditions have been good, thereby bringing many traveling men to this section, and that the people in general have made money and are using part of their gains in taking pleasure in the city.

George M. Smith, general agent of the Omaha road in speaking of the passenger business today said:

"Passenger traffic during the last year has been more than we could have reasonably expected and has shown a gratifying increase during the year. It is probably about as strong a candidate as could be brought out against Alderman Haven."

Mr. Haven's strength, however, was shown in the primaries, when he secured a very heavy plurality over C. Nelson, one of the most prominent residents of that portion of the city, and his many friends are confident that he will be equally successful at the final elections on Feb. 2.

There are now three independent candidates in the field: Fred Little in the Fourth, A. J. Harker in the Second and George M. Smith in the Seventh ward. Saturday is the last day for the filing of petitions of independent candidates, and is also the last registration day.

Accused of using his teeth to scurry the countenance of an opponent in a rough-and-tumble contest, Henry Reno was placed under arrest this morning by Detective Schulte, and arraigned in municipal court.

The charge against him was assault in the second degree, and he pleaded not guilty. The hearing was set for Jan. 23. William Stevenson, who is the complainant, is a well-known citizen of Duluth. He is a contractor and has been engaged in getting out logs for the company.

Reno, with one or two companions, is claimed to have gone to the office Tuesday morning to get a number of time clocks. The men who were in the office at the time, however, were not present. From present indications the lumbermen of the Northwest, who a few weeks ago were looking for the repeal of the National Irrigation association, for its utterances upon the subject of the repeal of the land laws, and who were considering the advisability of electing him in debate, have reconsidered and are not anxious to meet him.

Mr. Maxwell, in a letter addressed to a representative of his association a few days ago, stated that he would not only be for the repeal of the land laws, but also for the repeal of the National Irrigation association, for its utterances upon the subject of the repeal of the land laws, and who were considering the advisability of electing him in debate, have reconsidered and are not anxious to meet him.

TO MEASURE A THOUGHT

Delicate Apparatus By Which Psychologists Time Mental Processes at Harvard Laboratory—A Name Recalled More Quickly Than Any Other.

Cambridge, Mass., Jan. 21.—When humanity first began to use the phrase, "quick as thought," as a final way of saying how very quick any given occurrence might be, nobody who used the expression had any idea that it would ever be reduced to an exact fraction of a second. Nowadays, to be perfectly exact one would have to specify just what thought was intended as a standard, for the rapidity of other thoughts can be accurately measured, and some thoughts come much more quickly than others. A man can think of his own name, for example, quite a fraction of a second quicker than of anybody else's—even a sweetheart's.

It takes a man or woman to recognize and name a color, to think a thought, or to read a sentence. The average man will name the word for the color much more quickly than he can recognize the color itself. Although the psychologist does not draw this conclusion, the difference may be one reason why woman is a better shopper. And it has been shown also that even the expert linguist thinks of the words of his native tongue more readily than those of any of his acquired languages; that it takes about the same time to read a word of five or six letters that it does to read a single letter; and that we read, not by understanding one word at a time, but by jumping at the meaning of several words strung together in a group. No matter how well posted a man may be in geography, he will invariably be able to state the location of his own city some thousands of a second more quickly than that of any other city. Without the records of the chronoscope, as the delicate measuring instrument is called, these mental acts would seem to be simultaneous, and the difference is in reality only so many thousandths of a second.

Although the study of these extremely simple mental processes, the psychologist, with his marvelously subdivided and sensitive instruments, is able to measure the time it takes to go on to others much more complex. He can measure the time it takes to add, multiply, divide or subtract, to understand a sentence, to see the details of a picture, or to grasp the meaning of an unfamiliar phrase or sentence.

The mechanism of the chronoscope, as it is used in the Cambridge laboratory, is so delicate that only the electrical current can be used to stop or start it, the current being operated by the action of the subject himself. In releasing a telegraph key upon which his finger rests at the beginning of any given experiment, different instruments are connected with the chronoscope and so arranged that when a sound is uttered, or a light, letter, sentence or color exhibited, a finely subdivided clock is set in motion only to be stopped when the mind of the subject has grasped whatever is put before it and his finger is withdrawn from the telegraph key. In the case of sound the time that elapses between the starting and stopping of the clock is about 125 one-thousandths of a second, and for light about 160 one-thousandths. The chronoscope itself is an interesting example of the infinite detail with which modern science is seeking to penetrate the mysteries of nature, and is the more remarkable since modern experimental psychology dates only from 1878, when Professor Wilhelm Wundt established, at the university of Leipzig, the first laboratory for such investigations, the Harvard laboratory being itself started some ten or a dozen years later.

The rubber juice is not a sap of the rubber tree, but a milk that circulates in the tree, in small streams along the veins.

Therefore, boring a hole to get it out is unavailing. The rubber collector climbs the tree with a keen machete and scores the bark deeply and evenly, so that the latex flows out. The process of tapping is a kind of treatment that appeals northern folk when they see it for the first time, says the Courier-Journal.

When the tree has "bled" to an end, the rubber is poured out into a calabash or other receptacle and coagulated. The process of coagulation is necessary in order to separate the rubber from the milk.

This milk turns sour very quickly in the hot sun and, therefore, the rubber in it would be ruined soon.

In the great rubber forests of Para, in Brazil, the Indian collectors use the most simple form of treatment. They merely put a ball, or lump, of the half-coagulated milk on the flat side of a wooden paddle, and hold it over a fire until the smoke has preserved it thoroughly.

This method discolors the rubber, but it is excellent for the purpose in every other way.

In Central America, the rubber is allowed to coagulate in water. It rises to the top in a thick cream and is then skimmed off.

A pretty method of securing the pure rubber is practiced in one part of Central America. The milk is spread in a thin coating or an immense, thick leaf that is laid flat on the hot bare ground.

Within a few minutes the heat has dried it enough to make it possible to smear a second layer over it. As soon as the second layer has begun to dry well, two leaves, thus covered, are pressed together with their rubber-covered faces. Then the collector treads on them until he has made one single, thin transparent sheet of rubber. The leaves are torn away then and the rubber remains beautifully marked with its veins and texture of the plant.

Working in Minneapolis. Duluth Procurers Alleged To Be Operating There.

Last evening's Minneapolis Journal states that some unknown man is at work in that city, procuring young girls for owners of disreputable resorts in Duluth.

The paper states that Mary Johnson and Mary Larson, two 17-year-old girls, were interviewed at the Minneapolis office of a different Christian society in Minneapolis, and questioned regarding their intention of leaving their homes to work in the city of Duluth.

During their hearing it developed that they were on their way to Duluth to become inmates of a disreputable resort. They were given sentences of 30 days in the work-house and released under suspended sentences during good behavior.

The Minneapolis police claim that several similar instances of the activity of Duluth procurers have come to their notice.

Chief Troyer stated this morning that such characters are discovered working in Duluth, however, they can be easily traced and arrested.

Any judge who tried the case would certainly give them the limit, if they were convicted.

The police state that the girls in question were probably being taken to one of the resorts on the ranges, as the inmates of the disreputable houses on the range are prosecuted for the most part from the southern part of the state and pass through Duluth.

T. T. Hudson Says Bryan Will Control Democratic Convention.

Nominee Must Be Acceptable to That Element—Hearst Gaining.

"The man who can get the nomination of the Democratic party for president must be a man who is acceptable to the Bryan element of the party," said T. T. Hudson, of Duluth, who has just returned from Washington, where he was present at the meeting of the Democratic national committee which selected St. Louis as the place for holding the convention. Mr. Hudson held a proxy from Thomas D. O'Brien, the Missouri member.

"It is interesting to be in Washington, get in touch with the motives that actuate them, and learn the motives that actuate them. One gets new ideas and often learns that the impressions he gains at long distances are entirely wrong."

"Judge Parker will also not be acceptable to the Bryan element in the larger field and learn the motives that actuate them. One gets new ideas and often learns that the impressions he gains at long distances are entirely wrong."

"The shops here are full of the new cars for Duluth," said City Engineer Patton in a letter written from St. Paul, where he is present on certain matters of business connected with the city.

"I inspected the new cars, and they are modern and up-to-date in every particular. The first shipment is expected to be made Jan. 25."

"Mr. Patton's statement refers merely to the bodies of the cars," said General Manager Warren of the street railway system. "The bodies will be shipped here and the cars will be set up in Duluth."

"The work of setting up the new cars will be commenced as soon as the first shipment arrives, and as fast as the cars are completed they will be placed in commission."

"Mr. Patton also stated in the letter that he had interviewed the officials of the Northern Pacific road in connection with the right-of-way for a West Duluth sewer under the railroad right-of-way adjoining the Central avenue station. The railroad officials have expressed their willingness to draw up a form of agreement which will be forwarded to the council for approval in the near future."

"Mr. Patton, while in St. Paul, is also conducting negotiations with the railroad company for the right-of-way for an extension of Michigan street, from Third avenue east to Fifth avenue east. He did not state anything definite in this matter in his letter, and doubtless has nothing definite to make public as yet."

"He is not expected to return to Duluth before the latter part of the week."

Slight Prospect For Duluth In Naval Training School Matter.

Row Between Other Cities May Be To Duluth's Benefit.

There is still a slight prospect of Duluth securing the much-desired naval training school, which is to be erected during the coming summer at one of the lake ports by the United States government.

A bill was introduced in congress during the early part of the session by one of the representatives from Buffalo, which provided for the erection of the school at Buffalo, N. Y.

The word "Chicago" was substituted for the word "Buffalo" by one of the Illinois congressmen.

When this dispute arose between the Buffalo and Chicago representatives, Mayor Hugo believed he saw a slight chance for Duluth, and wrote Congressman Bede and Senator Clapp, asking them to use all their influence in favor of locating the school at Duluth.

A reply was received from Senator Clapp this morning, in which he stated that he and Mr. Bede were keeping a close watch on the fight over the training school, and if they saw any opportunity to have the school located at Duluth, they would use all their influence in that direction.

The bill, according to the statement of Senator Clapp, did not contain any definite action in favor of any particular city has yet been taken.

"So the situation," said Mayor Hugo this morning, "the committee that investigated the facilities offered by the different cities, and recommended any site for the school. They merely made out a list of the different cities, and the committee is now waiting for such an institution, and submitted this list to congress for action. Duluth has a very good chance, but of course all the large lake ports are after the school, and the different representatives of each will make a desperate effort to secure it for their own city."

NEGROES IN DEMAND

The Southern Planters Are Competing For Their Services.

A General Migration One Effect of Thirteen-Cent Cotton.

New Orleans, Jan. 21.—A large internal migration of negroes is reported throughout the Southwest this year, and it will cause some little unsettlement in labor matters. The migration is attributed to the prosperity of the large negro population engaged in the cultivation of cotton.

At no other time since emancipation, not even in the palmiest days of reconstruction, have the negroes of the Southwest had so much money on hand as this season. If the cotton crop yields $200,000,000, the negroes will get $200,000,000. In Mississippi their share of the crop will be $25,000,000 or $40,000,000. In Louisiana their share will be $25,000,000 or $40,000,000. In Arkansas their share will be $25,000,000 or $40,000,000. In Texas their share will be $25,000,000 or $40,000,000. In Oklahoma their share will be $25,000,000 or $40,000,000. In Indian Territory their share will be $25,000,000 or $40,000,000. In the Territory of New Mexico their share will be $25,000,000 or $40,000,000. In the Territory of Arizona their share will be $25,000,000 or $40,000,000. In the Territory of Colorado their share will be $25,000,000 or $40,000,000. In the Territory of Idaho their share will be $25,000,000 or $40,000,000. THE AMANA SOCIETY

May Be Dissolved After Existence of Forty-Five Years.

Wrongful Abuse of Its Corporate Power Is Charged.

Iowa City, Jan. 21.—The Amana society, the only successful community in the United States, may be dissolved on account of an action brought against it for wrongful abuse of corporate power.

Attorney D. H. Wilson is after the society, seeking its dissolution, and, although at first defeated by the action of County Attorney Downing in refusing to proceed against the society for wrongful abuse of corporate power, he has succeeded in obtaining an order of the court compelling him to proceed directly against the society.

The Amana society is organized under the incorporation provisions of the laws of Iowa providing for religious, charitable and benevolent purposes, and not for pecuniary profit.

The funded possessions of the community in Iowa now amount to over $2,000,000. The society has been thriving and has prospered exceedingly. The products of its industries, including woolens, linens, prints and starch, are widely known and sold in all parts of the world. The society has been making money as fast as it can, and its members are well-to-do.

The Amana people eat in common, their clothing is made in common, but they have individual homes for the families. This young people are given a choice between the society for the world, or of leaving the society. They usually take a short visit to the world, as represented by the cities of Cedar Rapids, Iowa City and Des Moines, and then return to the society. All the members of the society are of the same age, and have a life of common life. The society is a community of men, women and children, and is a community of the same age, and have a life of common life.

The society is a community of men, women and children, and is a community of the same age, and have a life of common life.

Mr. Wilson, who is a Marquette attorney, employed by the society, has been successful in bringing the action under the title, "In the matter of the application to direct action against the Amana society for the alleged wrongful exercise of corporate power."

If the court decides in favor of the society, the society will have to be dissolved, and the members will have to leave the society.

Charles W. Harvey Dies as Result of Severe Cold.

Celebrated Gold Wedding In October—Civil War Veteran.

Charles Wesley Harvey, one of Duluth's old citizens and a civil war veteran, died yesterday afternoon at his residence, 2115 Woodland avenue.

The immediate cause of Mr. Harvey's death was a severe cold which he contracted from exposure on a recent trip to a lumber camp on the range. His health, however, was broken down during his service in the civil war, and when that time he has never been in robust physical condition.

Harvey passed his seventy-seventh birthday on December 13. He was born in Perryville, Stone River, and Chickamauga and several minor contests. After the battle of Chickamauga, Mr. Harvey was stationed on picket duty for eight days outside the city of Chattanooga, and from which he never recovered.

He was at this time a lieutenant in his company, and received his commission as captain just as he was compelled to leave the army on account of illness.

Mr. Harvey was married on Oct. 15, 1863, and after the war he and Mrs. Harvey moved to Chickasaw county, Iowa, where they lived until 1891, when they moved to Duluth. Mr. and Mrs. Harvey celebrated the golden anniversary of their wedding last October.

Mrs. Harvey and three children, Mrs. R. Q. Stewart, Mrs. T. W. Hooten and Mr. Harvey, survive him.

Mr. Harvey was a member of the Willis A. Gorman post of the G. A. R. The funeral was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Glen Ave. Presbyterian church, and the body will be shipped to Durand, Ill., for burial.

To Control the Copper Industry of the Whole World.

European Capitalists Arrange to Purchase the Heinze Properties.

Pittsburg, Jan. 21.—The battle that has upset the stock market for the last six months is at an end, apparently. John D. Rockefeller has vanquished all his competitors. This is indicated by a deal closed in London which combines the Rothschild interests in London which combines the Rothschild interests in the Rio Tinto and the Rockefeller copper properties of British Columbia and Montana.

Frank B. Ray, of New York, the electrical engineer, was interviewed here as he passed through on his way from New York to Chicago, and just came from London and is en route to British Columbia to see the details of the consolidation of the Standard Oil company and the Standard Oil company.

There were twelve men in the White case party, and they made for the foot hills of the Cumberland mountains, where they held a secret meeting. The whitecaps came from a place thirty miles away. The woman's sisters held her in esteem. She is a member of the Baptist church, in good standing.

Mr. Ray referred to the fact that the Amalgamated company and the Rothschilds have agreed on a selling price for copper in the United States and Europe. Fluctuations in the price are controlled by the selling agents in London. However, the British interests will control the new company. The capital stock has been decided on at $2,000,000 for the new company. The officers of the company are all New Yorkers.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

BRUTES WHIP WOMAN.

Fight Follows and Posse Is In Pursuit.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 21.—A gang of outlaws in Letcher county took Mrs. Lizzie Mullins, a widow, residing on Elkhorn creek, from her bed and whipped her with hickory sticks until the blood streamed from her back.

They were attacked by a posse of her neighbors and a sharp fight ensued, in which James Mullins, the woman's brother-in-law, and Harvey Moore, her nephew, were wounded mortally. Two of the gang were also wounded.

There were twelve men in the White case party, and they made for the foot hills of the Cumberland mountains, where they held a secret meeting. The whitecaps came from a place thirty miles away. The woman's sisters held her in esteem. She is a member of the Baptist church, in good standing.

Proud Mothers

Proud indeed are those mothers whose happy children laugh and crow in perfect health. Motherhood is woman's chief joy and greatest trial. Prepare for this wonderful event by taking a course of the world's greatest tonic and female regulator. Both before and after baby's coming Dr. Greene's Nervura is invaluable.

Dr. Greene's Nervura

Mrs. Jennie S. Randall, of Bloomington St., Chelsea, Mass., says:

"Four years ago, after the birth of my baby girl, I was left with nervous prostration. I was so weak and miserable I could not walk across my kitchen. I tried a great many remedies and doctored with many doctors, but grew worse all the time."

"One day some kind friend told my husband to get a bottle of Dr. Greene's Nervura. Before I had taken the first bottle, I began to feel better. I could sleep better and that awful, blue, depressed feeling was less. I continued its use until I had taken seven bottles and I was a well woman."

"Nothing tires me now, and I walk in the morning from a most refreshing sleep and with a perfectly rested feeling. Dr. Greene's Nervura is, and the best part of it is you remain cured."

PINK ON THE FINGER NAILS

Showed Good Was Alive—Wife Had Summoned Undertaker.

Marion, Ind., Jan. 21.—John W. Good, a leading business man, was found in an unconscious condition on the floor of his home by his wife, who returned from a visit with friends in Indianapolis. Mrs. Good thought her husband was dead and notified some of the neighbors, who assisted in placing the unconscious man on a bed. An undertaker was called, but before he arrived some one suggested that a doctor be summoned. When the doctor arrived he pronounced him dead, but after a further examination discovered that his finger nails showed a pink color, which indicated life. After working all night the doctor succeeded in restoring Good to consciousness.

The matter is shrouded in mystery. Good declares he has enemies who have been attempting to take his life for some time, and he believes he was poisoned. He said he was so impressed with the idea that he could not enjoy his meals, and did not eat any breakfast Saturday morning. The doctor said Good was suffering with cocaine poisoning, but no bottle or package of any kind could be found about the house. Good denied emphatically that he had attempted to take his own life. The appearance of the house indicated the presence of some one who had been prowling about. There was no indication of robbery, as Good had $33 on his person, and nothing was missing from the house.

STREET CAR RUNS AWAY.
Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 21.—Of the thirty-five passengers aboard a trolley car which ran away in Rankin last night, five were seriously hurt and the others badly bruised and shocked. The car while descending a steep grade got beyond control by reason of icy tracks. After running about thirty yards it jumped a curve and plunged over a twenty-foot embankment, turning completely over and holding in a snow bank just on the brink of a hill.

And many other painful and serious ailments from which most mothers suffer, can be avoided by the use of "Mother's Friend." This great remedy is a God-send to women, carrying them through their most critical ordeal with safety and no pain.

A COPPER BOOM

George L. Walker Says One Is Certain to Come Soon.

Will Cast Into the Shade All Former Advancements.

George L. Walker, the correspondent who devotes his attention to the copper market, in his last letter gives the whole of his discussion, besides that covering the copper market and the copper share market, to discussing the "coming boom in coppers." He is positive that a strong one is coming, and discusses the reasons for his faith. An interesting feature of his argument is that the Warren district in Arizona, with its great prospects, will not affect the price of copper in a bearish way. "The district has the appearance of being another Butte," he says, "and another Butte is more than needed to supply the growing demand for copper. Its output will amount to only a drop in the consumers' bucket."

His discussion of the metal market and copper shares is as follows: "Lake copper is selling at 13 cents and electrolytic at 12½ cents per pound. The market has been very active since the present month came in, there having been heavy buying for both export and home consumption. The export demand has been almost unprecedentedly heavy, and at the moment the only factor in the way of an immediate further advance in prices is the belief that more or less of the recent buying has been of a semi-speculative character, consumers having bought in excess of their needs, expecting an outbreak of hostilities between Japan and Russia, and a resultant heavy increase in the consumption of copper."

"Exports of copper have been very heavy so far this month, and it is estimated that the total exports for January will exceed 20,000 tons. It is not improbable that a new world's copper export will be established, the former high point, 20,000 tons, having been reached in March, 1902. The second largest export record, 16,000 tons, was made during the month of April, 1902."

"It is learned that a considerable portion of the copper sent abroad during the past two or three months has gone to India. For some years that country has been in the throes of a famine. It is more prosperous now, and is taking a step forward in business progress. Most of the copper it is buying is in the form of sheets and yellow metal. Thus is illustrated the fact that when consumption of copper falls off in one country another source of demand always develops. The United States ship copper to almost all parts of the world."

"I learn that two or three large producers of copper have sold their entire production two months ahead on the present advance in prices. This is one of the most encouraging signs of the times. It shows conclusively that the market is in a perfectly healthy condition, that there are no surplus supplies of copper pressing for sale, and that consumers no longer entertain doubts of the future, being satisfied that the metal is now on a normal basis. On the whole, the outlook for the copper industry for this year is most satisfactory."

COPPER SHARES.
"Copper mining stocks have passed another week of extreme dullness; but the character of the buying demand met on each reaction leads close observers to believe that preparations are making for more activity and higher prices. The strength of the copper situation, as reflected in advancing prices for the metal at a time when all other similar conditions are sagging, is attracting the attention of investors to the better class of copper mining stocks. Their buying, though very limited, is rapidly absorbing the limited amount of floating copper stocks, and putting the market in shape for a sharp advance in the event of the development of any especially good news."

"It should be constantly borne in mind by traders and investors that the copper share market is in a radically different position than the railroad and industrial share markets. There have been no new copper shares put on the Boston market, worthy the mention for several years past. No new bonds or loans have been issued by the copper companies that are cutting any figure in the securities markets, or causing worry for banking institutions."

"While railroads and industrial companies have been investing in one another's common stocks at excessively high prices, paying cash for non-dividend yielding paper and issuing interest-bearing bonds to raise money for payment, or putting out dividend paying stocks directly or indirectly in exchange for those unable to show earnings except in boom times, the copper mining companies have been earning larger profits, adding to their cash reserves and installing equipment to enable more economic production."

"There has been no boom in copper stocks such as would distribute them among margin traders, and the supply of floating stocks is exceedingly limited. The copper share market is, in fact, in much better shape for a bull campaign than at any previous time in the past two years; and there is no other group of stocks that offers bull traders so sure an opportunity for making large profits."

the belief that there is a coming boom in copper mining stocks, which will cast into shade all former promotion and speculative movements in these securities. This is not a thought fostered by the wish, but is the only logical deduction from the facts. The copper mining industry is the most important of the world's industries, and the most careful study of the copper situation, including the condition of the mines, the character of the mineral deposit and the time and money required to develop a new mine, the growth of production and consumption of copper over a long period of years; the constant broadening use of copper; the fluctuations in the price of the metal and the reasons underlying such fluctuations; the profits and losses of those who have invested in coppers in the past, and every other possible phase of the industry and the market for securities."

"The boom that is coming will be legitimate in the best sense of the term, because it will be based upon the tremendous growth of the value of Boston's copper mining investments. It will be demanded by natural trade conditions. Stocks will advance in price because of the greatly increased earnings of the companies they represent, and the abnormal profits of existing operating companies will make available an abundance of money for the use of those who are interested in the promotion of a high class of new enterprises."

PRESIDENT LINCOLN

Buried in a Borrowed Shirt, Says Roome.

New York, Jan. 21.—An interesting story connected with the funeral of President Lincoln was related Monday. A man came into the City hall and, approaching the janitor, Marty Keefe, asked if he remembered him. Keefe did not recognize the man, who then explained that he was born in the City hall, and his name was George W.

Rome, his father having been janitor of the building from 1850 to 1872. Mr. Roome said:

"I remember distinctly when President Lincoln's body was brought to the City hall. It was carried at midnight into one of the small rooms on the main floor and prepared for placing in state in the governor's room the next day. Methods of travel were crude in those days, and when the casket was opened it was discovered that the front of Lincoln's white shirt was spotted with dust and rain, which had been swept into the car in which the body was carried, and blown under the lid of the casket."

"Those in charge of the body agreed that it would be impossible to allow the body to be placed on exhibition in the condition in which the burial shirt was found, and there was a haste to get another shirt and collar. My mother, who is yet alive, got one of father's shirts which she had just purchased for him, and at 1 o'clock in the morning father's shirt was placed on Lincoln's body, and he was buried in that shirt. I don't believe that the fact has ever been printed or become generally known, for it was kept a secret. But it is a fact nevertheless, that Lincoln was buried in a shirt which belonged to George Roome, former janitor of this old building."

HEAVY LOSS BY FLAMES

Steel Corporation Loses $3,000,000 In Fire at Shelby, O.

Shelby, Ohio, Jan. 21.—The United States Steel corporation sustained a $3,000,000 loss by fire last night at the plant of the Shelby Steel Tube company. The fire started in one of the smaller rooms from a defective electric wire and spread to the larger stock rooms, completely destroying all of them. The product of the entire plant for the past six months was destroyed within an hour, consisting of 800,000 tons, making in all 2,050,000 feet of finished product, and valued at $3,000,000.

The works officials say that a portion of the ruined product can be worked over, but it will require the entire capacity of the plant and will delay the mills on other orders. The stock consisted mostly of locomotive boiler flues and government works of various kinds. The fire was confined to the stock buildings, which were built at an expense of $100,000. The tubing manufactured by the Shelby plant was used extensively by the government for boiler flues in United States war vessels. The demand of the government alone is sufficient to keep a good-sized plant running continuously, the year round. The United States government has been the good customer of the local plant. The plant was erected in 1890 and made gigantic strides forward until today it covers nearly ten acres of ground.

MIDNIGHT SONG

Of Canary in England Foretold Fatal Accident.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 21.—Breaking out into song, half an hour after midnight, a pet canary, given by Ambrose Good to his sweetheart in England, gave to the parents of Miss Lillian Bennett, who had come to this country to wed the man she loved, a warning of bad news. The sudden outburst of melody from the little bird occurred at just about the time that Good was breathing his last, a victim of the wreck of the Duquesne limited, on the night of Dec. 23. Good was on his way to New York to meet the girl, and they had planned to be married in the Little Church Around the Corner. Miss Bennett, when she stepped from the steamer, was greeted by the news of her lover's death.

The canary was one which Good had sent to her from this country, and when she came over she left the bird with her mother. She has received a letter from her mother, telling of the warning given by the feathered pet of impending ill. The letter also contained clippings from the English papers regarding the wreck and eulogizing the dead man. Miss Bennett decided to remain in this country permanently. She has had numerous offers from theatrical people to go on the stage, but has turned them all down, saying that she prefers to make her living in a quieter manner.
